WHOLE BOOK

O F

PSALMS,

Collected into English Metre, by THOMAS STERNHOLD, JOHN HOPKINS, and others, conferred with the Hebrew:

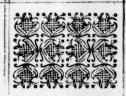

Set forth and allowed to be fung in all Churches, of all the people together, before and after Morning and Evening Prayer, and also before and after Sermons; and moreover in private houses, for their godly solace and comfort, laying apart all ungodly songs and ballads, which tend only to the nourishing of vice, and corrupting of youth.

James 5. 13.

If any be afflicted, let him pray: and if any be merry, let him sing

Colossians 3. 16.

Let the word of God dwell plenteously in you, in all wisdom, teaching and exhorting one another in Psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, singing unto the Lord in your hearts.

I Veni Creator.

Ome holy Ghost, eternal God, proceeding from above, Both from the Father and the Son, the God of peace and love. Visit our minds, and into us thy heavenly grace intpire: That in all truth and godliness, we may have true defire. Thou art the very comforter in all wo and diffress: The heavenly gift of God most high, which no tongue can express: The fountain and the lively fpring of joy celestial: The fire so bright, the love so clear, and unction spiritual. Thou in thy gifts art manifold, whereby Christs church doth stand: In faithful hearts, writing thy law, the finger of Gods hand. According to thy promife made, thou givest speech of grace: That through thy help the praise of God may Itand in every place. Oholy Ghost, into our wits fend down thy heavenly light: Kindle our hearts with fervent love, to ferve God day and night. Strength and stablish all our weakness, so feeble and so frail: That neither flesh, the world, nor devil against us do prevail. Put back our enemies far from us, and grant us to obtain Peace in our hearts with God and man, without grudge or dildain. And grant, O Lord, that thou being our leader and our guide, We may eichew the snares of sin, and from thee never flide. To us fuch plenty of thy grace, good Lord, grant we thee pray, That thou may'st be our comforter, at the last dreadful day. Of all strife and dissension, O Lord, dissolve the bands; And make the knots of peace and love throughout all Christian lands. Grant us, O Lord, through thee to know the Father most of might: That of his dear beloved Son we may attain the fight: And that with perfect faith also we may acknowledge thee,

The Spirit of them both alway, one God in Perfons three.

Laud and praife be to the Father, and to the Son equal,

And to the holy Spirit alfo, one God coeternal.

And pray we that the onely Son youchfafe his Spirit to fend

To all that do protess his name, unto the worlds end. The humble suit of a sinner. M. Lord of whom I do depend, behold my careful heart: And when thy will and pleafure is, release me of my smart. Thou feelt my forrows what they are, my grief is known to thee: And there is none that can remove, or take the same from me; But onely thou whose aid I crave, whole mercy still is prest To ease all those that come to thee for fuccour and for relt. And fith thou feelt my restless eyes, my tears and grievous groan; Attend unto my fuit, O Lord, mark well my plaint and moan. For fin hath fo inclosed me, and compast me about, That I am now remediless, if mercy help not out. For mortal man cannot release, or mitigate this pain: But even thy Christ, my Lord and God, who for my fins was flain. Whose bloudy wounds are yet to see, though not with mortal eye: Yet do thy Saints behold them all, and fo I trust shall I. Though fin doth hinder me a while, when thou shalt see it good I shall enjoy the fight of him, and fee his wounds and bloud. And as thine angels and thy faints do now behold the fame: So truit I to polless that place, with them to praise thy name. But whil'ft I live here in this vale where finners do frequent, Affalt me ever with thy grace, my fins still to lament. Lest that I tread the sinners trace.

and give them my confent

To dwell with them in wickedness, whereto nature is bent. Onely thy grace must be my stay, lest that I fall down flat: And being down, then of my felf cannot recover that.

Wherefore this is yet once again my fuit and my request,
To grant me pardon for my sin,

that I in thee may reft.

Then shall my heart and tongue also be instruments of praise,

And in thy Church and house of Saints fing Psalms to thee always.

Venite exultemus. Pfal. xcv.

Come and let us now rejoyce, And fing unto the Lord, And to our onely Saviour Also with one accord.

O let us come before his face.
With inward reverence,
Confeffing all our former fins,
And that with diligence.

To thank him for his benefits-Always diffributing: Wherefore to him right joyfully In Pfalcas now let us fing

In Pfalms now let us fing.

And that because that God alone

Is Lord magnificent,
And eke above all other gods
A King omnipotent.

His people doth not he forfake At any time or tide: And in his hands are all the coafts Of all the world fo wide.

And with his loving countenance
He looketh every where,
And doth behold the tops of all
The mountains far and near.

The fea and all that is therein.

Are his, for he them made:

And eke his hand hath fashioned.

The earth which doth not fade.

And down before him tall:
And let vs kneel before the Lord,
The which hath made us all.

He is our God, our Lord, and King, And we his people are, His flock and sheep of his pasture, Of whom he taketh care.

This day it'ye will hear his voice, Then harden not your heart, As in the bitter murmuring, When ye were in defert.

Which thing was of their negligence Committed in the time of trouble in the wilderness,
A great and grievous crime.

Whereas your fathers tempted me And try'd me every way: They proved me, and faw my works, What I could do or fay.

These fourty years I have been griev'd With this generation: And evermore I said, they err'd In their imagination:

Wherewith their hearts were fore cumbred Long time and many days:
Wherefore I faid, Assuredly
They have not known my ways.
To whom I in mine anger swore,
That they should not be blest,
Nor see my joy celestial,
Nor enter in my rest.

Gloria Patri.

All laud and praise be to thee, Lord,
O that of might art most,
To God the Father, and the Son,
And to the holy Ghost.
As it in the beginning was
For ever heretofore,
And is now at this present time,
And shall be evermore.

The fong of S. Ambrose, called Te Deum, of X/E praise thee, God, we knowledge thee

And as eternal Father, all the earth doth worship thee.
To thee all Angels cry, the heavens and all the powers therein:
To thee Cherub and Seraphin to cry, they do not lin,

O holy, holy, holy Lord, of Sabaoth Lord the God; Through heaven and earth thy praise is spread, and glory all abroad.

Th' apostles glorious company yield praises unto thee:
The Prophets goodly fellowship praise thee continually.

The noble and victorious hoft of martyrs found thy praise: The holy Church throughout the worlddoth knowledge thee always.

Father of endless Majesty
they do acknowledge thee:
Thy Christ thine honourable, true, and onely Son to be.

The holy Ghoft the comforter; of glory thou art King,
O Chrift, and of the Father art the Son everlatting.
When finfull mans decay in hand thou tookeft to reftore,
To be inclos'd in virgins womb thou diddeft not abhor.

When

our cause to understand.

Lord, help thy servants whom thou hast bought with thy precious bloud,

And in eternal glory fet them with thy Saints fo good. O Lord, do thou thy people fave, blefs thine inheritance:

Lord, govern them, and Lord, do thou, for ever them advance.

We magnifie thee day by day, and world without an end Adore thy holy name: O Lord, vouchfafe us to defend From fin this day: have mercy, Lord, have mercy on us all: And on us, as we truft in thee,

Lord let thy mercy fall.

O Lord, I have reposed all my confidence in thee:

Put to confounding shame therefore

Lord, let me never be.

The Song of the three Children.

The Song of Zacharias, called Benedictus,
He onely Lord of Israel

Be praifed evermore:
For through his vifitation
And mercy kept in flore,
His people now he hath redeem'd,

That long have been in thrall:
And spread abroad his saving health
Upon his servants all.

In Davids house his fervanttrue, According to his mind, And also his anointed King, As we in Scripture find.

As by his holy Prophets all
Oft-times he did declare,
The which were fince the world began,
His ways for to prepare.

That we might be delivered From those that make debate, Our enemies, and from the hands Or all that do us hate.

The mercy which he promifed Our fathers to fulfill,

Ang

And think upon his Covenant made According to his will.

And also to perform the Oath Which he before had sworn To Abraham our father dear, For us that were forlorn:

That he would give himself for us, And us from bondage bring Out of the hands of all our foes, To serve our heavenly King.

And that without all manner fear, And eke in righteoufness: And also for to lead our lives In stedfast holiness.

And thou, O Child, which now art born And of the Lord elect, Shalt be the Prophet of the High'st, His ways for to direct.

For thou shalt go before his face For to prepare his ways, And also for to teach his will And pleasure all thy days.

To give them knowledge how that their Salvation is near:

And that remission of their sins
Is through his mercy mere.

Whereby the day-spring from on high Is come us for to visit,
And those for to illuminate
Which do in darkness sit.
To lighten that the dayed by

To lighten those that shadowed be With death, and eke oppress:
And also for to guide our feet
The way to peace and rest.

The Song of bleffed Mary, called Magnificat.

My foul doth magnifie the Lord,
My fpirit eke evermore
Rejoyceth in the Lord my God,
Which is my Saviour.
And why? because he did regard,

And why? because he did reg And gave respect unto So base estate of his handmaid, And let the mighty go.

For now behold all nations
And generations all,
From this time forth for evermore
Shall me right bleffed call:

Because he hath me magnified, Which is the Lord of might; Whose name be ever sanctified, And praised day and night.

For with his mercy and his grace All men he doth inflame, Throughout all generations To fuch as fear his name.

He shewed strength with his great arm,
And made the proud to start,
With all imaginations
That they bear in their heart.

Magnificat.

He hath pot down the mighty ones
From their supernal seat,
And did exalt the meek in heart,
As he hath thought it meet.

The hungry he replenished
With all things that were good,
And through his power he made the rich
Oft-times to want their food.

And calling to remembrance His mercy every deal, Hath holpen up affiltantly His fervant Ifrael.

According to his promife made To Abraham before,
And to his feed fucceffively,
To fland for evermore.

The Song of Simeon, called Nunc dimittimus.

Lord, because my hearts desire

Hath wished long to see My onely Lord and Saviour,
Thy Son before I die:
The joy and health of all mankind,
Defired long before,
Which now is come into the world,
Of mercy bringing store:
Thou sufferest thy servant now
In peace for to depart,
According to thy holy Word,
Which lighteneth my heart.

Because mine eyes which thou hast made To give my body light, Have now beheld thy faving health, Which is the Lord of might.

Whom thou mercifully hast fet,
Of thine abundant grace,
In open fight and visible
Before all peoples face,
The Gentiles to illuminate,
And Satan overquel,

And Satan overquel,
And eke to be the glory of Thy people Ifrael.

The Symbol or Creed of Athanasius, called Quicunque vult.

Hat man foever he be that falvation will attain,
The Catholick belief he must before all things retain.
Which faith unless he wholly keep,
and undefiledly,
Without all doubt eternally
he shall be sure to die.
The Catholick belief is this,
that God we worship one in Trinity, and Trinity in Unity alone:

So as we neither do confound
the Perfons of the three,
Nor yet the fubflance whole of one in sunder parted be.

One

One Perion of the Father is, another of the Son, Another Person proper of the holy Ghost alone. Of Father, Son, and holy Ghoft, but one the Godhead is: Like glory, coeternal eke the Majesty likewise. Such as the Father is, fuch is the Son in each degree : And fuch alfo we do beleeve the holy Ghost to be. Uncreate is the Father; and uncreate is the Son. The holy Ghoft uncreate, fo uncreate is each one. Incomprehensible Father is. incomprehenfible Son, And comprehensible also is the holy Ghost of none. The Father is eternal, and the Son eternal fo. And in like fort eternal is the holy Ghoft alfo. And yet though we beleeve that each of these eternal be: Yet there but one Eternal is, and not Eternals three. As ne incomprehenfible we, ne yet uncreate three, But one incomprehensible, one uncreate hold to be. Almighty so the Father is, the Son Almighty fo, And in like fort Almighty is the holy Ghost also. And albeit that every one of these Almighty be; Yet there but one Almighty is, and not Almighties three. The Father God is, God the Son, God holy Ghost also: Yet are there not three Gods at all, but one God, and no mo. So likewise Lord the Father is, and Lord also the Son, And Lord the holy Ghost: yet are there not three Lords, but one. For as we are compell'd to grant by Christian verity, Each of the persons by himself both God and Lord to be: So Catholick religion forbiddeth us alway, That either Gods be three, or that there Lords be three, to fay. Of none the Father is, ne made, ne create, nor begot :

The Son is of the Father, not create, ne made, but got:

The holy Cholt is of them both, the Father and the Son; Ne made, ne create, nor begot, but doth proceed alone. So we one Father hold not three. one Son alfo, not three; One holy Ghoff alone, and not three holy Ghosts to be. None in this Trinity before nor after other is: Ne greater any then the relt. ne lesser be likewise. But every one among themselves of all the persons three, Together coeternal all, and all coequal be. So Unity in Trinity, as faid it is before, And Trinity in Unity in all things we adore. Therefore what man foever that salvation will attain, This faith touching the Trinity of force he must retain. And needful to eternal life it is, that every wight Of the incarnating of Chrift our Lord beleeve aright. For this the right faith is, that we beleeve and eke do know, it That Christ our Lord the Son of God is God and man alfo God of his Fathers fubitance got before the world began, And of his Mothers Substance born in world a very man. Both perfect God and perfect Man in one, one Jesus Christ: That doth of reasonable soul and humane flesh subsist. Touching his Godhead, equal with his Father God is he: Touching his Manhood, lower then his Father in degree. Who though he be both very God and very man also, Yet is he but one Christ alone, and is not persons two. One not by turning of Godhead into the flesh of man; But by taking manhood to God, this being one began. All one, not by confounding of the substance into one; But onely by the Unity that is of one Person. For as the reasonable soul and fleth but one man is: So in one Person God and Man is but one Christ likewise.

The Lamentation of a Sinner.

Who fuffered for to fave us all, to hell he did descend:
The third day rose again from death, to heaven he did ascend.
He sits at the right hand of God th' Almighty Father there:
From thence to judge the quick and dead again he shall appear.

At whose return all men shall rise with bodies new restor'd,
And of their own works they shall give account unto the Lord.
And they into eternal life shall go that have done well:
Who have done ill, shall go into eternal fire to dwell.

This is the Catholick belief:
who doth not faithfully
Beleeve the fame, without all doubt he faved cannot be.
To Father, Son, and holy Ghost,
all glory be therefore:
As in beginning was, is now,
and shall be evermore.

The Lamentation of a Sinner.

Lord, turn not away thy face from him that lies profitate, Lamenting fore his finful life
Before thy mercy gate.
Which gate thou openeft wide to those

That do lament their fin:
Shut not that gate against me, Lord,
But let me enter in.

And call me not to mine account How I have lived here: For then I know right well, O Lord, How vile I shall appear.

I need not to confess my life, I am fure thou canst tell: What I have been, and what I am, I know thou know it it well.

O Lord, thou know'st what things be past, And eke the things that be: Thou know'st also what is to come, Nothing is hid from thee.

Before the heavens and earth were made, Thou know'ft what things were then, As all things else that have been fince Among the fons of men.

And can the things that I have done Be hidden from thee then? Nay, nay, thou know'ft them all, O Lord, Where they were done, and when.

Wherefore with tears I come to thee
To beg and to intreat,
Even as the child that hath done ill,
And feareth to be beat;

The Lords Prayer.

So come I to thy mercy gate,
Where mercy doth abound,
Requiring mercy for my fin,
To heal my deadly wound.
O Lord, I need not to repeat
What I do beg or crave:
Thou know'ft, O Lord, before I ask,
The thing that I would have.

Mercy, good Lord, mercy I ask, This is the total fum: For mercy, Lord, is all my fuit, Lord, let thy mercy come.

The Lords Prayer, or Pater noster.

Ur Father which in heaven art,
Lord Hallowed be thy Name:
Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, even as the fame
In heaven is. Give us, O Lord, our daily bread this day.
As we forgive our debters, fo forgive our debts we pray.
Into temptation lead us not,
from evil make us free.
For kingdom, power, and glory thine, both now and ever be.

The X. Commandments.

Audi, Ifrael. Exed. 20.

Eark Israel, and what I say give heed to understand;
I am the Lord thy God that brought thee out of Egypt land, Even from the house wherein thou dids in thrasdom live a slave.
Nose other gods at all before my presence shalt thou have,

No manner graven image shalt thou make at all to thee;
Nor any figure like by thee shall counterfeited be,
Of any thing in heaven above,
nor in the earth below,
Nor in the waters beneath the earth;
to them thou shalt not bow,

Nor shalt them serve: the Lord thy God, a jealous God am I,
That punish parents faults unto the third and fourth degree,
Upon their children that me hate:
and mercy do display
To thousands of such as me love, and my precepts obey.

The Name thou of the Lord thy God in vain shalt never use:

For him that takes his name in vain the Lord will not excuse.

Remen-

Remember that thou holy keep the facred Sabbath-day: Six days thou labour shalt, and do thy needful works alway.

The seventh day is set by the Lord thy God to rest upon;
No work then shalt thou do in it, ne thou, nor yet thy son,
Thy daughter, servant, nor thy maid, thine ox, nor yet thine ass,
Nor stranger that within thy gates hath his abiding-place;

For in fix days God heaven and earth, and all therein did make,
And after those his rest he did upon the seventh day take.
Wherefore he blest the day that he for resting did ordain,
And sacred to himself alone appointed to remain.

Yeeld bonour to thy Parents, that prolong'd thy days may be Upon the land the which the Lord thy God hath given thee.
Thou shalt not murder. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
Thou shalt not feal. Nor witness false against thy neighbour be.

Thou shalt not covet house that to thy neighbour doth belong:

Ne covet shalt in having of his wife to do him wrong.

Nor his man-servant, nor his maid, nor ox, nor as of his,

Nor any other thing that to thy neighbour proper is.

The Complaint of a Sinner.

Here righteousness doth fay,
Lord, for my finful part,
In wrath thou shouldst me pay Vengeance for my desert:
I can it not deny,
But needs I must confess
How that continually,
Thy laws I do transgress,
Thy laws I do transgress.

But if it be thy will With finners to contend, Then all thy flock shall spill, And be lost without end. The Complaint of a Sinner.

For who lives here fo right,
That rightly he can fay,
He fins not in thy fight
Full oft and every day? Full oft, &c.

The Scripture plain tells me,
The righteous man offendeth
Seven times a day to thee,
Whereon thy wrath dependeth:
So that the righteous man
Doth walk in no fuch path,
But he falls now and then
In danger of thy wrath, In danger, &c.

Then fith the case so stands,
That even the man right wise
Falls oft in sinsul bands,
Whereby thy wrath may rise;
Lord, I that am unjust,
And righteousness none have,
Whereto then shall I trust
My sinsul soul to save? My sinsul, &c.
But truly to that post
Whereto I cleave and shall,
Which is thy mercy most?
Lord, let thy mercy fall,
And mitigate thy mood,

Or else we perish all, The price of this thy bloud,

Wherein mercy I call, Wherein, &cc.

The Scripture doth declare
No drop of bloud in thee,
But that thou didft not spare
To shed each drop for me.
Now let those drops most sweet
So moss my heart so dry,
That I with sin replete,
May live, and sin may die, May live, &cc.

That being mortified
This fin of mine in me,
I may be fanctified
By grace of thine in thee:
So that I never fall
Into fuch mortal fin,
That my foes infernal
Rejoyce my death therein, Rejoyce my, &c.

But vouchfafe me to keep
From those infernal soes,
And from that lake so deep,
Whereas no mercy grows.
And I shall sing the songs
Confirmed with the just,
That unto thee belongs,
Which art mine onely trust, Which art, &c.

The PSALMS of, DAVID in Metre.

Beatus vir. Psal. i. T. S.

This Psalm is set first as a preface, to exhort all godly mento study and meditate the heavenly wisdom: for they be blessed that so do: but the wicked contemners thereof at length shall come to misery.

He man is bleft that hath not bent to wicked read his ear:
Nor led his life as finners do, nor fat in fcorners chair.

But in the law of God the Lord doth fet his whole delight:
And in that law doth exercise himself both day and night.

3 He shall be like the tree that grows fast by the rivers side:

Which bringeth forth most pleasant fruit in her due time and tide. Whose leaf shall never tade nor fall, but flourish still and stand:

Even so all things shall prosper well, that this man takes in band.

4 So shall not the ungodly men, they shall be nothing so: But as the dust which from the earth

But as the dult which from the earth the wind drives to and fro.

5 Therefore shall not the wicked men in judgement stand upright: Nor yet the sinners with the just shall come in place or sight.

6 For why? the way of godly men unto the Lord is known:

And eke the way of wicked men shall quite be overthrown.

Quare fremuerunt. Pfal. ij. T. S.

David rejoyceth, that albeit enemies and worldly power rage, God will advance his kingdom, even to the farthest end of the world: therefore he exhortesh Princes, humbly to submit themselves under the same.

Herein is signified Christ and his kingdom.

Why did the Gentles tumults raife?
what rage was in their brain?
Why did the Jewish people muse, seeing all is but vain?

2 The kings and rulers of the earth conspire and are all bent Against the Lord and Christ his Son, which he amongst us fent.

3 Shall we be bound to them? 'fay they;

let all their bonds be broke:

And of their doctrine and their law
let us reject the yoke.

4 But he that in the heaven dwells, their doings will deride: And make them all as mocking-stocks throughout the world so wide. 5 For in his wrath the Lord will fay to them upon a day: And in his tury trouble them, and then the Lord will fay, 6 I have anointed him my King upon my holy hill:

I will therefore, Lord, preach thy law, and eke declare thy will.

7 For in this wife the Lord himfelf did fay to me I wot.

did (ay to me I wot, Thou art my dear and onely Son, to day I thee begot.

8 All people I will give to thee,

as heirs at thy request:
The ends and coasts of all the earth
by thee shall be possest.

9 Thou shalt them bruise even with a mace, as men under foot trod:

And as the potters fherds, shalt break them with an iron rod.

10 Now ye, O kings and rulers all, be wife therefore and learn'd, By whom the matters of the world be judged and difcern'd.

11 See that ye ferve the Lord above in trembling and in fear:

See that with reverence ye rejayce to him in like manner.

12 See that ye kifs and eke embrace his bleffed Son, I fay,

Lest in his wrath ye suddenly perish in the mid-way. 13 If once his wrath never so small fhall kindle in his breaft:

O then all they that truft in Christ shall happy be and blest.

Domine, quid. Psal. iij. T. S.

David driven out of his hingdom by his son Absalom, was greatly tormented in mind for his sin. Therefore be calleth upon God, and is hold in his promises against the terrour both of enemies and present death. Then he rejoyceth for the ruttory given to him and the Church, over their enemies.

Lord, how are my foes increast, which vex me more and more!
They kill my heart when as they fay,
God can him not restore.

2 But thou, O Lord, art my defence, when I am hard bestead:

My worlhip and mine honour both, and thou hold'ft up my head.
Then with my voice upon the Lord

I did both call and cry:

And he out of his holy hill did hear me by and by.

5 I laid

5 I laid me down, and quietly I flept, and rose again: For why? I know assuredly the Lord will me sustain. 6 If ten thousand had hemm'd me in, 1 could not be afraid: For thou art still my Lord and God, my Saviour and mine aid. Rife up therefore, fave me, my God, for now to thee I call: 7 For thou half broke the cheeks and teeth of these wicked men all 8 Salvation onely doth belong to thee, O Lord above: Thou dost bestow upon thy folk thy bleffing and thy love. Cum invocarem. Pfal. iv. T. S. David persecuted by Saul, calleth upon God with affured trust, reproveth bis enemies for resisting his do minion, and preferreth the favour of Godbefore all treasure. God that art my righteousness, Lord hear me when I call: Thou halt fet me at liberty, when I was bound and thrall. 2 Have mercy, Lord, therefore on me, my gory thus despise? Why wander ye in vanity, and follow after lies? 4 Know ye that good and godly men the Lord doth take and chuse :

3 O mortal men, how long will ye and grant me my request:

For unto thee uncessantly to cry I will not rest.

And when to him I make my plaint, he doth me not refuse. 5 Sin not but fland in aw therefore, examine well your heart: And in your chamber quietly fee you your felves convert. 6 Offer to God the facrifice of righteousness, I say: And look that in the living Lord you put your trust alway.

The greater fort crave worldly goods, and riches do embrace :

But, Lord, grant us thy countenance, thy favour and thy grace.

For thou thereby thalt make my heart more joyful and more glad, Then they that of their corn and wine full great increase have had. 9 In peace therefore lie down will I, taking my rest and sleep: For thou onely wilt me, O Lord, alone in fafety keep.

Verba mea auribus. Psat. v. T. S. David persecuted by Doeg and Achitophel, Sauls flatterers, call th upon God to punish their muice. But Lord, how long wit thou delay Then assured of success, be conceiveth comfort.

Ncline thine cars unto my words, O Lord, my plaint confider :

2 And hear my voice, my King, my God, to thee I make my prayer.

3 Hear me betime, Lord, tarry not, for I will have respect,

My prayer early in the morn to thee for to direct.

4 And I will trust through patience in thee my God alone:

Thouart not pleas'd with wickedness. and ill with thee dwells none.

5 And in thy fight thall never stand these furious tools, O Lord:

Vain workers of iniquity thou hast always abhorr'd. The liars and the flatterers, thou shalt destroy them than: And God will hate the bloud-thirffy, and the deceitful man. Therefore will I come to thine house, trusting upon thy grace : And reverently will worthip thee toward thine holy place.

& Lord, lead me in thy righteousness, for to con ound my foes:

And eke the way that I shall walk before my face disclose.

For in their mouthes there is no truth, their heart is foul and vain:

Their throat an open fepulchre, their tongues do glose and fain. 10 Destroy their faile conspiracies, that they may come to nought: Subvert them in their heaps of fin, which have rebellion wrought.

11 But those that put their trust in thee, let them be glad always,

And render thanks for thy defence, and give thy name the praise. 12 For thou with favour wilt increase the just and righteous still:

And with thy grace, as with a shield, defend him from all ill.

Domine, ne in furore. Pfal. vj. T. S. David for his fins felt Gods hand, and conceived the borrour of everlasting death. Therefore be defireth forgiveness, and not to die in Gods indignation. Then fuddenly feeling Gods merey, he rebuteth ins enemies, who rejoyced at his affliction.

Ord, in thy wrath reprove me not, though I deferve thine ire: Ne yet correct me in thy rage,

O Lord, I thee defire 2 For I am weak, therefore, O Lord, of mercy me forbear: And heal me, Lord; for why? thou know fi my bones do quake for fear.

3 My foul is troubled very fore, and vexed vehemently:

to cure my misery?

4 Lord,

and eke my life down thrust

6 Start up, O Lord, now in thy wrath,

Then shall great nations come to thee,

Perform the kingdom promised

Unto the earth, and also lay mine honour in the dust.

and put my foes to pain :

to me which wrong fustain.

and know thee by this thing, thou wilt confound thy foes:

thy graces they disclose.

in order as they fland:

For in those babes thy might is seen,

3 And when I fee the heavens high,

the works of thine own hand;

that thou dost him remember?

The Sun, the Moon, and all the Stars,

4 What thing is man, Lord, think I then,

5 For thou hast made him little less then Angels in degree:

And thou haft crowned him also with glorie and dignitie.

6 Thou halt prefer'd him to be lord of all thy works of wonder: And at his feet halt fet all things, that he should keep them under.

7 As sheep, and neat, and all beasts else, that in the fields do feed:

8 Fowls of the air, fish in the sea, and all that therein breed.

o Therefore must I say once again, o God that art our Lord,

How famous and how wonderful are thy works through the world!

Confitebor tibi, Domine. Pfal. 9. T.S.

Ith heart and mouth unto the Lord will I fing laud and praise:

And speak of all thy wondrous works, and them declare always.

2 I will be glad and much rejoyce in the always.

in thee, O God most high:

And make my songs extol thy Name above the starry skie.

3 For that my foes are driven back and turned unto flight: They fall down flut, and are deftroy'd by thy great power and might.

Thou hast revenged all my wrong, my grief and all my grudge: Thou dost with justice hear my cause, most like a righteous Judge.

5 Thou dost rebuke the heathen folk, and wicked so confound,
That afterward the memory of them cannot be found.
6 My foes thou hast made good dispatch, and all their towns deftroy'd:
Thou hast their fame with them defac'd, through all the world so wide.

7 Know thou that he which is above for evermore shall reign,
And in the feat of equity true judgment will maintain.
8 With justice he will keep and guide the world and every wight:
And so will yield with equity

He is protection of the poor what time they be opprest:
 He is in all advertity heir refuge and their reft, to every man his right.

10 And they that know thy holy name, therefore shall trust in thee: For thou for sakest not their suit in their necessity.

The fecond part.

that dwells on Sion hill:
Publish among all nations his noble acts and will.

12 For he is mindful of the bloud of those that he oppress:
Forgetting not th' afflicted heart that seeks to him for rest.

whose enemies still remain,
Which from the gates of death are wont to raise me up again.

to raile me up again.

14 In Sion that I might fet forth thy praife with heart and voice,
And that in thy falvation, Lord, my foul might fill rejoyce.

15. The heathen flick fast in the pit that they themselves prepar'd, And in the net that they did set their own seet tast are snar'd.

16 God shews his judgments, which were good for every man to mark, When as you see the wicked man

When as you fee the wicked man lie trapt in his own wark.

17 The wicked and deceitful mengo down to hell for ever,
And all the people of the world,
that will not God remember.
18 But fure the Lord will not forget the poor mans grief and pain:
The patient people never look for help of God in vain.

19 O Lord arife, left men prevail, that be of worldly might:
And let the heathen tolk receive their judgment in thy fight.
20 Lord, ftrike fuch terrour, fear, and dread, into the hearts of them.
That they may know affiredly they be but mortal men.

Vt quid, Domine. Pfal. x. T.S.

Hat is the cause that thou, O Lord, art now to far from thine.

And keepest close thy counternance from us this troublous time?

The poor-dopperish by the proud, and wicked mens defire:

Let them be taken in the crast that they themselves conspire.

3 For

3 For in the luft of his own heart th' ungodly doth delight:

So doth the wicked praile himfelf, and doth the Lord despight.

4 He is so proud, that right and wrong he setteth all apart:

Nay, nay, there is no God, faith he, for thus he thinks in heart.

5 Because his ways do prosper still, he doth thy laws neglect, And with a blast doth puss against fuch as would him correct.

Tufh, tufh, faith he, I have no dread, left mine effate should change:

And why? for all adversity to him is very strange.

7 His mouth is full of curfedness, of fraud, deceit, and guile:
Under his tongue doth mischief sit, and travel all the while.

8 He lieth hid in ways and holes to flay the innocent:

Against the poor that pass him by his cruel eyes are bent.

9 And like a lion privily lies lurking in his den, If he may fnare them in his net, to spoil poor simple men.

to And for the nonce tull craftily he croucheth down, I say:

11 Soare great heaps of poor men made by his strong power his prey.

The second part.

12 Tulh, God forgetteth this, faith he, therefore I may be bold:
His countenance is caft aside, he doth it not behold.

13 Arife, O Lord, O God, in whom the poor mans hope doth reft: Lir up thy hand, forget not, Lord, the poor that be oppress.

14 What blashhemy is this to thee, Lord, dost thou not abhor it, To hear the wicked in their heart fay, Tush, thou can'ft not for it?

fay, Tulh, thou car'ft not for it?

15 But thou feeft all their wickedness, and well dost understand

16 That friendless and poor fatherless are left into thy hand.

17 Of wicked and malicious men then break the power for ever, That they with their iniquity may perilh altogether. 18 The Lord shall reign for evermore as King and God alone, and he will chafe the heathen follow out of the land each one. 19 Thou hear It, O Lord, the poor mens plaint their prayers and request:

Their hearts thou wist confirm, until thine ears to hear be prest:
20 To judge the poor and fatherless, and help them to their right;
That they may be no more opprest by men of worldly might.

In Domino confido. Pfal. Is. T.S.

Trust in God, how dare ye then fay thus my foul untill,
Fly hence as fast as any fowl, and hide you in your hill?

Behold the wicked bend their bows, and make their arrows prest
To shoot in secret, and to hurt the found and harmless breast.

3 Of worldly hope all stays were shrunk, and clearly brought to nought:

Alas, the just and righteous man, what evil hath he wrought? 4 But he that in his temple is most holy and most high, And in the heavest heab his foot

And in the heavens hath his feat of royal majesty.

The poor and simple mans estate considereth in his mind,
And searcheth out full narrowly the manners of mankind;
And with a cheerful countenance the righteous man will use;
But in his heart he doth abhor all such as mischief muse;

6 And on the finners caffeth foares, as thick as any rain, Fire and brimftone, and whirlwinds thick, appointed for their pain. 7 Ye fee then how a righteous God doth righteousness embrace, And to the just and upright men shews forth his pleasant face.

Salvamme fac. Pfal. 12. T. S.

Help, Lord, for good and godly men do perilh and decay: And faith and truth from worldly men is parted clean away.

2 Whoso doth with his neighbour talk, his talk is all but vain: For every man bethinketh how

For every man bethinketh how to flatter, lie, and feign.

3 But flattering and deceitful lips, and tongues that be fo flout
To fpeak proud words and make great brags,
The Lord foon cuts them out.

4 For

4 For they say still, We will prevail, our tongues shall us extol:

Our tongues are ours, we ought to speak; what Lord shall us control?

5 But for the great complaint and cry of poor and men opprest, Arise will 1, now faith the Lord, and them reftore to reft.

6 Gods word is like to filver pure, that from the earth is tri'd,

And hath no less then seven times in fire been purifi'd.

7 Now fith thy promife is to help, Lord, keep thy promife then: And fave us now and evermore from this ill kind of men.

8 For now the wicked world is full of mischiefs manifold, When vanity with worldly men fo highly is extoll'd.

Vfquequo, Domine. Pfal. 13. T.S.

How long wilt thou forget me, Lord, fhall 1 ne're be remembred? How long wilt thou thy vifage hide, as though thou wert offended?

2 In heart and mind how long fhall I with care tormented be?
How long eke shall my deadly foes thus triumph over me?

Behold me now, my Lord my God, and hear me fore oppress, Lighten mine eyes, left that I sleep as one by death possest:

4 Lest that mine enemy fay to me, behold, I do prevail: Lest they also that hate my soul, rejoyce to see me quail.

5 But from thy mercy and goodness my hope shall never start: In thy relief and faving health right glad shall be my heart.

6 I will give thanks unto the Lord, and praises to him sing:

Records be bath heard my request.

Because he hath heard my request, and granted my wishing.

Dixit infepiens. Pfal. 14. T. S.

Their drifts are all corrupt and vain, not one of them doth good.

2 The Lord beheld from heaven high the whole race of mankind; And faw not one that fought indeed the living God to find.

3 They went all wide and were corrupt, and truly there was none

That in the world did any good, I fay, there was not one.

4 Is all their judgment fo far loft, that all work mischief still, Eating my people even as bread, not one to seek Gods will?

5 When they thus rage, then fuddenly great fear on them shall fall: For God doth love the righteous men, and will maintain them all.

6 Ye mock the doings of the poor,

Because they put their trust in God, and call upon his name.

7 But who shall give thy people health, and when wilt thou fulfill

Thy promise made to Israel from out of Sion hill?

8 Even when thou shall restore again such as were captive led.
Then Jacob shall therein rejoyce, and Israel shall be glad.

Domine, quis. Pfal. 15. T. S.

C Lord, within thy tabernacle who shall inhabit still?
Or whom wilt thou receive to dwell in thy most holy hill?

2 The man whose life is uncorrupt, whose works are just and streight: Whose heart dorn think the very truth, whose tongue speaks no deceit.

3 Nor to his neighbour doth none ill in body, goods, or name, Nor willingly doth move false tales, which might empair the same.

4 That in his heart regardeth not malicious wicked men.

malicious wicked men:
But those that love and fear the Lord
he maketh much of them.

5 His oath and all his promifes that keepeth faithfully, Although he make his covenant fo that he doth lose thereby.

6 That putteth not to usury his money and his coyn, Ne for to butt the innocent doth bribe or else purloyn.

7 Whoso doth all things as you see that here is to be done, Shall never perish in this world, nor in the world to come.

Conferva me. Pfal. 16. T. S.

3 %

Thou art my God, and of my goods,
O Lord, thou hast no need.

- 2 I give my goods unto the faints that in the world do dwell, And namely to the faithfull flock in vertue that excell.
- They shall heap forrows on their heads, which run as they were mad,

To offer to the idol-gods: alas, it is too bad.

- 4 As for their bloody facrifice and offerings of that fort, I will not touch, nor yet thereof my lips shall make report.
- 5 For why? the Lord the portion is of mine inheritance:

And thou art he that dost maintain my rent, my lot, my chance.

6 The place wherein my lot didfall, in beauty did excell:

Mine heritage affign'd to me doth please me wondrous well.

7 I thank the Lord that cansed me to understand the right:

For by his means my fecret thoughts do teach me every night.

8 I fet the Lord still in my fight, and trust him over all:

For he doth stand on my right hand, Therefore I shall not fall.

9 Wherefore my heart and tongue also do both rejoyce together:

My flesh and body rest in hope,

when I this thing consider.

To Thou wilt not leave my foul in grave, for, Lord, thou lovest me: Nor yet wilt give thy holy One Corruption for to fee.

II But wilt me teach the way to life; for all treasure and store Of perfect joy are in thy face, and power for evermore.

Exaudi, Domine. Pfal. 17. T.S.

Lord, give ear to my just cause, attend when I complain: And hear the prayer that I put forth with lips that do not fain. 2 And let the judgment of my cause proceed always from thee:

And let thine eyes behold and clear this my simplicity.

3 Thou hast well tried me in the night, and yet couldst nothing find

That I have spoken with my tongue that was not in my mind.

4 As for the works of wicked men, and paths perverse and ill, For love of thy most holy Name, I have refrained still.

Then in thy paths that be most pure flay me, Lord, and preferve: That from the way wherein I walk my steps may never swerve:

For I do call to thee, O Lord, furely thoù wilt me aid :

Then hear my prayer, and weigh right well the words that I have faid.

O thou the Saviour of all them that put their trust in thee, Declare thy strength on them that fourn against thy Majesty.

- 8 O keep me as thou wouldest keep the apple of thine eye:

And under covert of thy wings defend me secretly.

The second part.

From wicked men that trouble me and daily me annoy,

And from my foes that go about my foul for to destroy:

10 Which wallow in their worldly wealth. fo full and eke fo fat, That in their pride they do not spare to speak they care not what.

It They lie in wait where I should pass, with craft me to confound:

And musing mischief in their minds, to cast me to the ground.

12 Much like a lion greedily, that would his prey embrace: Or lurking like a lions whelp within some secret place.

13 Up Lord in haste, prevent my foe, and cast him at thy feet:

Save thou my foul from the ill man, and with the fword him fmite.

14 Deliver me, Lord, by thy power out of these tyrants hands: Which now fo long time reigned have, and kept us in their bands.

15 I mean from worldly men to whom all worldly goods are rife, That have no hope nor part of joy but in this present life. 16 Thou of thy store their bellies fill'st with pleasure to their mind: Their children have enough, and leave to theirs the rest behind.

17 But I shall with pure conscience behold thy gracious face: So when I wake I shall be full of thine image and grace.

Diligam te, Dom. Pfal. 18. T. S.

God my strength and fortitude, of force I must love thee.

Thou

Thou art my caltle and defence in my necessity. 2 My God, my rock in whom I trust, the worker of my wealth:

My refuge, buckler, and my shield,

the horn of all my health.

When I fing laud unto the Lord most worthy to be served,

Then from my foes I am right fure that I shall be preserved.

4 The pangs of death did compass me, and bound me every where: The flowing waves of wickedness did put me in great fear.

5 The slie and subtil snares of hell were round about me set:

And for my death there was prepar'd a deadly trapping net.

6 I thus befet with pain and grief,
did pray to God for grace:

And he forthwith did hear my plaint out of his holy place.

Such is his power that in his wrath

he made the earth to quake, Yea, the foundation of the mount of Basan for to shake.

And from his nostrils came a smoke, when kindled was his ire: And from his mouth came kindled coals of hot confuming fire.

The Lord descended from above, and bowed the heavens high;
And underneath his feet he cast the darkness of the skie.
To On cherubs and on cherubins full royally he rode:

And on the wings of all the winds came flying all abroad.

The fecond part.

rr And like a den most dark he made his hid and secret place: With waters black and airy clouds environed he was.

12 But when the presence of his face in brightness shall appear:
Then clouds consume, and in their stead come hail and coals of fire.

The fiery darts and thunderbolts differs them here and there.

disperse them here and there: And with his often lightenings he puts them in great fear.

4 Lord, at thy wrath and threatenings, and at thy chiding chear, he fprings and the foundations of all the word appear.

5 And from above the Lord fent down to fetch me from below, and pluckt me out of waters great, that would me overflow.

6 And me delivered from my foes that would have made me thrall:

Yea, from such foes as were too strong for me to deal withall.

17 They did prevent me to oppress in time of my great grief: But yet the Lord was my defence, my fuccour and relief.

18 He brought me forth in open place,
whereas I might be free,

And kept me safe, because he had a favour unto me.

And as I was an innocent, fo did he me regard,

And to the cleanness of my hands he gave me my reward:

20 For that I walked in his ways, and in his paths have trod, And have not wavered wickedly

And have not wavered wickedly against my Lord and God.

The third part.

21 But evermore I have respect to his law and decree:

His statutes and commandements
I cast not out from me.

22 But pure and clean, and uncorrupt appear'd before his face,

And did refrain from wickedness and fin in any case.

The Lord therefore will me reward as I have done aright:

And to the cleanness of my hands, appearing in his sight.

4 For, Lord, with him that holy is wilt thou be holy too, and with the good and vertuous men right vertuously wilt do.

5 And to the loving and elect thy love thou wilt referve:

And thou wilt use the wicked men as wicked men deserve.

6 For thou dost fave the simple folk in trouble when they lie, and dost bring down the countenance of them that look full high.

7 The Lord will light my candle fo that it shall shine full bright: The Lord my God will make also my darkness to be light.

8 For by thy help an host of men discomfit, Lord, I shall:

by thee I scale and overleap the strength of any wall.

Disposed are the ways of God, his word is purely tri'd:

He is a fore detence to fuch as in his faith abide.

o For who is God except the Lord?

for other there is none:

Or elfe who is omnipotent, faving our God alone?

The fourth part.

The God that girdeth me with strength, is he that I do mean,

That all the ways wherein I walk did evermore keep clean:

32 That made my feet like to the harts in swittness of my pace,

And for my furety brought me forth into an open place.

33 He did in order put my hands to battel and to fight:

To break in funder bars of brafs be gave mine arms the might.

34 Thou teachest me thy faving health, thy right hand is my tower:

Thy love and familiarity doth ftill increase my power.

35 And under me thou makest plain the way where I should wa k,

Souther my feet shall never slip.

So that my feet shall never slip, nor stumble at a balk.

36 And fiercely I purfue and take my foes that me annoy'd: And from the field do not return till they be all deltroy'd.

37 So I suppress and wound my foes, that they can rife no more:

For at my feet they fall down flat,
I ftrike them all to fore.

38 For thou dost gird me with thy strength to war in fuch a wife,

That they be all featt'red abroad that up against me rife.

39 Lord, thou halt put into my hands my mortal enemies yoke:

And all my foes thou dost divide in funder with thy stroke.

40 They call'd for help, but none gave ear, yea, to the Lord they call'd for help, yet heard he not their grief.

The fifth part.

41 And fill like dust before the wind I drive them under feet, And sweep them out like filthy clay that sticketh in the street.

42 Thou keep'st me from seditions folk, that fill in ftrife are led:

And thou doft of the heathen folk appoint me to be head.

43 A people strange to me unknown, and yet they shall me serve:

And at the first obey my word, whereas mine own will swerve. 44 I shall be irksom to mine own, they will not fee my light:

But wander wide out of the way, and hide them out of fight.

45 But bleffed be the living Lord, most worthy of all praise, That is my rock and saving health, praifed be he always.

46 For God it is that gave me power, revenged for to be,

And with his holy word hibdu'd the people unto me.

47 And from my foe delivered me, and fet me higher then those That cruel and ungodly were,

and up against me rose.

48 And for this cause, O Lord my God, to thee give thanks I shall,

And fing out praises to thy Name among the Gentiles all.

49 That gavest great prosperity unto the king, 1 say, To David thine anounted king, and to his feed for ay.

Cali enarrant. Pfal. xix. T. S.

He moveth the faithful to glorifie God by the workmunship, proportion, and ornaments of the heavens, and by the law wherein God is revealed familiarly to his chosen people.

The heavens and the firmament do wondroufly declare The glory of God omnipotent, his works and what they are.

2 The wondrous works of God appear by every days fucces:

The nights likewife which their race run, the felf fame thing express.

3 There is no language, tongue, or speech, where their found is not heard,

In all the earth and coafts thereof their knowledge is conferr'd.

4 In them the Lord made for the fun a place of great renown,

Who like a bridegroom ready trimm'd doth from his chamber come.

5 And as a valiant champion, who for to get a prize,

With joy doth halte to take in hand fome noble enterprife.

6 And all the sky from end to end he compasseth about:

Nothing can hide it from his heat, but he will find it out.

7 How perfect is the law of God, how is his covenant fure, Converting fouls, and making wife the simple and obscure.

8 Just are the Lords commandements, and glad both heart and mind: His precept's pure, and giveth light of eyes that be full blind.

The fear of God is excellent,
and doth endure for ever:

The judgements of the Lord are true and righteous altogether;

10 And more to be embrac'd alway then fined gold, I fay:

The honey and the honey-comb are not fo fweet as they.

11 By them thy fervant is forewarn'd to have God in regard,

And

Pfalm XXI, XXII.

And in performance of the same there shall be great reward.

12 But Lord, what earthly man doth know the errours of his life?

Then cleanse me from my secret sins, which are in me most rife.

13 And keep me that presumptuous sins prevail not over me:

And fo shall I be innocent, and great offences flee.

14 Accept my mouth and eke my heart, my words and thoughts each one: For my Redeemer and my strength, O Lord, thou art alone.

Exaudiat te Dominus. Pfal. xx. T.S. The people pray to God to hear their king, and receive his facrifice which he offered before he went to battel against the Ammonites; declaring that the heathen put their trust in horses, but they trust onely in his 6 Name : wherefore the other shall fall, but the king and his people shall stand.

IN trouble and advertity the Lord God hear thee still, The majesty of Jacobs God defend thee from all ill; 2 And fend thee from his holy place his help at every need, And fo in Sion stablish thee and make thee strong indeed. Remembring well the facrifice that now to him is done And so receive right thankfully thy burnt off'rings each one.

4 According to thy hearts defire the Lord grant unto thee, And all thy counfel and device full well perform may he.

5 We shall rejoyce when thou us fav'st, and our banners display

Unto the Lord, which thy requests fulfilled hath alway.

The Lord will his anointed fave, I know well by his grace.

And fend him help by his right hand out of his holy place.

7 In chariots fome put confidence, and some in horses truit:

But we remember God our Lord, that keepeth promise just.

They fall down flat, but we do rife, and stand up stedfastly.

9 Now fave and help us, Lord and King, on thee when we do cry.

Domine, in virtute. Pfal. xxj. T.S. David in the person of the people praiseth God for the victory given them against the Syrians and Ammo- And helpest not when I do make, nites, 2 Sam. 10. wherein he was crowned with the crown of the king of Ammon, 2 Sam. 12. and 2 To thee my God even all day long endued with the manifold blessings of God.

Lord, how joyful is the king in thy strength and thy power! How vehemently doth he rejoyce in thee his Saviour!

2 For thou hast given unto him his godly hearts defire :

To him nothing thou hast deni'd of that he did require.

3 Thou didlt prevent him with thy gifts and bleffings manifold,

And thou haft fet upon his head a crown of perfect gold.

4 And when he asked life of thee, thereof thou mad'it him fure,

To have long life, yea fuch a life as ever shall endure.

Great is his glory by thy help, thy benefit and aid:

Great worship and great honour both thou hast upon him laid.

Thou wilt give him felicity that never shall decay,

And with thy cheerful countenance wilt comfort him alway.

7 For why? the king doth strongly trust in God for to prevail:

Wherefore his goodness and his grace will not that he shall quail.

8 But let thine enemies feel thy force, and those that thee withstand Find out thy foes, and let them teel the power of thy right hand. And like an oven burn them, Lord, in fiery flame and fume : Thine anger shall destroy them all, and fire shall them consume.

10 And thou shalt root out of the earth their fruit that should increase: And from the number of thy tolk their feed shall end and cease. 11 For why? much mischief did they muse against thy boly Name:

Yet did they fail, and had no power for to perform the fame.

12 But as a mark thou shalt them fet in a most open place,

And charge thy bowe-firings readily against thine enemies face.

13 Be thou exalted, Lord, therefore in thy strength every hour: So thall we fing right folemnly,

And when they put their trust in thee, thou didst them ay deliver.

5 They were delivered ever when they called on thy Name:

And for the faith they had in thee they were not put to fhame.

6. But Lam now become a worm.

6 But I am now become a wormmore like then any man:

An out-cast whom the people scorn with all the spight they can.

All men despise as they behold me walking on the way:

They grin, they mow, they nod their heads, and on this wife they fay,

8 This man did glory in the Lord, his favour and his love, Let himredeem and help him now, his power if he will prove.

9 But Lord, out of my mothers womb I came by thy request:

I came by thy request:
Thou didst preserve me still in hope,

in Basan field been sed.

They gape upon me greedily,
as though they would me slay:

Much like a lion roaring out, and ramping for his prey.

14 But I drop down like water shed, my joynts in funder break, My heart doth in my body melt like wax against the hear.

15 And like a potsherd drieth my strength, my tongue it cleaveth tast

Unto my jaws, and I am brought to dust of death at last.

15 And many dogs do compass me, and wicked counsel eke

Conspire against me cursedly; they pierce my hands and feet.

17 I was tormented, so that I might all my bones have told:
Yet fill upon me they do look, and still they me behold.

18 My garments they divided eke in parts among them all: And for my coat they did cast lots to whom it might befall.

Therefore, I pray thee, be not far from me at my great need:

But rather, fith thou art my ffrength, to help me, Lord, make speed.

by thy might and the power:

And keep my foul thy darling dear, from dogs that would devour.

21 And from the lions mouth, that would me all in funder shiver,

And from the horns of Unicorns, Lord, fafely me deliver.

22 Then shall I to my brethren all thy majesty record:

And in thy Church shall praise the Name of thee the living Lord.

The third part.

23 All ye that fear him praise the Lord, thou Jacob honour him:

And all ye feed of Ifrael with reverence worship him.
24 For he despiteth not the poor,

he turneth not awry
His countenance when they do call,

He earth is all the Lords, with all her store and furniture : Yea, his is all the world, and all that therein doth endure. 2 For he hath fastly founded it above the feas to ffand; And laid a low the liquid flouds, to flow beneath the land. For who is he, O Lord, that shall afcend into thy hill,

Or pals into thy holy place, there to continue Itill? Whose hands are harmless, and whose heart no spor there doth defile: His foul not fet on vanity, who hath not fworn to guile. Him that is fuch a one, the Lord shall place in blissful plight, And God his God and Saviour shall yeeld to him his right. This is the brood of travellers, in feeking of his grace: As Jacob did the Israelite, in that time of his race. Ye princes ope your gates, stand ope the everlasting gate : or there shall enter in thereby the King of glorious state. Who is the King of glorious state? the strong and mighty Lord, The mighty Lord in battel flout, and trial of the fword. Ye princes ope your gates, stand ope the everlaiting gate: For there shall enter in thereby the King of glorious state.

The kingdom and the royalty. of glorious state is his. Ad te, Domine. Pfal. 25. T. S. Lift my heart to thee, my God and guide most just : Now fuffer me to take no shame, for in thee do I trult. Let not my toes rejoyce, nor make a scorn of me : And let them not be overthrown that put their truit in thee. But shame shall them befal which harm them wrongfully : Therefore thy paths and thy right ways unto me, Lord, defery. Direct me in thy truth, and teach me I thee pray: Thouart my God and Saviour, on thee I wait alway. Thy mercies manifold I pray thee, Lord, remember; And eke thy pity plentiful, for they have been for ever. Remember not the faults and frailty of my youth : Remember not how ignorans. I have been of thy truth. Nor after my deferts let me thy mercy find:

3 Thy goodness laid before my face I durit behold always:
For of thy truth I tread the trace, and will do all my days.
4 I do not lust to haunt or use with men whose deeds are vain:

To come in house I do resuse with the deceitful train.

5 I much abhor the wicked fort, their deeds I do despise:
I do not once to them resort that hurtful things devise.
6 My hands I wash, and do proceed in works to walk upright:
Then to thine altar I make speed, to offer there in sight.

7 That I may fpeak and preach the praise that doth belong to thee,
And so declare how wondrous ways thou hast been good to me.
8 O God, thy house I love most dear, to me it doth excell:
I have delight and would be near whereas thy grace doth dwell.

O shut not up my soul with them in fin that take their fill;
Nor yet my life among those men that seek much bloud to spill.
Whose hands are heapt with crast and guile, their lives thereof are full:
And ther right hand with wrench and wile for bribes doth pluck and pull.

11 But I in righteoufness intend my time and days to ferve: Have mercy, Lord, and me defend, fo that I do not swerve. 12 My foot is stay'd for all assays, it standeth well and right: Wherefore to God will I give praise of their device and thought. 11 But his decrees continue still, they never flack nor fwage:

The motions of his mind and will take place in every age.

The Second part.

12 And bleft are they to whom the Lord as God and guide is known: Whom he doth choose of mere accord to take them as his own.

13 The Lord from heaven cast his fight on men mortal by birth :

14 Confidering from his feat of might the dwellers of the earth.

15 The Lord, I fay, whose hand hath wrought mans heart, and doth it frame: For he alone doth know the thought and working of the fame.

16 A king that trusteth in his host shall nought prevail at length:

The man that of his might doth boait shall fall for all his thrength.

17 The troups of horsemen eke shall fail. their fturdy fleeds shall flerve : The strength of horse shall not prevail the rider to preserve.

18 But lo, the eyes of God intend and watch to aid the just :
With such as fear him to offend, and on his goodness trust. 19 That he of death and great diffress may fet their fouls from dread : And if that dearth their land oppress.

Benedican Dom. Pfal. xxxiv. T. S.

Will give laud and honour both unto the Lord always, And eke my mouth for evermore fhall fpeak unto his praise.
2 I do delight to laud the Lord in foul and eke in voice : That humble men and mortifi'd may hear, and fo rejoyce.

3 Therefore fee that ye magnifie with me the living Lord, And let us now exalt his Name together with one accord.

4 For I my felf belought the Lord, he answered me again.

And me delivered incontinent nd me delivered incontinent from all my rear and pain.

5 Who to they be that him behold, fhall fee his light most elear: Their countenance hall not be dasht, they need it not to fear.

6 This filly wrerch for some relief unto the Lord did call; Who did him hear without delay, and rid him out of thrall.

The angel of the Lord doth pitch his tents in every place, To fave all fuch as fear the Lord, his tents in every place, that nothing them deface.

Tafte and confider well therefore that God is good and just:

O happy

O happy man that maketh him his onely stay and trust !

9 Fear ye the Lord, ye holy ones, above all earthly thing:
For they that fear the living Lord, are sure to lack nothing.

10 The lions shall be hunger-bit, and pin'd with famine much:

But as for them that fear the Lord, no lack shall be to such.

The fecond part.

11 Come near therefore my children dear, and to my words give ear:

1 thall you reach the perfect way.

I shall you teach the perfect way, how ye the Lord should fear. Who is the man that would live long, and lead a godly life?

13 See thou refrain thy tongue and lips

13 See thou refrain thy tongue and lips from all deceit and strife.

14 Turn back thy face from doing ill, and do the godly deed: Enquire for peace and quietness, and follow it with speed.

15 For why? the eyes of God above upon the just are bent:

His ears likewise do hear the plaint of the poor innocent.

16 But he doth frown and bend his brows upon the wicked train:

And cuts away the memory that should of them remain.

17 But when the just do call and cry, the Lord doth hear them so, That out of pain and misery torthwith he lets them go.

18 The Lord is kind and straight at hand to such as be contrite:

He faves also the forrowful, the poor and meek in sprite.

19 Full many be the miseries that righteous men do suffer: But out of all adversities the Lord doth them deliver.

20 The Lord doth fo preserve and keep his very bones alway, That not so much as one of them doth perish or decay.

21 The sin shall slay the wicked man, which he himself hath wrought:

And such as hate the righteous man, shall soon be brought to nought.

22 But they that fear the living Lord, the Lord doth fave them found:
And who that put their trust in him, nothing shall them confound.

Let them turn back and flee with shame.

Let them turn back and flee with shame, that think to work me ill.

5 Let them difperfe and flee abroad, as wind doth drive the dust: And that the angel of our God their might away may thrust.

Let all their ways be void of light, and slippers like to fall.

and flippery like to fall:

And fend thine angel with thy might,
to perfecute them all.

7 For why? without my fault they have in secret set their grin:

And for no cause have digg'd a cave to take my soul therein.

8 When they think least and have no care, O Lord, destroy them all:

Let them be trapt in their own snare, and in their mischief fall.

9 And let my foul, my heart and voice, in God have joy and wealth:
That in the Lord I may rejoyce,

Orid my foul mine onely dear, out of these lions claws.

19 And then will I give thanks to thee before the church always : And where most of the people be, there will I shew thy praise.

20 Let not my foes prevail on me, which hate me for no fault:

Nor yet to wink or turn their eye, that caulless me affault.

The third part. 21 Of peace no word they think or fay, their talk is all untrue :

They still confult and would betray all those that peace ensue.

22 With open mouth they run at me, they gape, they laugh, they fleer: Well, well, fay they, our eye doth fee the thing that we defire.

23 But, Lord, thou feelt what ways they take, cease not this gear to mend:

Be not far off, nor me for fake, as men that fail their friend. 24 Awake, arise, and stir abroad, defend me in my right: Revenge my cause, my Lord, my God, and aid me with thy might.

25 According to thy righteoufness. my Lord God, fet me free: And let them not their pride express, nor triumph over me.

26 Let not their hearts rejoyce and cry, There, there, this gear goes trim: Nor give them cause to fay on high, We have our will on him.

27 Confound them with rebuke and shame, that joy when I do mourn :

And pay them home with spight and blame, that brag at me with fcorn.

28 Let them be glad and eke rejoyce, which love mine upright way And they all times with heart and voice shall praise the Lord, and say,

29 Great is the Lord, and doth excell, for why? he doth delight To fee his fervants profper well; that is his pleasant fight, but kept me close and still: Yea, from good talk I did refrain, but fore against my will.

4 My heart waxt hot within my breast, with musing, thought, and doubt, Which did increase and stir the fire: at last these words burst out;

5 Lord, number out my life and days which yet I have not past,

So that I may be certified how long my life shall last.
6 Lord, thou hast pointed out my life

With facrifice to purge his fin thou doll no man require.

9 Meat-offerings and facrifice thou would'st not have at all: But thou, O Lord, hast open made mine ears to hear withall.

10 But then faid I, Behold and look, I come a mean to be:

For in the volume of thy book thus is it faid of me,

11 That I, O God, should do thy mind, which thing doth like me well:

Then in my ficknofs thus faid I,

Mine enemies witht me ill in heart. and thus of me did fay, When shall he die, that all his name may vanish quite away? 6 And when they come to vifit me. they ask if I do well : But in their hearts mischief they hatch. and to their mates it tell. They bite their lips and whifper fo, as though they would me charm, And cast their fetches how to trap me with some mortal harm. Some grievous fin hath brought him to this fickness, fay they plain : He is fo low that without doubt rife can he not again. 9 The man also that I did truft, with me did use deceit: Who at my table are my bread, the same for me laid wait. 10 Have mercy, Lord, on me therefore, and let me be preferv'd: That I may render unto them the things they have deferv'd. II By this I know affuredly to be belov'd of thee, When that mine enemies have no cause to triumph over me. 12 But in my right thou half me kept. and maintained alway: And in thy presence place affign'd where I shall dwell for ay. 13 The Lord the God of Ifrael be praised evermore: Even fo be it, Lord, will I fay, even so be it therefore. Quemadmodum. Pfal. xlij. 7. H.

The tears all times are my repair, which from mine eyes do flide: When wicked men cry out so fast, where now is God thy guide? Alas, what grief is it to think what freedom once I had!

Therefore my foul as at pits brink most heavy is and sad. When I did march in good aray, furnished with my train,

Unto the temple was our way, with fongs and hearts most fain. 5 My foul, why art thou fad always. and fret'ft thus in my breft? Trust still in God; for him to praise

I hold it ever beft. By him I have fuccour at need

Likewise by night I did not cease the living God to praise.

9 I am perswaded thus to say to him with pure pretence,

O Lord, thou art my guide and flay, my rock and fure defence. Why do I then in pensiveness hanging the head thus walk. While that mine enemies me oppress, and vex me with their talk !

10 For why? they pierce my inward parts with pangs to be abhorr'd, When they ery out with stubborn hearts,

Where is thy God thy Lord? II So foon why doft thou faint and quail, Pfalm xliij, xliv.

Deus auribus. Psal. 44. T.S. Ur earshave heard our fathers tell, and reverently record The wondrous works that thou halt done in older time, O Lord.

2 How thou didst cast the Gentiles out. and stroyd'st them with strong hand :

Planting our fathers in their place, and gav'ft to them their land.

3 They conquered not by fword nor strength the land of thy beheft :

But by thy hand, thy arm, and grace; because thou lov'dit them belt. 4 Thou art my King, O God, that holp

For profit none thou hadft thereby, no gain at all was fought.

13 And to our neighbours thou hast made of us a laughing-stock :

And those that round about us dwell, at us do grin and mock.

The second part. 14 Thus we ferve for none other ufe,

That death it is to fee their wrongs, their threatnings and their cries.

17 For all this we forgot not thee, nor yet thy covenant brake:

18 We turn not back our hearts from thee, nor yet thy paths for lake.

19 Yet thou haft trod us down to dust, where dens of dragons be,

And covered us with shade of death, and great adversitie.

20 If we had our Gods Name forgot, and help of Idols fought, 21 Would not God then have tri'd this out? for he doth know our thought.

22 Nay, nay, for thy Names sake, O Lord, always are we slain thus:

As theep unto the shambles sent, right so they deal with us.

23 Up Lord, why fleepest thou? awake, and leave us not for all:

24 Why hidest thou thy countenance, and dost forget our thrall?

25 For down to dust our soul is brought, and we now at last cast:

Our belly, like as it were glu'd, unto the ground cleaves fast.

26 Rife up therefore for our defence, and help us, Lord, at need: We thee befeech for thy goodness, to rescue us with speed.

13 The daughters then of Tyre, with gifts full rich to fee, And all the wealthy of the land shall make their suit to thee.

14 The daughter of the king is glorious to behold: Within her closet she doth sit all deckt in beaten gold.

15 In robes well wrought with needle, and many a pleafant thing: With virgins fair on her to wait, fhe cometh to the king.

16 Thus are they brought with joy and mirth on every fide, Into the palace of the king, and there they do abide.

17 In flead of parents left,
(O queen, the cafe fo flands)
Thou shalt have fons whom thou mayst fet as princes in all lands.

18 Wherefore thy holy Name
all ages shall record:

The people shall give thanks to thee for evermore, O Lord.

Deus noster. Pfal. 46. 7. H.

The Lord is our desence and aid,
the strength whereby we stand:
When we with wo are much dismay'd,
he is our help at hand.

2 Though the earth remove, we will not fear, through hills so high and steep.

Be thrust and hurled here and there.

Be thrust and hurled here and there, within the sea so deep.

3 No, though the waves do rage fo fore that all the banks it spills: And though it overflow the shore, and beat down mighty hills.

4. For one fair floud doth fend abroad his pleafant streams apace,

To fresh the city of our God. and wash his holy place.

5 In midft of her the Lord doth dwell. the can no whit decay:

All things against her that rebell the Lord will truly flay.

6 The heathen folk, the kingdoms fear. the people make a noise:

The earth doth melt and not appear, when God puts forth his voice.

7 The Lord of hosts doth take our part. to us he hath an eye:

Our hope of health with all our heart on Jacobs God doth lie.

Come here and fee with mind and thought the working of our God:

What wonders he himfelf hath wrought in all the world abroad.

9 By him all wars are husht and gone, which countreys did conspire :

Their bowes he brake and spears each one, their chariots burnt with fire.

10 Leave off therefore (faith he) and know I am a God most stout,

Among the heathen high and low. and all the earth throughout.

II The Lord of hofts doth us defend, he is our strength and tower: On Jacobs God we do depend, and on his might and power.

Omnes gentes. Pfal. 47. 7. H.

YE people all with one accord-Be glad and fing unto the Lord with fweet and pleasant voice. 2 For high the Lord and dreadful is, with wonders manifold: A mighty King he is truly, in all the earth extoll'd.

3 The people shall he make to be unto our bondage thrall:

And underneath our feet he shall the nations make to fall. 4 For us the heritage he chose which we possess alone, The flourishing worship of Jacob his welbeloved one.

5 Our God ascended up on high with joy and pleasant noise:

The Lord goes up above the skie with trumpets royal voice.

Sing praises to our God, sing praise, fing praifes to our King:

For God is King of all the earth, all skilful praises sing.

8 God on the heathen reigns, and fits upon his holy throne:

The princes of the people have them joyned every one

To Abrahams people: for our God, which is exalted high,

As with a buckler doth defend the earth continually.

Magnus Dominus. Pfal. 48. J. H. Reat is the Lord, and with great praise I to be advanced still Within the city of our God, upon his holy hill.

2 Mount Sion is a pleasant place, it gladdeth all the land: The city of the mighty King on her north-fide doth ftand.

3 Within the palaces thereof God is a refuge known:

For lo, the kings are gathered, and together they are gone.

4 But when they did behold it so, they wondred, and they were Altonied much, and fuddenly were driven back with fear.

Great terrour there on them did fall.

for very wo they cry, As doth a woman when she shall go travail by and by.

6 As thou with eastern wind the thips upon the fea dost break,

So they were 'ftroy'd: and even as we heard our fathers speak; 7 So in the city of the Lord we faw as it was told, Yea, in the city which our God for ever will uphold.

8 O Lord, we wait and do attend on thy good help and grace: For which we do all times attend within thy holy place. 9 O Lord, according to thy Name for ever is thy praise: And thy right hand, O Lord, is full of righteoulness always.

10 Let, for thy judgements, Sion mount fulfilled be with joys:

And eke of Judah grant, O Lord, the daughters to rejoyce.

II Go walk about all Sion hill, yea, round about her go;

And tell the towers that thereupon are bui ded on a row.

12 And mark ye well her bulwarks all, behold her towers there: That ye may tell thereof to them that after shall be here.

13 For this God is our God, our God for evermore is he:

Yea, and unto the death also our Guider shall he be.

Audite hec, omnes. Plat. 49. J. H.

LI people hearken and give ear to that that I shall tell,

2 Both

Both high and low, both rich and poor that in the world do dwell. 3 For why? my mouth shall make discourse of many things right wise:

In understanding shall mine heart his study exercise.

I will incline mine ear to know the parable fo dark : And open all my doubtful speech in metre on my harp.

5 Why should I fear affliction, or any careful toyl:

Or else my foes which at my heels are prest my life to spoil?

6 For as for fuch as riches have. wherein their trust is most; And they which of their treasures great themselves do brag and boast; There is not one of them that can his brothers death redeem, Or that can give a price to God fufficient for him.

It is too great a price to pay, none can thereto attain: Or that he might his life prolong, or not in grave remain. They see wise men, as well as fools, fubject unto deaths bands : And being dead, strangers possess their goods, their rents, their lands. 10 Their care is to build houses fair, and so determine sure

To make their name right great on earth for ever to endure.

in Yet shall no man always enjoy high honour, wealth, and rest; 12 But shall at length taste of deaths cup, as well as the brute beaft.

The second part.

13 And though they try their foolish thoughts to be most lewd and vain: Their children yet approve their talk, and in like fin remain.

14 As sheep into the fold are brought, fo shall they into grave Death shall them eat, and in that day the just shall lordship have. 15 Their image and their royal port shall fade and quite decay

When as from house to pit they pass with wo and well-away.

16 But God will furely preferve me from death and endless pain: Because he will of his good grace my foul receive again.

17 If any man wax wondrous rich, fear not, I fay, therefore: Although the glory of his house increaseth more and more.

Pfalm I. 18 For when he dies, of all these things nothing shall he receive:

His glory will not follow him, his pomp will take her leave.

19 Yet in this life he takes himself the happiest under sun: And others likewise flatter him, faying, All is well done.

20 And presuppose he live as long as did his fathers old;

Yet must he needs at length give place, and be brought to deaths fold.

21 Thus man to honour God hath brought. yet doth he not confider: But like brute beafts fo doth he live, which turn to dust and powder.

Deus deorum. Pfal. 50. W.W.

'He mighty God, th' eternal hath thus fpoke, And all the world he will call and provoke:

Even from the east, and so forth to the west.

2 From toward Sion, which place he liketh best,

God will appear in beauty most excellent:

Our God will come before that long time be spent.

3 Devouring fire shall go before his face; A great tempest shall round about him trace.

Then shall he call the earth and heavens bright,

To judge his folk with equity and right:

5 Saying, go to, and now my faints affemble: My pact they keep, their gifts do not dissemble.

The heavens shall declare his righteousness:

For God is Judge of all things more and less.

7 Hear, my people, for I will now reveal;

List Ifrael, I will thee nought conceal.

Thy God, thy God am I, and will not blame thee 8 For giving not all manner off'rings to me.

I have no need to take of thee at all Goats of thy fold. or calf out of thy ftall:

so For all the beafts are mine within the woods: On thousand hills cattel are mine own goods:

I I know for mine
all birds that are on mountains:
All beafts are mine which haunt the fields and fountains.

I would not thee it tell;
For all is mine

that in the world doth dwell.

of great bulls or bullocks?
Or drink the bloud

of goats, or of the flocks?

14 Offer to God

praise and hearty thanksgiving, And pay thy vows unto God everliving.

when troubled thou shalt be:

Then will I help, and thou shalt honour me.

thus faith th' eternal God,
Why dost thou preach
my laws and hests abroad:

17 Seeing thou haft them with thy mouth abused, And hat'st to be by discipline reformed?

My words, I say,
thou dolt reject and hate:

thou dolf reject and hate:
18 If that thou fee
a thief, as with thy mate,
Thou runn'ff with him,
and so your prey do feek;

And art all one with bands and ruffians eke.

19 Thou giv'st thy felf to backbite and to slander: And how thy tongue deceives it is a wonder.

20 Thou fitt'st musing thy brother how to blame,

And how to put thy mothers fon to shame.

21 These things thou didst, and whil'st I held my tongue, Thou didst me judge, because I staid so long, Like to thy self:

yet though I keep long filence, Once shalt thou feel of thy wrongs just recompense.

22 Confider this,
ye that forget the Lord,
And fear not when he threatneth with his word;
Lest without help

I spoil you as a prey.

23 But he that thanks
offereth, praifeth me ay,
Saith the Lord God:
and he that walketh this trace,
I will him teach
Gods faving health to embrace.

The God of gods, the Lord, hath call'd the earth by name:
From whence the fun doth rife, unto the fetting of the fame.

2 From Sion his fair place, his glory bright and clear, The perfect beauty of his grace, from thence it did appear.

3 Our God shall come in haste, to speak he shall not doubt: Before him shall the fire waste, and tempet round about.

4 The heavens from on high, the earth below likewife

He will call forth to judge and try, his folk he doth devile.

5 Bring forth my faints, faith he, my faithful flock fo dear: Which are in band and league with me, my law to love and fear.

6 And when these things are tri'd, the heavens shall record,

That God is just; and all must bide the judgement of the Lord.

7 My people, O give heed,
Ifrael to thee I cry:
I am thy God, thy help at need, thou can't it not deny thou canst it not deny.

8 I do not say to thee
thy facrifice is slack:
Thou offerest daily unto me much more then I do lack.

Think'st thou that I do need thy cattel young or old?
Or elle so much desire to feed on goats out of the fold?

10 Nay; all the beafts are mine, in woods that eat their fills:

And thou fands more of neat and kine, that run wild on the hills.

The fecond part.

II The birds that build on high, in hills and out of fight:
And beafts that in the fields do lie, are fubject to my might.

12 Then though I hungred fore, what need I ought of thine, Sith that the earth with her great store, and all therein is mine?

13 To bulls flesh have I mind to eat it dost thou think? Or such a sweetness do I find the bloud of goats to drink?

14 Give

14 Give to the Lord his praise, with thanks to him apply: And see thou pay thy vows always unto the God most high.

Then feek and call to me, when ought would work thee blame: And I will fure deliver thee, that thou may ft praise my Name.

16 But to the wicked train, which talk of God each day,

And yet their works are foul and vain, to them the Lord will fay, 17 With what a face dar'lf thou my word once speak or name? Why doth thy talk my law allow, thy deeds deny the same?

18 Whereas for to amend thy life thou art to flack:

My word the which thou dost pretend, is call behind thy back.

The third part.

19 When thou a thief dolt fee
by theft to live in wealth,
With him thou runn'st and dost agree likewise to thrive by stealth.

When thou doft them behold that wives and maids defile, Thou lik'ft it well, and waxeft bold

Thou lik'ft it well, and waxeft bold to use that life most vile.

21 Thy lips thou doft apply to flander and defame: Thy tongue is taught to craft and lie, and still doth use the same.

22 Thou studiest to revile thy friends to thee so near:
With slander thou would'st needs defile thy mothers son most dear.

23 Hereat while I do wink, as though I did not fee, Thou goest on still, and so dost think that I am like to thee.

24 But fure I will not let to firike, when I begin:
Thy faults in order I will fet,
and open all thy fin.

25 Mark this I you require, that have not God in mind: Left when I plague you in mine ire, your help be far to find. 26 He that doth give to me the facrifice of praife,

Doth please me well, and he shall see to walk in godly ways.

Miserer mei. Plal. 51. W. W.

Lord, consider my distress, and now with speed some pity take:
My fins deface, my faults redress, good Lord, for thy great mercies sake.
Wash me, O Lord, and make me clean from this unjust and finful act,

And purishe yet once again my hainous crime and bloudy fact.

Remorfe and forrow do conftrain me to acknowledge mine excefs: My fin alas doth ftill remain before my face without releafe.

4 For thee alone I have offended, committing evil in thy fight:

And if I were therefore condemned, yet were thy judgements just and right.

5 It is too manifest alas that first I was conceiv'd in sin: Yea, of my mother so born was, and yet vile wretch remain therein.

6 Alfo behold, Lord, thou dost love the inward truth of a pure heart: Therefore thy wisdom from above thou hast reveal'd me to convert.

7 If thou with hysiop purge this blot, I shall be cleaner then the glass: And if thou wash away my spot, the snow in whiteness shall I pass.

8 Therefore, O Lord, fuch joy me fend, that inwardly I may find grace, And that my strength may now amend, which thou hast swag'd for my trespass.

which thou hast Iwag'd for my trespass Turn back thy face and frowning ire, for I have felt enough thy hand:

And purge my fins, I thee defire, which do in number pass the fand.

10 Make new my heart within my brest, and frame it to thy holy will:

Thy constant Spirit in me let rest, which may these raging enemies kill.

The fecond part.

11 Cast me not, Lord, out from thy face, but speedily my torments end: Take not from me thy Spirit of grace, which may from dangers me defend.

12 Restore me to those joys again which I was wont in thee to find:
And let me thy free Spirit retain, which unto thee may stir my mind.

13 Thus when I shall thy mercies know,
I shall instruct others therein:
And men that are likewise brought low,
by mine example shall see sin

by mine example shall flee sin.

14 O Cod, that of my health art Lord, forgive me this my bloudy vice:

My heart and tongue shall then accord to sing thy mercies and justice.

O Lord, which art the onely key:
And then my mouth shall testifie thy wondrous works and praise alway.
And as for outward facrifice,
I would have offered many a one:

But thou efteem'ft them of no price, and therein pleasure tak'ft thou none.

17 The

and of all facrifice th' effect.

18 Lord, unto Sion turn thy face, pour out thy mercies on thy hill,
And on Jerusalem thy grace,

And on Jerusalem thy grace, build up the walls, and love it still.

19 Thou shalt accept then our off'rings of peace and righteousness, I say:
Yea calves and many other things upon thine altar will we lay.

Another of the Same, by J. H.

After thy mercies multitude do thou my fins deface.

2 Yea wash me more from mine offence, and cleanse me from my sin:

For I do know my faults, and still my fin is in mine eyn.

3 Against thee, thee alone I have offended in this case:

And evil have I done before the presence of thy face:

4 That in the things that thou hast done upright thou may'st be tri'd,

And eke in judging, that the doom may pass upon thy side.

5 Behold, in wickedness my kind and shape I did receive:

And lo, my finful mother eke in fin did me conceive.

6 But lo, the truth in inward parts is pleafant unto thee;

And fecrets of thy wisdom thou revealed hast to me.

7 With hyslop, Lord, besprinkle me, I shall be cleansed so:

Yea wash thou me, and so I shall be whiter then the snow.

8 Of joy and gladness make thou me to hear the pleasant voice:

That so the bruised bones which thou hast broken may rejoyce.

9 From the beholding of my fins, Lord, turn away thy face:

And all my deeds of wickedness do utterly deface.

10 O God, create in me a heart unspotted in thy fight: And eke within my bowels, Lord, renew a stable sprite.

11 Ne cast me from thy sight, nor take thy holy Spirit away:

The comfort of thy faving health give me again, 1 pray.

12 With thy free Spirit establish me, and I will teach therefore Sinners thy ways, and wicked shall be turned to thy lore.

The fecond part.

13 O God that art God of my health, from bloud deliver me:
That praifes of thy righteouiness

my tongue may fing to thee.

14 My lips that yet fall closed be,

do thou, O Lord, unloofe: The praises of thy Majestie my mouth shall so disclose.

15 I would have off'red facrifice if that had pleased these

if that had pleased thee:
But pleased with burnt-offerings
I know thou wilt not be.

16 A troubled spirit is facrifice delightful in Gods eyes:

A broken and an humble heart, God, thou wilt not despile.

17 In thy good will deal gently, Lord, to Sion, and withall

Grant that of thy Jerusalem uprear'd may be the wall.

18 Burnt-off'rings, gifts, and facrifice of justice in that day

Thou shalt accept, and calves they shall upon thine altar lay.

Quid gloriaris? Pfal. 52. J. H.

Why dolt thou tyrant boalt abroad thy wicked works to praise?

Dost thou not know there is a God, whose mercies last always?

2 Why doth thy mind yet fill devise fuch wicked wiles to warp?

Thy tongue untrue in forging lies, is like a ratour sharp.

3 On mischief why set'st thou thy mind, and wilt not walk upright?

Thou hast more lust false tales to find then bring the truth to light.

4 Thou dolf delight in fraud and guile, in mischief, bloud, and wrong:

Thy line have learn'd the flatt'ring style

Thy lips have learn'd the flatt'ring style, O false deceitsul tongue.

5 Therefore shall God for ay confound, and pluck thee from thy place, Thy feed root out from off the ground, and so shall thee deface.

6 The just when they behold thy fall, with fear will praise the Lord, And in reproach of thee withall cry out with one accord.

7 Behold the man that would not take the Lord for his defence:

But of his goods his god did make, and truft his corrupt fense. 8 But I as olive fresh and green fhall fpring and fpread abroad:

For why? my trust all times hath been upon the living God.

9 For

I will fet forth thy Name always, wherein thy faints rejoyce.

Dixit insipiens. Psal. 53. T. S. He foolish man in that which he within his heart hath faid, That there is any God at all hath utterly denaid. 2 They are corrupt, and they also a hainous work have wrought:

Among them all there is not one of good that worketh ought.

3 The Lord look'd down on fons of men, from heaven all abroad,

To fee if any were that would be wife and feek for God

4 They are all gone out of the way. they are corrupted all:

There is not one doth any good, there is not one at all.

5 Do not all wicked workers know, that they do feed upon My people, as they feed on bread?

the Lord they call not on.

6 Even there they were afraid, and stood with trembling all dismaid;

Whereas there was no cause at all why they should be afraid.

For God his bones that thee befieg'd hath scattered all abroad:

Thou haft confounded them, for they rejected are of God.

8 O Lord, give thou the people health, and thou, O Lord, fulfill

Thy promise made to Israel, from out of Sion hill.

9 When God his people shall restore that erst was captive led, Then Jacob shall therein rejoyce, and Ifrael shall be glad.

Dew, in nomine. Plal. 54. 7. H. Od, fave me for thy holy Name, T and for thy goodness fake: Unto the strength, Lord, of the fame

I do my cause betake. 2 Regard, O Lord, and give an ear to me when I do pray

Bow down thy felt to me, and hear the words that I do fay.

3 For strangers up against me rise, and tyrants vex me still,

Which have not God before their eyes: they feek my foul to spill.

4 But lo, my God doth give me aid, the Lord is straight at hand: With them by whom my foul is staid the Lord doth ever stand. 5 With plagues repay again all those for me that lie in wait:

Pfalm lisi, liv, lv.

And in thy truth delfroy my foes with their own fnare and bait.

6 An off'ring of free heart and will then I to thee shall make,

And praise thy Name; for thereinstill great comfort I do take.

O Lord, at length do fet me free from them that craft conspire : And now mine eye with joy doth fee on them my hearts defire.

Exaudi, Deus. Pfal. 55. 7. H. God, give ear and do apply to hear me when I pray: And when to thee I call and cry, hide not thy felf away. 2 Take heed to me, grant my request, and answer me again:

With plaints I pray full fore opprest, great grief doth me constrain.

3 Because my foes with threats and cries oppress me through despight:

And so the wicked fort likewise to vex me have delight.

4 For they in counfel do conspire to charge me with some ill:

So in their hafty wrath and ire they do pursue me still.

5 My heart doth faint for want of breath, it panteth in my breft:

The terrours and the dread of death do work me much unrest.

6 Such dreadful fear on me doth fall. that I therewith do quake:

Such horrour whelmeth me withall, that I no shift can make.

7 But I did fay, Who will give me the swift and plealant wings Of some fair dove, that I may flee.

and reft me from these things? 8 Lo then I would go far away, to flie I would not cease: And I would hide my feif, and flay in some great wilderness.

9 I would be gone in all the hafte, and not abide behind:

That I were quit and overpast these blasts of boiltrous wind.

10 Divide them, Lord, and from them pull their devilish double tongue:

For I have spi'd their city full of rapine, ffrite, and wrong.

11 Which things both night and day throughout do close her as a wall :

In midst of her is mischief stout, and forrow eke withall.

12 Her inward parts are wicked plain, her deeds are much too vile:

And in her streets there doth remain all crafty fraud and guile.

The

The fecond part.

13 If that my foes did feek my shame, I might it well abide:

From open enemies check and blame fome where I could me hide:

14 But thou it was my fellow dear, which friendship didst pretend, And didst my secret countel hear, as my familiar friend.

15 With whom I had delight to talk in fecret and abroad,

And we together oft did walk within the house of God.

16 Let death in halte upon them fall, and fend them quick to hell:

For mischief reigneth in the half and parlour where they dwell.

17 But I unto my God will cry, to him for help I flee:

The Lord will help me by and by, and he will fuccour me.

18 At morning, noon, and evening-tide unto the Lord I pray:

When I fo instantly have cri'd, he doth not fay me nay.

19 To peace he shall restore me yet, though war be now at hand: Although the number be full great that would against me stand.

The Lord that first and last doth reign,
both now and evermore,

Will hear when I to him complain, and punish them full fore.

21 For fure there is no hope that they
to turn will once accord:
For why? they will not God obey,

nor yet do fear the Lord.
22 Upon their friends they laid their hands which were in covenant knit:

Of friendihip to neglect the bands
they pass or care no whit.

23 While they have war within their hearts, as butter are their words:

Although their words were fmooth as oyl, they cut as sharp as swords.

24 Call thou thy care upon the Lord, and he shall nourish thee:

For in no wife will he accord the just in thrall to fee.

25 But God shall cast them deep in pit that thirst for bloud always:

He will no guileful man permit to live out half his days.

26 Though such be quite destroy'd and gone, in thee, O Lord, I trust,

I shall depend thy grace upon, with all my heart and lust.

Mifereremei. Pfal. 56. 7. H.

Ave mercy, Lord, on me, I pray, for man would me devour:

He fighteth with me day by day, and troubleth me each hour. 2 Mine enemies daily enterprife to fwallow me outright:

To fight against me many rise, O thou most high of might.

When they would make me most afraid with boasts and brags of pride,

I trust in thee alone for aid, by thee I will abide.

4 Gods promise I do mind and praise, O Lord, I stick to thee:

I do not care at all affays what flesh can do to me.

What things I either did or fpake, they wrest them at their will:

And all the counsel that they take is how to work me ill.

6 They all consent themselves to hide, close watch for me to lay:

They spy my paths, and snares have ti'd to take my life away.

7 Shall they thus scape on mischief set? thou God on them wilt frown:

For in his wrath he doth not let to throw whole kingdoms down.

8 Thou feelt how oft they made me flee, and on my tears dolf look:

Referve them in a glass by thee, and write them in thy book.

9 When I do call upon thy Name, my foes away do flart:

I well perceive it by the same, that God doth take my part.

10 I glory in the word of God, to praise it I accord: With joy I will declare abroad the promise of the Lord.

It I trust in God, and yet I say,

as I before began, The Lord he is my help and stay,

I do not care for man.

12 I will perform with heart fo free to God my vows always:

And I, O Lord, all times to thee will offer thanks and praise.

13 My foul from death thou dost defend, and keep'st my feet upright: That I before thee may assud:

That I before thee may afcend with fuch as live in light.

Miferere mei. Pfal. 57. F. H.

Take pity for thy promife fake, have mercy, Lord, on me: For why? my foul doth her betake unto the help of thee.

Within the thadow of thy wings I fet my felf full faft,

Till mischief, malice, and like things be gone and overpast.

3 I call upon the God most high, to whom I flick and fland : I mean the God that will stand by the cause I have in hand.

4 From heaven he hath fent his aid, to fave me from their fpight, That to devour me have affaid, his mercy, truth, and might.

5 I lead my life with lions fell. all fet on wrath and ire And with fuch wicked men I dwell, that fret like flames of fire. 6 Their teeth are spears and arrows long as tharp as I have feen :

They wound and cut with their quick tongue like swords and weapons keen.

7 Set up and shew thy felf, O God, above the heavens bright: Exalt thy praise on earth abroad, thy majesty and might. They lay their net and do prepare a privy cave and pit: Wherein they think my foul to fnare, but they are fall'n in it.

9 My heart is fet to laud the Lord, in him to joy always:

My heart, I fay, doth well accord to fing his land and praise. 10 Awake, my joy, awake, I fay, my lute, my harp, and ftring : For I my felf before the day will rife, rejoyce, and fing.

II Among the people I will tell the goodness of my God, And shew his praise that doth excell, in heathen lands abroad.

12 His mercy doth extend as far as heavens all are high: His truth as high as any star that shineth in the skie. 13 Set forth and shew thy self, O God, above the heavens bright: Extol thy praise on earth abroad, thy majesty and might. Si vere utique. Pfal. 58. 7. H.

E rulers that are put in trust to judge of wrong and right, Be all your judgements true and juit, not knowing meed or might?

2 Nay, in your hearts ye mark and muse in mischief to consent,

And where ye should true justice use, your hands to bribes are bent.

3 The wicked fort from their birth-day have erred on this wife :

And from their mothers womb alway have used craft and lies.

4 In them the poison and the breath of serpents do appear:

Pfalm 188, 59. Yea, like the adder that is deaf, and fast doth stop her ear.

5 Because she will not hear the voice of one that charmeth well:

No though he were the chief of choice, and did therein excel.

6 O God, break thou their teeth at once within their mouths throughout: The tusks that in their great jaw-bones like lions whelps hang out.

Let them confume away and wafie, as water runs torth right:

The sharts that they do shoot in hafte. let them be broke in flight.

8 As fails do waste within the shell. and unto flime do run:

As one before his time that fell, and never faw the fun.

o Before the thorns that now are young, to bushes big shall grow:

The storms of anger waxing strong shall take them e're they know.

10 The just shall joy, it doth them good that God doth vengeance take And they shall wash their feet in bloud of them that him forfake. 11 Then shall the world shew forth and tell, that good men have reward:

And that a God on earth doth dwell, that justice doth regard.

Eripe me. Pfal. 59. 7. H. Find aid and fave me from my foes, O Lord, I pray to thee : Detend and keep me from all those that rife and strive with me.

2 O Lord, preserve me from those men, whose doings are not good:

And set me sure and safe from them that thirst still after bloud.

3 For lo, they wait my foul to take, they rage against me still:

Yea, for no fault that I did make, I never did them ill.

They run and do themselves prepare, when I no whit offend : Arise and save me from their snare, and see what they intend. 5 O Lord of hofts of Ifrael, arise and strike all lands And pity none that do rebel, and in their mischiefs stands.

6 At night they flir and feek about, as bounds they howl and grin:

And all the city clean throughout, from place to place they run.

They speak of me with mouth alway, but in their lips are swords:

They 'greed my death, and then would fay, What? none doth hear our words.

8 But Pfalm 60, 61.

8 But, Lord, thou half their ways espi'd, and laugh thereat apace: The heathen folk thou dost deride, and mock them to their face.

9 The strength that doth our foes withstand, O Lord, doth come from thee:

My God he is my help at hand, a fort of fence to me.

10 The Lord to me doth fhew his grace in great abundance still:

That I may fee my foes in case fuch as my heart doth will.

The fecond part.

11 Deliroy them not at once, O Lord, left it from mind do fall:

But with thy ftrength drive them abroad, and so consume them all 12 For their ill words and truthless tongue confound them in their pride:

Their wicked oaths with lies and wrong, let all the world deride.

13 Confume them in thy wrath, O Lord, that nought of them remain: That men may know throughout the world that Jacobs God doth reign.

14 At evening they return apace, as dogs they grin and crie: Throughout the streets in every place they run about and spie.

15 They seek about for meat, I say, but let them not be fed:

Nor find a house wherein they may be bold to put their head.

16 But I will shew thy strength abroad, thy goodness I will praise:
For thou art my defence and God at need in all assays.

17 Thou art my strength, thou hast me staid; O Lord, I sing to thee:

Thou art my fort, my fence, and aid, a loving God to me.

Deus, repulisti. Psalm 60. J. H.

Lord, thou didst us clean forsake,
and scatt'redst us abroad:
Such great displeasure thou didst take;
return to us. O God.

return to us, O God.

Thy might did move the land fo fore, that it in funder brake:

The hurt thereof, O Lord, restore, for it doth bow and quake.

3 With heavy chance thou plaguest thus the people that are thine: And thou hast given unto us a drink of deadly wine.

4 But yet to such as fear thy Name a banner thou didlt flew:

That they may triumph in the fame,
because thy word is true.

5 So that thy might may keep and fave thy folk that favour thee;

That they thy help at hand may have, O Lord, grant this to me.

6 The Lord did speak from his own place, this was his joyful tale,

I will divide Sichem by pace, and mete out Succoths vale.

7 Gilead is given to my hand, Manasses mine beside: Ephraim the strength of all my land, my law doth Judah guide.

8 In Moab I will wash my feet,

over Edom throw my shoe:

And thou Palestine ought'st to seek for favour me unto.

9 But who will bring me at this tide unto the city strong?

Or who to Edom will me guide, fo that I go not wrong?

10 Wilt thou not God, which didft for fake thy folk, their land and coafts?
Our wars in hand thou would'st not take, nor walk among our hosts.

11 Give aid, O Lord, and us relieve from them that us disdain: The help that hosts of men can give,

it is but all in vain.

12 But through our God we shall have might to take great things in hand:

He will tread down and put to flight all those that us withstand.

Exaudi, Deus. Pfal.61. 7. H.

R Egard O Lord, for I complain, and make my fuit to thee: Let not my words return in vain, but give an ear to me.

2 From out the coasts and utmost parts of all the earth abroad,

In grief and anguish of my heart I cry to thee, O God.

3 Upon the rock of thy great power my woful mind repose:
Thou art my hope, my fort and tower, my fence against my foes.

Within thy tent I lust to dwell, for ever to endure:

Under thy wings I know right well I shall be safe and sure.

5 The Lord doth my defire regard, and doth fulfil the fame:
With godly gifts will he reward all those that fear his Name.

6 The king shall he in health maintain, and so prolong his days:

That he from age to age shall reign, for evermore always.

7 That he may have a dwelling-place before the Lord for ay;

O let thy mercy, truth, and grace, defend him from decay.

8 Then

then thall I fing for ever ftill with praise unto thy Name:
That all my vows I may fulfill, and daily pay the same.

Nonne Deo. Pfal. 62. 7. H.

Y foul to God thall give good heed,
and him alone attend:
For why? my health and hope to speed doth whole on him depend.
For he alone is my defence,

For he alone is my defence, my rock, my health, and aid: He is my fray, that no pretence shall make me much difficult.

3 O wicked folk, how long will ye use craft? fure ye mud fall:
For as a rotten hedge ye be, and like a tott'ring wall.

4 Whom God doth love ye feek always to put him to the worfe: Ye love to lie, with mouth ye praife, and yet your heart doth curfe.

5 Yet fill my foul doth whole depend on God my chief defire:

From all ill feats me to defend, none but him I require.

6 He is my rock, my fort and tower, my health is of his grace:

He doth support me, that no power can move me out of place.

7 God is my glory and my health, my fouls defire and lutt:

My fort, my strength, my stay, my wealth, God is my onely trust.

8 Oh have your truft in him alway, ye folk with one accord:

Pour out your hearts to him, and fay, our trust is in the Lord.

9 The fons of men deceitful are, on balance but a fleight: With things most vain do them compare, for they can keep no weight.

10 Trust not in wrong, robb'ry, nor stealth, let vain delights be gone:

Though goods well got flow in with wealth, fet not your hearts thereon.

The Lord long fince one thing did tell, which here to mind I call:

He spake it oft, I heard it well, That God alone doth all.

12 And that thou, Lord, art good and kind, thy mercy doth exceed:

So that all forts with thee shall find according to their deed.

Deus, Deus meus. Pfal. 63. T. S.

God my God, I watch betime to come to thee in hafte:
For why? my foul and body both do thirlf of thee to rafte.

And in this barren wilderness where waters there are none,

My neth is parcht for thought of thee, for thee I wish alone.

2 That I might see yet once again thy glory, strength and might,

As I was wont it to behold within thy temple bright.

For why? thy mercies far furmount this life and wretched days:

My lips therefore shall give to thee due honour, laud and praise.

4 And whilft I live, I will not fail to worthip thee alway:

And in thy Name I shall lift up my hands when I do pray.

5 My foul is fill'd as with marrow, which is both fat and sweet:

My mouth therefore shall sing such songs as are for thee most meet;

6 When as in bed I think on thee, and eke all the night-tide,

7 For under covert of thy wings, thou art my joyful guide.

8 My foul doth furely flick to thee, thy right hand is my power:

And those that seek my foul to 'slroy, them death shall soon devour.

their carcafes thall them devour each one, their carcafes thall teed

The hungry toxes, which do run their prey to feek at need.

that do protess Gods word:

For liars mouths shall then be stopt, which have the truth disturb'd.

Exaudi, Deus. Pfal. 64. J. H.

Lord, unto my voice give ear, with plaint when I do pray: And rid my life and foul from fear of foes that threat to flay.

2 Defend me from that fort of men which in deceit do lurk:

And from the frowning face of them that all ill feats do work.

3 Who whet their tongues as we have feen men whet and sharp their swords:

They shoot abroad their arrows keen, I mean most bitter words.

4 With privy fleights shoot they their shaft, the upright man to hit:

The just un'wares to strike by craft, they care or fear no whit.

5 A wicked work they have decreed, in counfel thus they cry, To use deceit let us not dread, what? who can it espy?

6 What way to hart they talk and muse all times within their heart:

They all confult what feats to use, each doth invent his part.

7 But yet all this shall not prevail; when they think least upon, God with his dart shall sure assail and wound them every one.

8 Their crafts and their ill tongues withall fhall work themselves such blame,
That they which then behold their fall, shall wonder at the same.

Then all that fee shall know right well that God the thing hath wrought, And praise his witty works, and tell what he to pass hath brought.

10 Yet shall the just in God rejoyce, still trusting in his might:

So shall they joy with mind and voice, whose hearts are pure and right.

Te decet hymnus. Pfal. 65. J. H.

Hy praise alone, O Lord, doth reign

in Sion thine own hill:
Their vows to thee they do maintain,
and their behefts fulfill.

2 For that thou dost their prayers hear, and dost thereto agree:

The people all both far and near with trust shall come to thee,

3 Our wicked life so far exceeds, that we shall fall therein:

But Lord forgive our great misdeeds, and purge us from our sin.

The man is bleft whom thou dost choose within thy courts to dwell:

Thy house and temple he shall use, with pleasures that excell.

5 Of thy great justice hear us, God, our health of thee doth rise:

The hope of all the earth abroad, and the sea-coasts likewise.

6 With strength thou art beset about, and compast with thy power:

Thou mak'ft the mountains strong and stout, to stand in every shower.

7 The swelling seas thou dost asswage and make their streams full still:

Thou dost restrain the peoples rage, and rule them at thy will.

8 The folk that dwell full far on earth shall dread thy signs to see,

Which morn and even in great mirth do pass with praise to thee.

9 When that the earth is chapt and dry, and this fleth more and more, Then with thy drops thou doft apply, and much increase her hore.

To The floud of God doth overflow, and fo doth cause to spring

The seed and corn which mendo sow, for he doth guide the thing.

With wet thou doft her furrows fill, whereby her clods do fall;

Thy drops on her thou doft distill, and bless her fauit withall.

12 Thou deck'ft the earth of thy good grace with fair and pleafant crop:

Thy clouds distill their dew apace, great plenty they do drop:

13 Whereby the defert shall begin full great increase to bring:

The little hills shall joy therein, much fruit in them shall spring.

14 In places plain the flocks shall feed, and cover all the earth:

The vales with corn shall so exceed, that men shall sing for mirth.

Tubilate Deo. Pfal. 66. T.S.

YE men on earth in God rejoyce, with praise set forth his Name:
Extol his might with heart and voice,

give glory to the same.

2 How wonderful, O Lord, say ye, in all thy works thou art!

Thy foes for fear shall feek to thee full fore against their heart.

3 All men that dwell the earth throughout, shall praise the Name of God:

The laud thereof the world about is shew'd and set abroad.

4 All folk come forth, behold and fee what things the Lord hath wrought!

Mark well the wondrous works that he for man to pass hath brought.

5 He laid the fea like heaps on high, therein a way they had

On foot to pass both fair and dry, whereof their hearts were glad.

6 His might doth rule the world alway, his eyes all things behold:

All fuch as would him difobey, by him shall be controll'd.

7 Ye people give unto our God due laud and thanks always: With joyful voice declare abroad, and fing unto his praife:

8 Which doth endue our foul with life,
and it preferve withall:

He stays our feet, so that no strife can make us slip or fall.

9 The Lord doth prove our deeds with fire, if that they will abide:

As workmen do when they defire to have their metalls tri'd.

10 Although thou fuffer us folong in prison to be cast,

And there with chains and fetters strong to lie in bondage fast.

The fecond part.

11 Although, I fay, thou fuffer men on us to ride and reign:
Though we through fire and water run,

of very grief and pain:

12 Yet fure thou dost of thy good grace dispose it to the best,
And bring us out into a place, to live in wealth and rest.

13 Unto thy house resort will I to offer and to pray,

And there I will my felf apply
my vows to thee to pay:

14 The vows that with my mouth I spake in all my grief and smart; The vows, I say, which I did make in dolour of my heart.

15 Burnt-off'rings I will give to thee of oxen fat and rams:

Yea, this my facrifice shall be of bullocks, goats, and lambs.

16 Come forth and hearken here full foon, all ye that fear the Lord:

What he for my poor foul hath done to you I will record.

this mouth to him doth cry:

And thou my tongue make speed apace to praise him by and by.

18 But if I feel my heart within in wicked works rejoyce: Or if I have delight to fin, God will not hear my voice.

19 But furely God my voice hath heard, and what I do require:

My prayer he doth well regard, and granteth my defire.

20 All praise to him that hath not put nor cast me out of mind: Nor yet his mercy from me shut, which I do ever find.

Deus mifereatur. Pfal. 67. F. H.

Ave mercy on us, Lord, and grant to us thy grace:
To thew to us do then accord the brightness of thy face;
That all the earth may know the way to godly wealth:

And all the nations on a row may fee thy faving health. 3 Let all the world, O God,

3 Let all the world, O God, give praise unto thy Name:
O let the people all abroad

extol and laud the same.

Throughout the world so wide let all rejoyce with mirth:

For thou with truth and right dost guide the nations of the earth.

5 Let all the world, O God, give praise unto thy Name: O let the people all abroad extol and laud the same.

6 Then shall the earth increase, great store of fruit shall fall, Pfalm lxvii, lxviii.

And then our God the God of peace fhall blefs us eke withall.

7 God shall us bless, I say, and then both far and near, The folk throughout the earth alway of him shall stand in fear.

Exurgat Deus. Pfal. 68. T. S.

Et God arife, and then his foes will turn themfelves to flight:
his enemies then will run abroad,
and featter out of fight.

2 And as the fire doth melt the wax, and wind blows finoke away:

So in the presence of the Lord, the wicked shall decay.

3 But righteous men before the Lord thall heartily rejoyce:

They shall be glad and merry all, and chearful in their voice.

4 Sing praise, fing praise unto the Lord, who rideth on the skie:

Extol the Name of Jah our God, and him do magnifie.

The fame is he that is above within his holy place, That Father is of fatherless, and Judge of widows case.

6 Houses he gives and issue both unto the comfortless:

He bringe: n bondmen out of thrall, and rebels to diffress.

7 When thou didft march before thy folk th' Egyptians from among, And brought'st them through the wilderness,

And brought'it them through the wilderness, which was both wide and long:

8. The earth did guake, the rain pour'd down

8 The earth did quake, the rain pour'd down, heard were great claps of thunder; The mount Sinai shook in such fort, as it would break in funder.

9 Thine heritage with drops of rain abundantly was washt:

And if so be it barren waxt, by thee it was refresht.

10 Thy chosen flock doth there remain, thou half prepar'd that place:

And for the poor thou dott provide of thine especial grace.

The fecond part.

It God will give women causes just to magnifie his Name,
When as his people triumphs make,

and purchase bruit and fame.
12 For puissant kings for all their power, fhall flee and take the foil, And women which remain at home fhall help to part the spoil.

13 And though ye were as black as pots, your hue shall pass the dove, Whose wings and feathers seem to have silver and gold above.

14 When

14 When in this land God shall triumph o're kings both high and low: Then shall it be like Salmon hill, as white as any fnow.

15 Though Basan be a fruitful hill; and in height others pais: Yet Sion Gods most holy hill doth far excel in grace.

16 Why brag ye thus ye hills most high, and leap for pride together? The hill of Sion Cod doth love, and there will dwell for ever. 17 Gods army is two millions of warriours good and ffrong:

The Lord also in Sinai is present them among.

18 Thou didft (O Lord) ascend on high, and captives led'ft them all, Which in times past thy chosen flock in bondage kept and thrall.

Thou mad'ft them tribute for to pay; and fuch as did repine

Thou didft subdue, that they might dwell in thy temple divine. 19 Now praised be the Lord, for that he pours on us fuch grace : From day to day he is the God of our health and folace.

The third part.

20 He is the God from whom alone falvation cometh plain: He is the God by whom we fcape all dangers, death, and pain.

21 Thus God will wound his enemies head, and break the hairy scalp

Of those that in their wickedness continually do walk.

22 From Basan will I bring, said he, my people and my sheep : And all mine own, as I have done, from dangers of the deep.

23 And make them dip their feet in bloud of those that hate my Name:

And dogs shall have their tongues embrew'd with licking of the same.

24 All men may fee how thou, O God, thine enemies dost deface : And how thou goeft as God and King into thine holy place.

25 The fingers go before with joy, the minstrels follow after: And in the midst the damsels play with timbrel and with taber.

26 Now in the congregation, O Israel, praise the Lord:

And Jacobs whole posterity, give thanks with one accord. Their chief was little Benjamin, but Judah made their holt,

Pfalm kviij, lxix. With Zabulon and Nephthalim, which dwelt about their coast.

> 28 As God hath given power to thee. fo Lord make firm and fure, The thing that thou halt wrought in us, for ever to endure.

29 And in thy temple gifts will we give unto thee, O Lord,

For thine unto Jerusalem fure promise made by word.

The fourth part. Yea, and strange kings to us subdu'd shall do like in those days:

I mean to thee they shall present their gifts of laud and praise. 30 He shall destroy the spear-mens ranks, the calves and bulls of might: And cause them tribute pay, and daunt all fuch as love to fight. 31 Then shall the lords of Egypt come, and prefents with them bring

The Moors most black shall stretch their hands unto their Lord and King.

32 Therefore ye kingdoms of the earth, give praise unto the Lord :

Sing pfalms to God with one confent, thereto let all accord.

33 Who though he ride and ever hath above the heavens bright: Yet by the fearful thunderclaps men may well know his might. 34 Therefore the strength of Israel ascribe to God on high,

Whose might and power doth far extend above the cloudy sky.

35 O God, thy holiness and power is dread for evermore:

The God of Ifrael gives us strength, praised be God therefore.

Salvum me fac. Pfal. 69. J. H. Ave me, O God, and that with speed, the waters flow full fast: So nigh my foul do they proceed, that I am fore agast.

2 I stick full deep in mire and clay. whereas I feel no ground:

I fall into fuch flouds, I fay, that I am like be drown'd.

3 With crying oft I faint and quail, my throat is hoarse and dry

With looking up my fight doth fail, for help to God on high.

4 My foes that guiltless do oppress my foul, with hate are led: In number fure they are no less then hairs are on my head. 5 Though for no cause they vex me sore, they prosper and are glad:

They do compel me to restore the things I never had.

6 What

6 What I have done for want of wir, thou, Lord, all times canft tell: And all the faults that I commit to thee are known full well.

O God of holts, defend and ftay all those that truit in thee:
 Let no man doubt or shrink away for ought that chanceth me.
 It is for thee and for thy sake that I do bear this blame:

In spight of thee they would me make to hide my face for shame.

9 My mothers fons, my brethren all forfake me on a row:

And as a stranger they me call, my face they will not know. 10 Unto thy house such zeal I bear, that it doth pine me much:

Their checks and tounts at thee to hear, my very heart doth grutch.

The fecond part.

11 Though I do fast, my flesh to chast, yea, if I weep and mone:
Yet in my teeth this gear is cast, they pass not thereupon.

12 If I for grief and pain of heart in fackcloth use to walk, Then they anon will it pervert, thereof they jest and talk.

13 Both high and low, and all the throng that fit within the gate, They have me ever in their tongue, of me they talk and prate.

The drunkards which in wine deli

14 The drunkards which in wine delight, it is their chief paltime.

To feek which way to work me fright:

To feek which way to work me fpight; of me they fing and rhyme.

15 But thee the while, O Lord, I pray, that when it pleaseth thee, For thy great truth thou wilt alway

For thy great truth thou wilt alway fend down thine aid to me.

Pluck thou my feet out of the mir

16 Pluck thou my feet out of the mire, from drowning do me keep:
From fuch as ow me wrath and ire,

and from the waters deep.

17 Lest with the waves I should be drown'd, and depth my foul devour.

And that the pit should me confound, and shut me in her power.

18 O Lord of holts, to me give ear, as thou art good and kind:

And as thy mercy is most dear, Lord, have me in thy mind.

19 And do not from thy fervant hide nor turn thy face away: I am opprest on every side, in haste give ear, I say.

20 O Lord, unto my soul draw nigh,
the same with aid repose:

Because of their great tyranny, acquit me from my foes.

The third part.

21 That I abide rebuke and shame thou know'st and thou canst tell:

For those that seek and work the same, thou seest them all full well.

22 When they with brags do break my heart, I feek for help anon:

But find no friends to ease my smart, to comfort me not one.

23 But in my meat they gave me gall, too cruel for to think:

And gave me in my thirst withall strong vineger to drink.

24 Lord, turn their table to a snare to take themselves therein:

And when they think full well to fare, then trap them in the gin.

25 And let their eyes be dark and blind, that they may nothing fee:
Bow down their backs, and do them bind, in thraldom for to be.

26 Pour out thy wrath as hot as fire, that it on them may fall:

Let thy displeasure in thine ire take hold upon them all.

27 As deferts dry their house difgrace, their offspring eke expell:

That none thereof possess their place, nor in their tents do dwell.

28 If thou doft strike the man to tame on him they lay full fore:
And if that thou do wound the fame.

they feek to hurt him more.

29 Then let them heap up mischief still,

(figh they are all powers)

(fith they are all pervert)
That of thy favour and good will they never have a part.

30 And rafe them clean out of thy book of life, of hope, of trust:

That for their names they never look in number of the just.

The fourth part.

3 t Though I, O Lord, with wo and grief have been full fore opprest:

Thy help shall give me such relief, that all shall be redrest.

32 That I may give thy Name the praise, and shew it with a song:

I will extol the same always with hearty thanks among.

33 Which is more pleasant unto thee,
(such mind thy grace hath born)

Then either ox or calf can be, that hath both hoof and horn, 34 When simple folk do this behold, it shall rejoyce them sure:

it shall rejoyce them sure:
All ye that seek the Lord, behold, your life for ay shall dure.

Thy works are wonderful indeed. oh who is like to thee!

21 Thou mad'ft me feel affliction fore, and vet thou didft me fave : Yea, thou didft help and me reftore.

and took'ft me from the grave. 22 And thou mine honour dost increase, my dignity maintain : Yea, thou dost make all grief to cease, and comfort'st me again. 23 Therefore thy faithfulness to praise

I will with viol fing : My harp shall found thy praise always,

O Ifraels holy King.

21 My mouth will joy with pleasant voice when I shall fing to thee :

And eke my foul will much rejoyce, for thou hait made me free.

25 My tongue thy uprightness shall found, and foeak it daily fill:

For grief and shame do them confound that feek to work me ill.

Deus, judicium. Pfal. 72. 7. H.

O:d, give thy judgments to the king, therein instruct him well And with his fon that princely thing,

Lord, let thy justice dwell. 2 That he may govern uprightly, and rule thy folk aright: And fo defend through equity the poor that have no might.

3 And let the mountains that are high unto thy folk give peace:

And eke let little hills apply, in juffice to increafe.

4 That he may help the weak and poor with aid, and make them ftrong:

And eke destroy for evermore all those that do them wrong.

5 And then from age to age shall they regard and fear thy might : So long as fun doth shine by day, or else the moon by night. Lord, make the king unto the just like rain to fields new mown:

And like to drops that lay the duft, and fresh the land new sown.

7 The just shall flourish in his time. and all shall be at peace,

Until the moon shall leave to prime, waste, change, and to increase.

3 He shall be Lord of sea and land, from thore to thore throughout : And from the flouds within the land, through all the earth about. The people that in deferts dwell feall kneel to him full thick :

Pfalm lxxij, lxxiij.

And all his enemies that rebell the earth and dust shall lick. 10 The lords of all the illes thereby great gifts to him shall bring : The kings of Saba and Araby give many a costly thing. The fecond part.

II All kings shall seek with one accord in his good grace to stand:

And all the people of the world shall serve him at his hand. 12 For he the needy fort doth fave that unto him do call : And eke the simple folk that have no help of man at all.

13 He taketh pity on the poor that are with need opprest: He doth preserve them evermore.

and bring their fouls to rest. 14 He shall redeem their lives from dread. from fraud, from wrong, from might:

And eke the b'oud that they thall bleed is precious in his fight.

15 But he shall live, and they shall bring to him of Saba's gold :

He shall be honour'd as a king. and daily be extoll'd.

16 The mighty mountains of his land of corn shall bear such throng, That it like cedar-trees shall stand in Libanus full long.

17 Their cities eke foll well shall speed. the fruits thereof shall pass:

In plenty it shall far exceed, and spring as green as grass. 18 For ever they shall praise his Name, while that the fun is light: And think them happy through the fame, all tolk shall bless his might.

19 Praise ye the Lord of holts, and fing to Ifraels God each one:

For he doth every wondrous thing, yea, he himself alone. 20 And bleffed be his holy Name all times eternally: That all the earth may praise the same, amen, amen, fay I.

4. They never fuffer pangs nor grief, as it death should them smite: Their bodies are both stout and strong, and ever in good plight:

5 And free from all adverfity when other men be thent:

And with the rest they take no part of plague or punishment.

6 Therefore presumption doth embrace their necks as doth a chain:

And are even wrapt as in a robe, with rapine and disdain.

7 They are so fed that even for fat their eyes oft-times outstart:

And as for worldly goods, they have more then can wish their heart.

8 Their life is most licentious, boasting much of the wrong Which they have done to simple men, and ever pride among.

The heavens and the living Lord they fpare not to blafpheme:
And prate they do of worldly things,

no weight they do esteem.

10 The people of God oft-times turn back to see their prosp'rous state:

And almost drink the felt-fame cup, and follow the same rate.

The fecond part.

11 How can it be that God, fay they, fhould know or understand These worldly things, sith wicked men helords of Ga and land?

be lords of fea and land?

12 For we may fee how wicked men in riches flill increase,

Bounded well with worldly goods.

Rewarded well with worldly goods, and live in reft and peace.

13 Then why do I from wickedness

my fantasie refrain,
And wash my hands with innocents,

and cleanse my heart in vain?

14 And suffer scourges every day,
as subject to all blame:

And every morning from my youth fustain rebuke and shame?

15 And I had almost faid as they, misliking mine estate: But that I should thy children judge as folk unfortunate.

16 Then I bethought me how I might this matter understand:

But yet the labour was too great for me to take in hand:

17 Until the time I went into thine holy place, and then I understood right perfectly the end of all these men.

18 And namely, how thou fettest them upon a slippery place:

Pfalm lkxiii, lxxiv.

And at thy pleafure and thy will thou doft them all deface.

19 Then all men muse at that strange sight, to see how suddenly They are destroyed dispatched consumed

They are destroy'd, dispatch'd, consum'd, and dead so horribly.

20 Much like a dream when one awakes, fo shall their wealth decay:

Their famous names in all mens fight shall ebb and pass away.

The third part.

21 Yet thus my heart was grieved then,
my mind was much oppreft:

22 So fond was I and ignorant, and in this point a beaft.

23 Yet nevertheless by my right hand thou hold'st me always fast:

24 And with thy counsel dost me guide to glory at the last.

25 What thing is there that I can wish but thee in heaven above? And in the earth there is nothing like thee that I can love.

26 My flesh and eke my heart doth fail, but God doth fail me never:

For of my health God is the strength,
my portion eke for ever.

27 And lo, all fuch as thee for fake thou shalt destroy each one:

And those that trust in any thing faving in thee alone.

28 Therefore will I draw near to God, and ever with him dwell:

In God alone I put my truft, thy wonders I will tell.

In Judea. Pfal. 76. F. H.

To all that now in Jewry dwell
the Lord is clearly known:
His name is great in Ifrael,
a people of his own.

2 At Salem he his tents hath pight, to tarry there a space: In Sion eke he hath delight

In Sion eke he hath delight to make his dwelling-place.

3 And there he brake both shaft and bowe, the sword, the spear, and shield:

And brake the ray to overthrow in battel on the field.

4 Thou art more worthy honour, Lord, more might in thee doth lie,
Then in the trongest of the world.

Then in the throngest of the world, that rob on mountains high.

5 But now the proud are spoil'd through thee, and they are fall'n on sleep:

Through men of war no help can be, themselves they could not keep.

6 At thy rebuke, O Jacobs God, when thou didst them reprove: As half on sleep their chariots stood, no horsemen once did move.

7 For thou art dreadful, Lord, indeed; what man the courage hath

To bide thy fight, and doth not dread when thou art in thy wrath?

8 When thou dost make thy judgements heard from heaven through the ground,

Then all the earth full fore afraid in filence shall be found.

9 And that when thou, O God, doft stand in judgement for to speak,

To lave th' afflicted of the land, on earth that are full weak.

10 The fury that in man doth reign fhall turn unto thy praise:

Hereafter, Lord, do thou restrain their wrath and threats always.

11 Make vows and pay them to our God, ye folk that nigh him be:

Bring gifts all ye that dwell abroad, for dreadful fure is he.

12 For he doth take both life and might from princes great of birth:

And full of terrour is his fight to all the kings on earth.

Voce mea. Pfal. 77. J. H.

With my voice to God do cry with heat and hearty cheer:
My voice to God 1 lift on high,

and he my fuit doth hear.
In time of grief I fought to God,
by night no rest I took:

But stretcht my hands to him abroad, my soul comfort for sook.

When I to think on God intend, my trouble then is more: I ipake, but could not make an end, my breath was stopt so fore.

4 Thou hold'It mine eyes always from reft, that I always awake:

With fear I am so fore opprest, my speech doth me forsake.

5 The days of old in mind I cast, and oft did think upon The times and ages that are past full many years agone.

6 By night my fongs I call to mind, once made thy praise to show:

And with my heart much talk I find, my spirits do search to know.

7 Will God, faid I, at once for all cast off his people thus,

So that henceforth no time he shall be triendly unto us?

8 What? is his goodness clean decay'd for ever and a day?

for ever and a day?
Or is his promise now delay'd,
and doth his truth decay?

And will the Lord our God forget his mercies manifold? Or shall his wrath increase so hot, his mercies to withhold?

10 At last I faid, My weakness is the cause of this mistrust:

Gods mighty hand can help all this,
and change it when he lust.

The Second part.

11 I will regard and think upon the working of the Lord: Of all his wonders paft and gone I gladly will record.

12 Yea, all his works I will declare, and what he did devise: To tell his facts I will not spare, and eke his counsel wise.

13 Thy works, O Lord, are all upright, and holy all abroad:

What one hath strength to match the might of thee, O Lord our God?

14 Thou art a God that dolf foreshow thy wonders every hour: And so dost make the people know thy vertue and thy power.

15 And thine ownfolk thou dost defend with strength and stretched arm,

The fons of Jacob that descend, and Josephs seed from harm. 16 The waters, Lord, perceived thee, the waters faw thee well:

And they for fear away did flee,
the depths on trembling fell.

The clouds that were both thick and black, did rain full plenteously:

The thunder in the air did crack, thy shafts abroad did fly.

D3

18 Thy thunder in the air was heard, thy lightnings from above

With flathes great made men afraid, the earth did quake and move.

19 Thy ways within the fea do lie, thy paths in waters deep:Yet none can there thy steps espy, nor know thy paths to keep.

20 Thou led'It thy tolk upon the land as theep on every fide:

Through Moses and through Aarons hand thou didn't them safely guide.

Attendine, populi. Pfal. 78. 7. H.

Trend my people to my law,
and to my words incline:
My mouth shall speak strange parables, and fentences divine.

3 Which we our felves have heard and learn'd even of our fathers old;

And which for our instruction our fathers have us told.

4 Because we should not keep it close from them that should come after:

Who should Gods power to their race praise, and all his works of wonder.

5 To Jacob he commandment gave how Ifrael should live, Willing our fathers should the same unto their children give.

6 That they and their posterity that were not sprung up tho, Should have the knowledge of the law, and teach their feed alfo.

7 That they might have the better hope in God that is above:

And not forget to keep his laws and his precepts in love.

8 Not being as their fathers were, rebelling in Gods fight:

And would not frame their wicked hearts to know their God aright.

9 How went the people of Ephraim their neighbours for to fpoil:
Shooting their darts the day of war.

Shooting their darts the day of war, and yet they took the foil?

10 For why? they did not keep with God the covenant that was made,

Nor yet would walk or lead their lives according to his trade:

11 But put into oblivion his counsel and his will,

And all his works most magnifick, which he declared still.

The fecond part.

2 What wonders to our forefathers did he himself disclose

In Egypt laud within the field that call'd is Thangos?

13 He did divide and cut the fea, that they might passat once: And made the waters fland as ffill as doth an heap of stones.

14 He led them fecret in a cloud by day when it was bright: And in the night when dark it was, with fire he gave them light.

and gave the people drink:

As plentiful as when the deeps do flow up to the brink.

16 He drew out rivers out of rocks that were both dry and hard, Of fuch abundance, that no flouds

Of such abundance, that no flouds to them might be compar'd.

17 Yet for all this against the Lord their fin they did increase:

And stirred him that is most high to wrath in wilderness.

18 They tempted God within their hearts, like people of mistrust;

Requiring fuch a kind of meat as ferved to their luft:

19 Saying with murmuration in their unfaithfulness, What? can this God prepare for us a feaft in wilderness?

20 Behold, he strake the stony rock, and stouds forthwith did flow: But can be now give to his folk both bread and flesh also?

21 When God heard this, he waxed wroth with Jacob and his feed:

So did his indignation on Ifrael proceed.

The third part.

22 Because they did not taithfully believe, and hope that he Could always help and succour them in their necessity.

23 Wherefore he did command the clouds, forthwith they brake in funder:

24 And rain'd down Manna for them to eat, a food of mickle wonder.

25 When earthly men with angels food were fed at their request,

26 He bade the east-wind blow away, and brought in the fourth-west.

27 He rain'd down flesh as thick as dust, and fowl as thick as fand:

which he did cast amid the place where all their tents did stand.

29 Then did they eat exceedingly, and all men had their fills:

Yet more and more they did defireto ferve their lufts and wills.

30 But as the meat was in their mouths, his wrath upon them fell,

31 And flew the flower of all their youth, and choice of Ifrael.

32 Yet fell they to their wonted fin, and still they did him grieve: For all the wonders that he wrought, they would him not believe.

33 Their days therefore he shortened, and made their honour vain:

Their years did wafte and pass away with terrour and with pain.

34 But ever when he plagued them, they fought him by and by,

35 Remembring that he was their strength, their help, and God most high.

36 Though in their mouths they did but glose and flatter with the Lord:

And with their tongues and in their hearts dissembled every word.

The fourth part.

37 For why? their hearts were nothing bent to him nor to his trade:

Nor yet to keep or to perform the covenant that was made.

38 Yet was he still so merciful, when they deserv'd to die,

That he forgave them their mildeeds, and would not them destroy.

Yea, many a time he turn'd his wrath, and did himself advile:

And would not fuffer all his whole displeasure to arise.

39 Confidering that they were but flelh, and even as a wind

That passeth away, and cannot well return by his own kind.

40 How oftentimes in wilderness did they the Lord provoke!
How did they move and stir the Lord to plague them with his stroke!

to plague them with his stroke!

41 Yet did they turn again to sin,
and tempted God estsoon,

Prescribing to the holy Lord what things they would have done.

42 Not thinking of his hand and power, nor of the day when he Delivered them out of the hands of the fierce enemy.

Nor how he wrought his miracles
(as they themselves beheld)

In Egypt, and the wonders that he did in Zoan field.

44 Nor how he turned by his power their waters into bloud:

That no man might receive his drink at river, nor at floud.

45 Nor how he fent them swarms of flies, which did them fore annoy:
And fill'd their countrey full of frogs,

And fill'd their countrey full of frogs, which did their land deftroy.

The fifth part.

46 Nor how he did commit their fruits unto the caterpiller:

And all the labour of their hands he gave to the grashopper.

47 With hailstones he destroy'd their vines, fo that they were all lost:

And not fo much as wild fig-trees, but he confum'd with frost.

48 And yet with hailstones once again the Lord their cattel smote,

And all their flocks and herds likewise with thunder-bolts full hot.

49 He cast upon them in his ire and in his sury strong,

Displeasure, wrath, and evil spirits, to trouble them among.

50 Then to his wrath he made a way,and spared not the least:

But gave unto the pestilence the man and eke the beast.

51 He strake also the first-born all that up in Egypt came:And all the chief of men and beasts within the tents of Ham.

52 But as for all his own dear folk,
he did preferve and keep:
And carried them through wilderness,

And carried them through wilderness, even like a flock of sheep.

53 Without all fear both fafe and found he brought them out of thrall: Whereas their foes with rage of feas were overwhelmed all.

54 And brought them out into the coasts of his own holy land,

Even to the mount which he had got by his strong arm and hand.

55 And there cast out the heathen folk, and did their land divide:

And in their tents he set the tribes of Israel to abide.

56 Yet for all this, their God most high they stirr'd and tempted still,

And would not keep his testament, nor yet obey his will.

57 But as their fathers turned back, even so they went altray,

Much like a bowe that would not bend, but slip and start away.

The fixth part.

58 And griev'd him with their hill-altars, with off'rings and with fire:

And with their idols vehemently provoked him to ire.

59 Therewith his wrath began again to kindle in his brest:

The naughtiness of Israel he did so much detest.

60 Then he for fook the tabernacle of Silo, where he was Right conversant with earthly men, even as his dwelling-place.

61 Then

Thus are we made a laughing flock almost the world throughout :

To shew thy power do thou begin;

4 Direct

come help us, Lord, arife.

4 Direct our hearts unto thy grace. convert us, Lord, to thee : Shew us the brightness of thy face, and then full fafe are we.

Lord God of hofts of Ifrael. how long wilt thou (I fay)

Against thy tolk in anger swell, and wilt not hear them pray?

Thou dolt them feed with forrows deep, their bread with tears they eat, And drink the tears that they do weep, in measure full and great.

Thou halt us made a very strife to those that dwell about :

And that our foes do love a life, they laugh and jest it out.

8 O take us, Lord, unto thy grace, convert our hearts to thee: Shew forth to us thy joyful face, and we full fate shall be.

9 From Egypt where it grew not well thou brought'it a vine full dear : The heathen folk thou didft expell, and thou didst plant it there. 10 Thou didlt prepare for it a place, and fet her roots tull falt :

That it did grow and spring apace, and fill'd the land at laft.

The fecond part.

II The hills were covered round about with shade that from it came, And eke the cedars strong and stout, with branches of the same. 12 Why then didft thou her walls deftroy?

her hedge pluckt up thou halt : That all the folk that pass thereby thy vine may spoil and waste.

13 The boar out of the wood fo wild doth dig and root it out : The furious beafts out of the field devour it all about.

14 O Lord of hofts, return again, from heaven look betime: Behold, and with thy help sustain this poor vineyard of thine. 15 Thy plant, I fay, thine Ifrael, whom thy right hand hath fet :

The same which thou didst love so well, O Lord, do not forget. 16 They lop and cut it down apace, they burn it eke with fire: And through the frowning of thy face we perish in thine ire.

17 Let thy right hand be with them now . whom thou haft kept fo long:

And with the Son of man whom thou . to thee halt made fo ftrong.

18 And fo when thou hast fet us free, and faved us from fhame :

Then will we never fall from thee. but call upon thy Name.

19 O Lord of hofts, through thy good grace convert us unto thee:

Behold us with a pleafant face, and then full fate are we.

2 Prepare your instruments most meet. fome joyful pfalm to fing :

Strike up with harp and lute fo fweet, on every pleasant string.

3 Blow as it were in the new-moon, with trumpets of the best:

As it is used to be done at any folemn featt.

4 For this is unto Ifrael a statute and a trade:

A law that must be kept full well, which Jacobs God hath made.

5 This clause with Joseph was decreed when he from Egypt came, That as a witness all his feed should still observe the same. 6 When God, I fay, had fo prepar'd to bring him from that land : Whereas the fpeech which he had heardhe did not understand.

7 I from his shoulders took (faith he) the burden clean away :

And from the furnace quit him free from burning brick of clay.

8 When thou in grief didit cry and call, I holp thee by and by:

And I did answer thee withall in thunder fecretly.

9 Yea, at the waters of discord I did thee tempt and prove: Whereas the goodness of the Lord with mutt'ring thou didft move.

10 Hear, O my tolk, O Hrael, and I affure it thee :

Regard and mark my words full well, if thou wilt cleave to me.

The second part. TI Thou shalt no god in thee referve of any land abroad:

Nor in no wife to bow or ferve a strange or forein god.

12 I am the Lord thy God, and I from Egypt set thee free: Then ask of me abundantly, and I will give it thee.

13 And yet my people would not hear my voice when that I spake : Nor Ifrael would not obey but did me quite forfake.

14 Then

14 Then did I leave them to their will, in hardness of their heart:

To walk in their own soundels full

To walk in their own counsels still, themselves they might pervert.

15 O that my people would have heard the words that I did fay:

And eke that Ifrael would regard to walk within my way!

16 How foon would I confound their foes, and bring them down full low:

And turn my hand upon all those that would them overthrow!

17 And they that at the Lord do rage, as flaves should feek him till: But of his folk the time and age should flourish ever still.

18 I would have fed them with the crop and finest of the wheat:

And made the rock with honey drop, that they their fills should eat.

Mid the press with men of might the Lord himself doth stand,
To plead the cause of truth and right,
with judges of the land.

2 How long, faid he, will you proceed false judgement to award,

And have respect for love of meed the wicked to regard?

3 Whereas of due you should defend the fatherless and weak,

And when the poor man doth contend, in judgement justly speak.

4 If ye be wife, defend the cause of poor men in their right:
And rid the needy from the claws of tyrants force and might.

5 But nothing will they know or learn, in vain to them I talk:

They will not fee or ought difcern, but still in darkness walk.

6 For lo, even now the time is come that all things fall to nought:

And likewife laws both all and fome for gain are fold and bought.

I had decreed it in my fight as gods to take you all:

And children to the most of might for love I did you call.

7 But notwithstanding ye shall die as men, and so decay:

O tyrants, I shall you destroy, and pluck you quite away.

And those that bear an hate to thee hold up their heads on high.

3 Against thy folk they use deceit, and crast'ly they enquire:

For thine elect to lie in wait their counsel doth conspire.

4 Come on, fay they, let us expell and pluck these folk away:

So that the name of Ifrael may utterly decay.

the mountains and the hills:

15 So let the tempest of thy wrath upon their necks be laid:

And of thy stormy wind and showre,

Lord, make them all afraid.

As they go through the vale of tears, they dig up fountains still;

That as a spring it all appears, and thou their pits dost fill.

7 From firength to strength they walk full fast, no faintness there shall be:

And so the God of gods at last in Sion they do see.

8 O Lord of hofts, to me give heed, and hear when I do pray:

And let it through thine ears proceed,

O Jacobs God, I fay.

9 O Lord our fhield, of thy good grace regard, and so draw near:

Regard, 1 fay, behold the face, of thine anointed dear.

is better to abide,

Then other-where to keep or flay a thousand days beside.

Much rather would I keep a door : wit hin the house of God,

Then in the tents of wickedness to settle mine abode.

11 For God the Lord, light and defence, will grace and worfnip give:
And no good thing will he withhold from them that purely live.

12 O Lord of hofts, that man is bleft and happy fure is he,

That is periwaded in his breft to trult all times in thee.

Benedixifti. Pfal. 85. 7. H.

Thou hast been merciful indeed, O Lord, unto thy land:
For thou restored I Jacobs seed from thraldom out of band.

2 The wicked ways that they were in, thou didft them clean remit: And thou didft hide thy peoples fin.

And thou didft hide thy peoples fin, full close thou coveredft it.

3 Thine anger eke thou didft affwage, that all thy wrath was gone: And fo didft turn thee from thy rage, with them to be at one.

4 O God our health, do now convert thy people unto thee:

Put all thy wrath from us apart, and angry cease to be.

5 Why, shall thine anger never end, but still proceed on us?

And shall thy wrath it self extend upon all ages thus?

Wilt thou not rather turn therefore and quicken us, that we

And all thy folk may evermore be glad and joy in thee?

7 O Lord, on us do thou declare thy goodness to our wealth:
Shew forth to us, and do not four

Shew forth to us, and do not fpare, thine aid and faving health.

8 I will heark what God faith, for he fpeaks to his people peace, And to his faints, that never they return to foolithness.

9 For why? his help is still at hand to such as do him fear:

Whereby great glory in our land fhall dwell and flourish there.

10 For truth and mercy there shall meet, in one to take their place:

And peace shall justice with kiss greet, and there they shall embrace.

As truth from earth shall spring apace, and flourish pleasantly:

So righteousness shall shew her face, and look from heaven high.

12 Yea, Cod himfelt doth take in hand to give us each good thing:

And through the coasts of all the land the earth her fruit shall bring.

1; Before

13 Before his face shall justice go much like a guide or stay: He shall direct his steps also, and keep them in the way.

Inclina, Domine. Plal. 86. J. H.

Ord, bow thine ear to my request, and hear me by and by:
With grievous pain and grief opprest, full poor and weak am I.

2 Preferre my foul, because my ways and doings holy be:

And fave thy fervant, O my Lord, that puts his trult in thee.

3 Thy mercy, Lord, on me express, detend me eke withall:

For through the day I do not cease on thee to cry and call.

4 Comfort, O Lord, thy fervants foul that now with pain is pin'd:

For unto thee, Lord, Textoll and lift my foul and mind.

5 For thou art good and bountiful, thy gifts of grace are free:

And eke thy mercy plentiful to all that call on thee.

6 O Lord, likewise when I do pray, regard and give an ear:

Mark well the words that I do fay, and all my prayers hear.

7 In time when trouble doth me move, to thee I do complain:

For why? I know and well do prove thou answerest me again.

8 Among the gods, O Lord, is none with thee to be compar'd:

And none can do as thou alone, the like hath not been heard.

The Gentiles and the people all which thou didlt make and trame,

Before thy face on knees shall fall and glorifie thy Name.

19 For why? thou art so much of might, all power is thine own: Thou workest wonders still insight, for thou art God alone.

II O teach me, Lord, thy way, and I fhall in thy truth proceed:

O joyn my heart to thee fo nighthat I thy Name may dread.

for ever through the world.

12 To thee my God will I give praise with all my heart, O Lord: And glorifie thy Name always r; For why? thy mercy shew'd to me is great, and doth excell:

Thou sett'st my foul at liberty out from the lower hell.

14 O Lord, the proud against me rise, and heaps of men of might:

They leek my loul, and in no wife will have thee in their fight.

15 Thou, Lord, art merciful and meek, full flack and flow to wrath: Thy goodness is full great, and eke thy truth no measure hath.

16 O turn to me, and mercy grant, thy strength to me apply:

O help and fave thine own fervant, thy hand-maids fon am I.

17 On me fome fign of favour fhow, that all my foes may fee And be asham'd, because, Lord, thou dost help and comfort me.

Fundamenta. Pfal. 87. F. H.

Hat city shall full well endure, her ground-work still doth stay

Upon the holy hills full fure, it can no time decay.

2 God loves the gates of Sion best, his grace doth there abide: He loves them more then all the rest of Jacobs tents befide.

3 Full glorious things reported be Great things, I fay, are faid of thee, thou city of our God.

4 On Rahab I will calt an eye, and bear in mind the fame: And Babylon shall eke apply

And Babylon shall eke apply and learn to know my Name.

5 Lo, Palestine and Tyre also, with Ethiope likewise, A people old, full long ago were born, and there did rife.

6 Of Sion they shall fay abroad,

Have there forung up, and the high God hath founded faft the fame.

7 In their records to them it shall through Gods device appear,

Of Sion, that the chief of all had his beginning there.

8 The trumpeters with fuch as fing, there in great plenty be:
My fountains and my pleafant fprings are compast all in thee.

Domine Deus. Pfal. 88. 7. H.

Ord God of health, the hope and stay thou art alone to me:

1 call and cry throughout the day and all the night to thee.

2 O let my prayer foon afcend unto thy fight on high: Incline thine ear, O Lord, attend-and hearken to my cry.

3 For why? with wo my heart is fill'd, and doth in trouble dwell:

My life and breath almost doth yield, and draweth nigh to hell.

4 I

4 I am esteem'd as one of them that in the pit do fall:

And made as one among those men that have no strength at all.

5 As one among the dead, and free from things that here remain:

It were more ease for me to be with them the which are slain:

6 As those that lie in grave, I say, whom thou hast clean forgot:

The which thy hand hath cut away, and thou regard'it them not.

7 Yea, like to one shut up full sure within the lower pit,

In places dark and all obscure, and in the depth of it.

8 Thine anger and thy wrath likewise full fore on me doth lie:

And all thy storms against me rise, my foul to vex and try.

9 Thou putt'll my friends far off from me, and mak'll them hate me fore:

I am thut up in prison fast, and can come forth no more.

10 My fight doth fail through grief and wo, I call to thee, O God:

Throughout the day my hands also to thee I stretch abroad.

The fecond part.

11 Doft thou unto the dead declare thy wondrous works of fame? Shall dead to life again repair, and praise thee for the same?

12 Or thall thy loving kindness, Lord, be preached in the grave?
Or thall with them that are destroy'd thy truth her honour have?

13 Shall they that lie in dark full low of all thy wonders wot?

Or there shall they thy justice know where all things are forgot?

do cry and call apace:

My prayer eke e're it be day shall come before thy face.

15 Why dost thou, Lord, abhor my foul, in grief that feeketh thee?

And now, O Lord, why doft thou hide thy face away from me?

from youth this many a year:

The terrours which do vex me ill with troubled mind I bear.

17 The furies of thy wrathful rage full fore upon me tall:

Thy terrours eke do not asswage, but me oppress withall.

18 All day they compais me about, as water at the tide:

Pfalm lxxxix.

And all at once with streams full stout beset me on each side.

19 Thou fettest far from me my friends and lovers every one:

Yea, and mine old acquaintance all out of my fight are gone.

Mifericordies. Pfal. 89. 7. H.

To fing the mercies of the Lord
my tongue shall never spare:
And with my mouth from age to age
thy truth I will declare.

2 For I have faid, that mercy shall for evermore remain:

In that thou dost the heavens stay, thy truth appeareth plain.

3 To mine elect, faith God, I made a covenant and beheft:

My fervant David to perswade, I swore and did protest:

4 Thy feed for ever I will flay, and flablish it full fast:

And still uphold thy throne alway from age to age to last.

5 The heavens shew with joy and mirth thy wondrous works, O Lord:

Thy faints within thy Church on earth thy faith and truth record.

6 Who with the Lord is equal then in all the clouds abroad?
Among the fons of all the gods,

what one is like our God?

7 God in affembly of the faints is greatly to be dread:And over all that dwell about in terrour to be had.

8 Lord God ofhofts, in all the world:

what one is like to thee?
On every fide, most mighty Lord, thy truth is feen to be.

The raging Sea by thine advice thou rule!t at thy will:

And when the waves thereof arise, thou mak'st them calm and still.

10 And Egypt, Lord, thou haft fubdu'd, and thou haft it deftroy'd:

Yea, thou thy foes with mighty arm hast scatt'red all abroad.

The fecond part.

It The heavens are thine and still have been likewise the earth and land:

The world and all that is therein thou foundedst with thy hand.

12 Both north and fouth, with east and wester thy self didst make and frame:

Both Tabor mount, and eke Hermon, rejoyce and praise thy Name.

13 Thine arm is frong and full of power, all might therein doth lie:

The strength of thy right hand each hour thou littest up on high.

IA IN

14 In righteoulies and equity thou hast thy seat and place:
Mercy and truth are still with thee, and go before thy face.

thy present power, O God:

For in the favour of thy fight they walk full fafe abroad.

16 For in thy Name throughout the day they joy and much rejoyce:

And through thy righteousness have they a pleasant same and noite.

17 For why? their glory, strength, and aid in thee alone doth lie:

Thy goodness eke that hath us staid, shall lift our horn on high.

18 Our strength that doth defend us well the Lord to us doth bring:

The holy One of Ifrael he is our Guide and King.

19 Sometimes thy will unto thy faints in visions thou didft show:

And thus then didst thou say to them, thy mind to make them know:

thy mind to make them know:
20 A man of might I have erect,
your king and guide to be:
And fet him up whom I elect among the folk to me.

The third part.

21 My fervant David I appoint, whom I have fearched out: And with mine holy oyl anoint him king of all the rout.

22 For why? my hand is ready still with him for to remain:

And with mine arm also I will him strengthen and sustain.

23 The enemies shall not him oppress, they shall him not devour:

Ne yet the fons of wickedness on him shall have no power: 24 His foes likewise I will destroy before his face in fight:

And those that hate him I will plague, and strike them with my might.

25 My truth and mercy eke withall fhall ftill upon him lie:

And in my Name his horn eke fhall be lifted up on high.

26 His kingdom I will fet to be upon the fea and land:

And eke the running flouds shall he embrace with his right hand.

27 He shall depend with all his heart on me, and thus shall say, My Father and my God thou art, iny rock of health and stay.

28 As my first-born I will him take of all on earth that springs:

His might and honour I will make above all earthly kings.

29 My mercy shall be with him still, as I my self have told:

My faithful covenant to fulfill my mercy I will hold.

30 And eke his feed I will fustain for ever strong and fure:

So that his feat shall still remain while heaven doth endure.

The fourth part.

and fo begin to fwerve:

And of my judgments have none aw,
nor will not them observe:

32 Or if they do not use aright my statutes to them made,

And fet all my commandments light, and will not keep my trade:

33 Then with the rod will I begin their doings to amend:

And so with scourging for their sin, if that they do offend.

34 My mercy yet and my goodness I will not take him fro:

Nor handle him with craftiness, and so my truth forgo.

35 But fure my covenant I will hold, with all that I have spoke:

No word the which my lips have told fhall alter or be broke.

36 Once fware I by my holinefs, and that perform will I:

With David I shall keep promise, to him I will not lie.

37 His feed for evermore shall reign, and eke his throne of might:

As doth the fun, it shall remain for ever in my fight.

38 And as the moon within the sky for ever standeth fast

A faithful witness from on high, fo shall his kingdom last.

39 But now, O Lord, thou dost reject, and now thou changest cheer:

Yea, thou art wroth with thine elect, thine own anointed dear.

40 The covenant with thy fervant made, Lord, thou hast quite undone:

And down upon the ground also hast cast his royal crown.

The fifth part.

41 Thou pluck'ft his hedges up with might,
his walls thou doft contound:

Thou heatest eke his bulwarks down, and break'st them to the ground.

42 That he is fore destroy'd and torn of comers by throughout:

And fo is made a mock and forn to all that dwell about.

43 Thou

43 Thou their right hand hait lifted up,

And all his foes that him devour, lo, thou half made to joy.

44 His fwords edge thou doft take away, that should his toes withstand:

To him in war no victory thou giv'st, nor upper hand.

45 His glory thou dost also waste, his throne, his joy, his mirth By thee is overthrown, and cast full low upon the earth.

45 Thou haft cut off and made full fhort his youth and lufty days:

And rais'd of him an ill report with sharne and great dispraise.

47 How long away from me, O Lord, for ever wilt thou turn?

And shall thine anger still alway as fire consume and burn?

48 O call to mind, remember then, my time confumeth falt:

Why half thou made the fons of men as things in vain to waste?

49 What man is he that liveth here, and death shall never see?

Or from the hand of hell his foul fhall he deliver free?

50 Where is, O Lord, thine own goodness to oft declar'd beforn,

Which by thy truthand uprightness to David thou hast fworn?

51 The great rebukes to mind I call that on thy fervants lie:

The railings of the people all both in my breatt have I,

52 Wherewith, O Lord, thine enemies blaspemed have thy Name:

The theps of thine anointed one they cease not to defame.

53 All praise to thee, O Lord of hosts, both now and eke for ay:

Through sky and earth, and all the coasts, amen, amen, I say.

Domine, refugium. Pfal. 90. f. H.

Hou, Lord, hast been our sure desence, our place of ease and rest In all times past, yea so long since as cannot be exprest.

2 E're there was made mountain or hill the parth and world about.

the earth and world abroad:
From age to age, and always still for ever thou art God.

3 Thou grindest man through grief and pain to dust or clay, and then.

to duft or clay, and then,
And then thou lay'ft again, Return again ye fons of men.

The lafting of a thousand years, what is it in thy fight?

As yellerday it doth appear, or as a watch by night.

5 So foon as thou doft featter them, then is their life and trade All as a fleep, and like the grafs whose beauty foon doth fade:

6 Which in the morning shines full bright, but sadeth by and by:

And is cut down e're it be night, all withered, dead, and dry.

7 For through thine anger we consume, our might is much decay'd:

And of thy fervent wrath and fume we are full fore afraid.

8 The wicked works that we have wrought thou fett'ff before thine eye:

Our privy faults, yea, eke our thoughts thy countenance doth fpy.

9 For through thy wrath our days do waste, thereof doth nought remain:

Our years confume as words or blafts, and are not call'd again.

10 Our time is three core years and ten that we do live on mold:

If one fee fourfcore, furely then we count him wondrous old.

The fecond part.

11 Yet of this time the strength and chief the which we count upon,

Is nothing else but painful grief, and we as blafts are gone.

12 Who once doth know what firength is there, what might thine anger hath?

Or in his heart who doth thee fear according to thy wrath?

13 Instruct us, Lord, to know and try how long our days remain:

That then we may our hearts apply true wildom to attain.

14 Return, O Lord, how long wilt thou forth on in wrath proceed?

Shew favour to thy fervants now, and help them at their need.

15 Refresh us with thy mercy soon, and then our joy shall be,

All times fo long as life doth laft, in heart rejoyce will we.

16 As thou half plagued us before, now also make us glad:
And for the years wherein full fore

And for the years wherein full fore affliction we have had.

ond on thy fervants light:

And shew unto thy children dearthy glory and thy might.

18 Lord, let thy grace and glory fland on us thy fervants thus:

Confirm the works we take in hand, Lord, prosper them to us.

Qui habitat. Pfal. 91. 7. H.

HE that within the fecret place of God most high doth dwell: In thadow of the Mightiest grace at rest shall keep him well.

2 Thou art my hope and my ftrong hold,

I to the Lord will fay,
My Cod is he, in him will I my whole affiance flay.

3 He shall defend thee from the snare the which the hunter laid:

And from the deadty plague and care whereof thou art alraid:

4 And with his wings shall cover thee and keep thee safely there: His faith and truth thy sence shall be

His faith and truth thy fence shall be, as fure as shield and spear.

5 So that thou shalt not need, I say, to fear or be affright

Of all the shafts that fly by day, nor terrours of the night:

Nor of the plague that privily doth walk in dark fo falt:

Nor yet of that which doth destroy and at noon-day doth waste.

7 Yea, at thy fide as thou dost stand a thousand dead shall be:

Ten thousand eke at thy right hand, and yet shalt thou be free.

8 But thou shalt fee it for thy part, thine eyes shall well regard, That even like to their desert the wicked have reward.

9 For why? O Lord, I onely lust to stay my hope on thee:

And in the High'st I put my trust, my fure detence is he.

10 Thou shalt not need none ill to sear, with thee it shall not mell:

Nor yet the plague shall once come near the house where thou dost dwell.

II For why? unto his ange!s all with charge commanded he, That fill in all thy ways they shall preserve and prosper thee:

12 And in their hands shall bear thee up.
ftill waiting thee upon:

So that thy foot shall never chance to spurn at any stone.

13 Upon the lions thou shalt go, the adder fell and long:

And tread upon the lions young, with dragons flout and ilrong.

14 For he that trufteth unto me, I will dispatch him quite: And him desend, because that he doth know my Name aright.

15 When he for help on me doth cry, an answer I will give: And from his grief take him will I in glory for to live.

16 With length of years and days of wealth
I will fulfil his time:

The goodness of my faving health I will declare to him.

Bonum eft. Pfal. 92. 7. H.

T is a thing both good and meet to praise the highest Lord: And to thy Name, O thou most High, to sing with one accord:

2 To thew the kindness of the Lord, betime e're day be light:

And eke declare his truth abroad when it doth draw to night.

3 Upon ten-stringed instruments, on lute and harp so sweet: With all the mirth you can invent of instruments most meet.

4 For thou haft made me to rejoyce in things fo wrought by thee:

And I have joy in heart and voice thy handy-works to fee.

5 O Lord, how glorious and how great are all thy works fo flout!

So deeply are thy confels fet that none can try them out.

6 The man unwife hath not the wit this gear to pass to bring: And all such fools are nothing fit

And all fuch fools are nothing fit to understand this thing.

7 When so the wicked at their will as grass do spring full fast, They when they flourish in their ill for ever shall be waste.

8 But thou art mighty, Lord most high, yea thou dost reign therefore

In every time eternally, both now and evermore.

9 For why? O Lord, behold and fee, behold thy foes, I fay,

How all that work iniquity fhall perish and decay.

10 But thou, like as an unicorn, shalt lift mine horn on high:
With fresh and new prepared oyl thine ointed king am I:

11 And of my foes before mine eyes

Thall fee the fall and fhame:

Of all that up against me rife,

mine ears shall hear the same.

The just shall flourish up on high as date-trees bud and blow:

And as the cedars multiply in Libanus that grow.

13 For they are planted in the place and dwelling of our God: Within his courts they spring apace, and flourish all abroad.

14 And

14 And in their age much fruit shall bring both fat and well beseen:

And pleasantly both bud and spring with boughs and branches green.

15 To flew that God is good and just, and upright in his will: He is my rock, my hope, and trust.

He is my rock, my hope, and trust, in him there is none ill.

Dominus regnavit. Pfal. 93. f. H.

The Lord as king aloft doth reign, with glory goodly dight:
And he to shew his strength and main, hath girt himself with might.

2 The Lord likewise the earth hath made and shaped it so fure,

No might can make it move or fade; at flay it doth endure.

3 E're that the world was made or wrought, thy seat was set before:

Beyond all time that can be thought, thou hast been evermore.

4 The flouds, O Lord, the flouds do rife, they roar and make a noise: The flouds (I say) did enterprise, and lifted up their voice.

5 Yea, though the storms arise in sight, though seas do rage and swell:

The Lord is strong and more of might, for he on high doth dwell.

6 And look what promise he doth make his houshold to defend:

For just and true they shall it take, all times without an end.

Deus ultionum. Pfal. 94. 7. H.

Lord, thou dost revenge all wrong,
that office 'longs to thee:
Sith vengeance doth to thee belong, declare that all may fee.

2 Set forth thy felf, for thou of right the earth dost judge and guide:

Reward the proud and men of might according to their pride.

3 How long shall wicked men bear sway with lifting up their voice? How long shall wicked men, I say, thus triumph and rejoyce?

4 How long shall they with brags burst out and proudly prate their fi!!?

Shall they rejoyce that be fo fout, whose works are ever ill?

5 Thy flock, O Lord, thine heritage they spoil and vex full fore: Against thy people they do rage

Itill daily more and more.

6 The widows which are comfortless, and trangers they destroy:

and ftrangers they deftroy:
They flay the children fatherless, and none doth put them by.

7 And when they take these things in hand, this talk they have of thee, Can Jacobs God this understand? tulh no, he cannot see.

8 O folk unwife and people rude, fome knowledge now differn: Ye fools among the multitude, at length begin to learn.

The Lord which made the ear of man, he needs of right must hear:

He made the eye, all things must then before his sight appear.

10 The Lord doth all the world correct, and make them understand:

Shall he not then your deeds detect? how can ye scape his hand?

The second part.

11 The Lord doth know the thoughts of man, his heart he feeth full plain: The Lord (I fay) mans thoughts doth fean, and findeth them but vain.

12 But, Lord, that man is happy fure whom thou doft keep in aw,

And through correction dost procure to teach him in thy law.

13 Whereby he shall in quiet rest in time of trouble sit:

When wicked men shall be supprest, and fall into the pit.

14 For fure the Lord will not refuse his people for to take:

His heritage whom he did chuse he will no time forsake.

to justice to convert:

That all may follow her with speed that are of upright heart.

16 But who upon my part shall stand against the curfed train?

Or who shall rid me from their hand that wicked works maintain?

17 Except the Lord had been mine aid, mine enemies to repell:

My foul and life had now been laid almost as low as hell.

18 When I did fay, My foot did slide, I now am like to fall:

Thy goodness, Lord, did so provide to stay me up withall.

19 When with my felf I mused much, and could no comfort find:

Then Lord thy goodness did me touch, and that did ease my mind.

20 Wilt thou inhaunt thy felf, and draw with wicked men to fit:

Which with pretence instead of law much mischief do commit?

21 For they confult against the life of righteous men and good:

And in their counsels they are rife to shed the guiltless bloud.

22 But a ftrong defence, or lock:

He is my God, to him I flee,
he is my ftrength and rock.

23 And he shall cause their mischiefs all themselves for to annoy:
And in their malice they shall fall,

our God shall them destroy.

Onnie exultemus, Pfal. 95. 7. H.
Come let us life up our voice and fing unto the Lord:
In him our rock of health rejoyce ler us with one accord.

2 Yea, let us come before his faceto give him thanks and praise:

In finging ptalms unto his grace leves be glad always.

3 For why? the Lord he is no doubt.

A King above all gods throughout, in all the world abroad.

4 The fecrets of the earth fo deep, and corners of the land. The tops of hills that are so steep, he hath them in his hand.

5 The fea and waters all are his, too be the form both wrought.

for he the fame hath wrought:
The earth and all that therein is his hand liath made of nought.

6 Come let us bow and praise the Lord, before him let us fall:

And kneel to him with one accord the which hath made us all.

7 For why? he is the Lord our God, for us he doth provide:

We are his flock, he doth us feed; his fleep, and he our Guide. 8 To day if ye his voice will hear,

then harden not your heart:
As ye with grudging many a year
provok'd me in defert.

Whereas your fathers tempted me, my power for to prove:

My wondrous works when they did fee, yet full they would me move.

Twice twenty years they did me grieve, and I to them did fay,

They err in heart, and not believe, they have not known my way.

us kindled in my breft,

That they thould never tread the path to enter in my reft.

Contate Donano. Pfal. 96. J. H.

Sing ye with praise unto the Lord
new fongs with joy and mirth:
Sing unto him with one accord,
all people on the earth.

2 Yea, fing unto the Lord. I fay, praise ye his holy Name: Declare and thew from day to day falvation by the fame.

3 Among the heathen eke declare his honour round about: To shew his wonders do not spare in all the world throughout.

For why? the Lord is much of might, and worthy praise alway:

And he is to be dread of right, above all gods, I fay.

5 For all the gods of heathen folk are idols that will fade:

But yet our God he is the Lord that hath the heavens made.

6 All praise and honour eke do dwell for ay before his face:
Both power and might likewise excell within his holy place.

7 Afcribe unto the Lord alway.

ye people of the world,
All might and worship eke, I say, ascribe unto the Lord.

8 Aftribe unto the Lord alfothe glory of his Name: And eke into his courts do go with gifts unto the fame.

The fecond part.

9 Fall down and worthip ye the Lord within his temple bright:

Let all the people of the world be fearful at his fight.

to Tell all the world, Be not agast, the Lord doth reign above: Yea, he hath fet the earth so fast, that it can never move:

11 And that it is the Lord alone that rules with princely might, To judge the nations every one with equity and right.

12 The heavens shall great joy begin,
the earth eke shall rejoyce:
The sea with all that is therein thall thout and make a noife.

13 The field shall joy, and every thing that springeth on the earth: The wood and every tree shall sing with gladness and with mirth,

14 Before the prefence of the Lord, and coming of his might: When he shall justly judge the world, and rule his tolk with right.

Dominus requireit. Pfal. 97. J. H.

The Lord doth reign, whereat the earth may joy with pleafant voice:
And eke the illes with joyful mirth may triumph and rejoyce.

Both clouds and darkne's eke do fwell, and round about him beat:

Yea, right and justice ever dwell and bide about his feat-

3 Yea,

3 Yea, fire and heat at once do run, and go before his face: Which shall his foes and enemies burn abroad in every place.

4 His lightnings eke full bright did blaze, and to the world appear:

Whereat the earth did look and gaze with dread and deadly fear.

5 The hills like wax did melt in fight and prefence of the Lord:

They fled before that Rulers might, which guideth all the world.

6 The heavens eke declare and show his justice forth abroad,

That all the world may fee and know the glory of our God.

7 Confusion sure shall come to such as worthip idols vain:

And eke to those that glory much dumb pictures to maintain.

8 For all the idols of the world, which they as gods do call, Shall feel the power of the Lord, and down to him shall fall.

With joy shall Sion hear this thing, and Juda shall rejoyce:

For at thy judgments they shall fing, and make a pleafant noise.

to That thou, O Lord, art fet on high in all the earth abroad:

And art exalted wondroufly above each other god.

11 All ye that love the Lord do this, hate all things that are ill: For he doth keep the fouls of his from such as would them spill.

12 And light doth spring up to the just, with pleasure for his part:

Great joy with gladness, mirth and lust, to them of upright heart.

13 Ye righteous in the Lord rejoyce, his holinefs proclaim:Be thankful eke with heart and voice, and mindful of the fame.

Cantate Domino. Pfal. 98. 7. H.

O sing ye now unto the Lord a new and pleafant fong:

For he hath wrought throughout the world his wonders great and strong.

2 With his right hand full worthily he doth his foes devour,

And get himself the victory with his own arm and power.

3 The Lord doth make the people know his faving health and might:
The Lord doth eke his justice show in all the heathens fight.

4 His grace and truth to Ifrael in mind he doth record:

That all the earth hath feen right well the goodness of the Lord.

5 Re glad in him with joyful voice, all people of the earth:

Give thanks to God, fing and rejoyce to him with joy and mirth.

6 Upon the harp unto him fing,

Rejoyce before the Lord our King with trumpets and with shalms.

Yea, let the fea with all therein for joy both roar and swell:

The earth likewise let it begin, with all that therein dwell.

8 And let the flouds rejoyce their fills, and clap their hands apace: And eke the mountains and the hills, before the Lord his face.

For he shall come to judge and try the world and every wight:

And rule the people mightily with justice and with right.

Dominus regnavit. Psal. 99. 7. H.

The Lord doth reign, although at it the people rage full fore:

Yea, he on cherubins doth fit, though all the world do roar.

2 The Lord that doth in Sion dwell is high and wondrous great:
Above all folk he doth excell.

Above all folk he doth excell, and he aloft is fer.

3 Let all men praise thy mighty Name, for it is tearful fure:

And let them magnifie the fame, that holy is and pure.

4 The princely power of our King doth love judgment and right: Thou rightly ruleft every thing in Jacob, through thy might.

To praise the Lord our God devise,
all honour to him do:

Before his footstool worship him, for he is holy too.

6 Moses, Aaron, and Samuel as priests on him did call:

When they did pray he heard them well, and gave them answer all.

7 Within the cloud to them he spake, then did they labour sii. 1

To keep fuch laws as he did make, and pointed them untill.

8 O Lord our God, thou didft them hear, and answeredst them again:

Thy mercy did on them appear, their deeds didst not maintain.

9 O laud and praise our God and Lord within his holy hill:

For why? our God throughout the world is holy ever till.

A Ll people that on earth do dwell, fing to the Lord with cheerful voice:

2 Him ferve with tear, his praife forth tell: come ye before him and rejoyce.

The Lord ye know is God indeed, without our aid he did us make: We are his flock, he doth us feed; and for his theep he doth us take.

O enter then his gates with praife, approach with joy his courts unto:
Praife, laud, and blefs his Name always;

for it is feemly fo to do.

5 For why? the Lord our God is good, his mercy is for ever fure:

His truth at all times firmly flood, and shall from age to age endure.

Another of the fame, by J. H.

IN God the Lord be glad and light, praife him throughout the earth:

Serve him, and come before his fight with forcing and price before with finging and with mirth.

3. Know that the Lord our God he is, he did us make and keep,

Not we our felves: for we are his own flock and patture-theep.

4 O go into his gates always, give thanks within the fame: Within his courts fet forth his praise, and laud his holy Name.

5 For why? the goodness of the Lord for evermore doth reign:

From age to age throughout the world his truth doth fill remain.

Mifericordiam. Pfal. 101. N.

Mercy will and judgment fing,
O Lord God. unto thee:
2 And wifely do in perfect way,

until thou come to me:

And in the midft of my house walk is nurseness of my forite:

in pureness of my sprite:

And I no kind of wicked thing will set before my sight.

I hate their works that fall away, it shall not cleave to me:

4. From me shall part the froward heart, none evil will I see.

5 Him will I'llroy that flandereth his neighbour privily:

The lotty heart I cannot bear, nor him that looketh high.

6 Mine eyes shall be on them, within the land that faithful be: In perfect way who walketh, shall be servant unto me.

7 I will no guileful person have within my house to dwell:

And in my presence he shall not remain that lies doth tell.

8 Betimes I will deftroy even all the wicked of the land:
That I may from Gods city cut the wicked workers hand.

Domine, exaudi. Pfal. 102. N.
Hear my prayer, Lord, and let my cry come unto thee:
In time of trouble do not hide thy face away from me.
Incline thine ear to me, make hafte to hear me when I call: For as the fmoke doth fade, fo do

For as the smoke doth fade, so do my days consume and fall.

And as an hearth my bones are burnt, my heart is fimitten dead, And withers like the grafs, that I forget to eat my bread.

5 By reason of my groaning voice

my bones cleave to my skin:

6 As pelican in wilderness, fuch case now am I in.

And as an owl in defert is, lo, I am fuch an one: 7 I watch, and as a sparrow on the house-top am alone.

8 Lo, daily in reproachful wife mine enemies do me foorn: And they that do against me rage, against me they have fworn.

9 Surely with ashes as with bread, my hunger I have fill'd:

And mingled have my drink with tears that from mine eyes have fill'd.

10 Because of thy displeasure, Lord, thy wrath and thy disdain:
For thou hast listed me aloff, and cast me down again.

11 The days wherein I pass my life, are like the fleeting shade: And I am withered like the grass that foon away doth fade.

12 But thou, O Lord, for ever dost remain in steady place:

And thy remembrance ever dother abide from race to race.

The fecond part.

13 Thou wilt arife, and mercy thou to Sion wilt extend:

The time of mercy, now the time foreset is come to end.

14 For even in the flones thereof thy fervants do delight:And on the dust thereof they have compassion in their sprite.

15 Then shall the heathen people fear the Lords most holy Name: And all the kings on earth shall dread

And all the kings on earth thall d thy glory and thy fame.

16 Then when the Lord the mighty Cod again shall Sion rear:

And then when he most nobly in his glory shall appear.

17 To prayer of the desolate when he himself shall bend: When he shall not disdain unto their prayers to attend.

18 This shall be written for the age that after shall succeed: The people yet uncreated the Lords renown thall spread.

19 For he from his high fanctuary hath looked down below:

And out of heaven hath the Lord beheld the earth alfo.

20 That of the mourning captive he might hear the woful crie : And that he might deliver those that damned are to die. 21 That they in Sion may declare the Lords most holy Name; And in Jerusalem set forth the praises of the same:

22 Then when the people of the land and kingdoms with accord Shall be affembled for to do their service to the Lord. The third part.

23 My former force of strength he hath abated in the way:

And thorter he did cut my days, thus I therefore did fay.

24 My God, in midst of all my days now take me not away :

Thy years endure eternally, from age to age for ay.

25 Thou the foundations of the earth before all times hast laid: And Lord, the heavens are the work which thine own hands have made.

26 Yea, they shall perish and decay, but thou shalt tarry still :

And they shall all in time wax old even as a garment will.

27 Thou as a garment shalt them change, and changed shall they be:

But thou dolt still abide the same, thy years do never flee. 28 The children of thy servants shall continually endure :

And in thy fight their happy feed for ever shall stand fure.

Benedic anima. Pfal. 103. T.S. Y foul, give laud unto the Lord, my spirit shall do the same : And all the fecrets of my heart, praise ye his holy Name.

2 Give thanks to God for all his gifts, thew not thy felf unkind: And fuffer not his benefits to flip out of thy mind.

That gave thee pardon for thy faults, and thee reftor'd again,

For all thy weak and frail difea fe. and heal'd thee of thy pain.

That did redeem thy life from death, from which thou couldst not flee:

His mercy and compassion both he did extend to thee.

That fill'd with goodness thy desire, and did prolong thy youth :

Like as the eagle calts her bill, whereby her age renew'th.

6 The Lord with justice doth repay all such as be opprest:
So that their suffrings and their wrongs are turned to the best,

7 His ways and his commandements to Moles he did show:

His counsels and his valiant acts the Ifraelites did know.

The Lord is kind and merciful when finners do him grieve:

The flowest to conceive a wrath, and readiest to forgive.

9 He chides not us continually. though we be full of strife:

Nor keeps our faults in memory, for all our finful life.

10 Nor yet according to our fins the Lord doth us regard: Nor after our iniquities he doth us not reward.

II But as the space is wondrous great 'twixt earth and heaven above:

So is his goodness much more large to them that do him love.

12 God doth remove our fins from us, and our offences all.

As far as is the fun-rifing full diftant from his fall.

The second part.

13 And look what pity parents dear unto their children bear : Like pity beareth, God to fuch 14 The Lord that made us knows our shape, our mould and fashion just:

How weak and frail our nature is, and how we be but dust.

15 And how the time of mortal men is like the with'ring hay: Or like the flower right fair in field, that fades full foon away. 16 Whose gloss and beauty stormy winds do utterly dilgrace :

And make that after their affaults fuch blofforns have no place.

19 The heavens high are made the feat and footstool of the Lord:

And by his power imperial he governs all the world.

20 Ye angels which are great in power, praife ye and blefs the Lord:
Which to obey and do his will immediately accord.

21 Ye noble hosts and ministers, cease not to laud him still:

Which ready are to execute his pleasure and his will.

22 Yea, all his works in every place, praife ye his holy Name: My heart, my mind, and eke my foul, praife ye also the same.

Benedic, anima mea. Pfal. 104. W.K.

Y foul, praife the Lord, fpeak good of his Name, O Lord our great God, how dolf thou appear, So pailing in glory, that great is thy fame? Honour and majefty in thee shine most clear.

2 With light, as a robe, thou hast thee beclad, Whereby all the earth thy greatness may see: The heavens in such fort thou also hast spread, That it to a curtain compared may be.

3 His chamber-beams lie in the clouds full fure, Which as his chariots, are made him to bear:
And there with much swiftness his course doth endure,

Upon the wings riding of winds in the air.

4 He maketh his fpirits as heralds to go:
And lightnings to ferve we fee also preft:
His will to accomplish they run to and fro,
To fave or confume things, as feemeth him best.

5 He groundeth the earth fo firmly and fast, That it once to move sone shall have such power. 6 The deep a fair covering for it made thou haft: Which by his own nature the hills would devour.

7 But at thy rebuke the waters do flee: And fo give due place thy word to obey.

At thy voice of thunder fo fearful they be,
That in their great raging
they halte foon away.

8 The mountains full high they then up ascend: If thou do but speak, thy word they suifill. So likewise the valleys most quickly descend, Where thou them appointest remain they do still.

he doth not refuse:
But grass doth provide them,
and herb for mans meat.

15 Yea, bread, wine, and oyl, he made for mans fake, His face to refresh, and heart to make strong.

16 The cedars of Liban this great Lord did make:

And eke the rock ftony for conies to hide.

ny The moon then is fet her feafons to run: The days from the nights thereby to differn.

And by the descending also of the sun,

The cold from heat alway thereby we do learn.

20 When darkness doth come by Gods will and power,
Then creep forth do all the beasts of the wood.
21 The lions range roaring their prey to devour:

But yet it is thou, Lord,
which givelt them food.

22 Associated function is up, they retire:
To couch in their dense then are they full fain:

The third part.

24 How fundry, O Lord, are all thy works found! With wifdom full great they are indeed wrought: So that the whole world of thy praife doth found: And as for thy riches, they pass all mens thought.

25 So is the great fea, which large is and broad, Where things that creep fwarm, and beafts of each fort.

26 There both mighty ships fail, and some lie at rode:
The whale huge and monstrous there also doth sport.

27 All things on thee wait, thou dolt them relieve: And thou in due time full well dost them feed.

28 Now when it doth please thee
the same for to give,
They gather full gladly

They gather full gladly those things which they need. Thou openeft thy hand, and they find fuch grace, That they with good things are filled we fee.

29 But fore are they troubled if thou turn thy face:
For if thou their breath take, vile dust then they be.

30 Again, when thy Spirit from thee doth proceed All things to appoint, and what shall ensue:

Then are they created as thou half decreed: And doff by thy goodness the dry earth renew.

31 The praise of the Lord for ever shall last, Who may in his works by right well rejoyce.

32 His look can the earth make to tremble full falt,

And likewise the mountains to smoke at his voice. 33 To this Lord and God fing will I always:

So long as I live,
my God praife will I.
34 Then am I most certain my words shall him please:

I will rejoyce in him, to him will I cry.

35 The finners, O Lord, confume in thine ire: And eke the perverse them root out with shame: But as for my foul now, let it still desire, And say with the faithfull, Praise ye the Lords Name.

28 Darkness he sent, and made it dark in stead of brighter day: And unto his commission they did not disobey.

29 He turn'd their waters into bloud,

he did their fishes slay:
30 Their land brought frogs even in the place where their king Pharaoh lay.

31 He spake, and at his voice there came great swarms of noisom flies:

And may with thine inheritance a glorifying heart express.

6 Both we and eke our fathers all have sinned every one:
We have committed wickedness, and lewdly we have done.

7 The wonders great which thou (O Lord) hast done in Egypt land,

Our fathers though they faw them all, yet did not understand:

Nor they thy mercies multitude did keep in thankful mind:

But at the fea, yea, the Red fea, rebelled most unkind. 8 Nevertheless he saved them for honour of his Name: That he might make his power known, and spread abroad his fame.

o The Red fea he did then rebuke, and forthwith it was dri'd:

And as in wilderness, so through the deep he did them guide.

10 He fav'd them from the cruel hand of their despightful toe, And from the enemies hand he did

The second part.

11 The waters their oppressours whelm'd, not one was left alive:

14 But lusted in the wilderness with fond and greedy lust;

And in the desert tempted God, the stay of all their trust.

15 And then their wanton minds defire he fuffered them to have: But waiting leanness therewithall

17 Therefore the earth did open wide, and Dathan did devour:

And all Abirams company did cover in that hour.

18 In their affembly kindled was the hot confurning fire: And wasting slame did then burn up they flew the people tho:

35 But were among the heathen mixt, and learn'd their works also:

36 And did their idols ferve, which were their ruine and decay:

37 To fiends their fons and daughters they did offer up and flay.

38 Yea, with unkindly murdring knife the guiltless bloud they spilt:

Whom they to Canaan idols then off'red with wicked hand: And fo with bloud of innocents defiled was the land.

39 Thus were they stained with the works of their own filthy way:

And with their own inventions, a whoring they did stray.

40 Therefore against his people was the Lords wrath kindled fore: And even his own inheritance he did abhor therefore.

41 Into the hands of heathen men
he gave them for a prey,

And made their foes their lords, whom they were forced to obev.

The fifth part.

42 Yea, and their hateful enemies oppress them in the land,
And they were humbly made to stoop as subjects to their hand.

43 Full oftentimes from thrall had he delivered them before:

But with their counfels they to wrath provok'd him evermore.

Therefore they by their wickedness were brought full low to lie:

44 Yet when he faw them in diffrefs, he hearkned to their cry.

45 He call'd to mind his covenant which he to them had fwore:

And by his mercies multitude repented him therefore.

46 And favour he them made to find before the fight of those That led them captive from their land.

That led them captive from their land, when e'rst they were their foes.

2 Such as the Lord redeemed hath with thanks shall praise his Name:

And shew how they from foes were freed, and how he wrought the fame.

He gath'red them forth of the lands that lay fo far about :

From east to west, from north to south his hand did find them out.

They wandred in the wilderness and strayed from the way :

And found no city where to dwell, that serve might for their stay.

Whose thirst and hunger was so great in these deserts so void:

That faintness did them fore affault, and eke their fouls annoy'd.

6 Then did they cry in their diffress unto the Lord for aid:

Who did remove their troublous state, according as they pray'd.

And by that way which was most right he led them like a guide :

That they might to a city go, and there also abide.

8 Let men therefore before the Lord confess his goodness then:

And shew the wonders that he doth before the fons of men.

9 For he the empty foul fustain'd, whom thirst had made to faint :

The hungry foul with goodness fed, and did them eke acquaint.

10 Such as do dwell in darkness deep, where they on death do wait: Fast bound to taste such troublous storms as iron chains do threat.

The fecond part.

11 For that against the Lords own words they fought fo to rebel: Esteeming light his counsels high, which do so far excell:

12 But when he humbled them full low, they then fell down with grief: And none was found fo much to help, whereby to get relief.

13 Then did they cry in their diffress unto the Lord for aid:

Who did remove their troublous flate, according as they pray'd.

14 For he from darkness out them brought, and from deaths dreadful shade: Burfting with force the iron bands which them before did lade. 15 Let men therefore before the Lord confess his kindness then:

And thew the wonders that he doth before the fons of men.

16 For he threw down the gates of brafs, and brake them with strong hand:

The iron bars he smote in two. nothing could him withftand.

The foolith folk great plagues do feel, and cannot from them wend:

But heap on more to those they have, because they do offend.

18 Their foul fo much did lothe all meat, that none they could abide:

Whereby death had them almost caught, as they full truly tri'd.

19 Then did they cry in their diffress unto the Lord for aid:

Who did remove their troublous state, according as they pray'd.

20 For then he fent to them his word, which health did foon reftore:

And brought them from those dangers deep wherein they were before.

The third part.

21 Let men therefore before the Lord confess his kindness then:

And shew the wonders that he doth before the fons of men.

22 And let them offer facrifice with thanks, and also fear :

And speak of all his wondrous works with glad and joyful cheer.

23 Such as in ships and brittle barks into the feas descend,

Their merchandise through fearful flouds to compais and to end :

24 Those men are forced to behold the Lords works what they be: And in the dangerous deep, the fame most marvellous they see. 25 For at his word the stormy wind arifeth in a rage, And stirreth up the furges fo, as nought can them affwage

26 Then are they lifted up fo high. the clouds they feem to gain: And plunging down the depth until, their fouls confume with pain.

27 And like a drunkard, to and fro now here now there they reel, As men with fear of wit bereft, or had of fense no feel 28 Then did they cry in their diffress unto the Lord for aid :

Who did remove their troublous state. according as they pray'd.

29 For with his word the Lord doth make the flurdy florms to cease: So that the great waves from their rage are brought to rest and peace. 30 Then are men glad when rest is come, which they fo much did crave: And are by him in haven brought, which they fo fain would have.

The fourth part. 31 Let men therefore before the Lord confess his kindness then:

And

Pfalm eviij, cix.

And flew the wonders that he doth before the fons of men. 2 Let them in prefence of the folk with praile extol his Name: And where the elders do convent, there let them do the fame.

33 For running flouds to dry deferts he doth oftchange and turn:
And drieth up as it were duft
the springing well and bourn.
34 A fruitful land with pleasures deckt full barren doth he make:

When on their fins that dwell therein he doth just vengeance take.

35 Again the wilderness full rude he maketh fruit to bear:

With pleasant springs of waters clear, though none before were there. 36 Wherein such hungry souls are set as he doth freely chuse: That they a city may them build to dwell in for their use.

That they may fow their pleasant land, and vineyards also plant,

To yield them fruits of such increase, as none may feem to want. 38 They multiply exceedingly, the Lord doth blefs them fo:

Who doth also the brute beasts make by numbers great to grow.

39 But when the faithful are low brought by the oppressours stout,

And minish do through many plagues that compass them about:

40 Then doth he princes bring to shame which did them fore oppress, And likewise caused them to err within the wilderness.

41 But yet the poor he raiseth up out of his troubles deep:

And oft-times doth his train augment, much like a flock of sheep.

42 The righteous shall behold this fight, and also much rejoyce:

Whereas the wicked and perverse with grief shall stop their voice.

43 But who is wife, that now full well he may these things record? For certainly such shall perceive the kindness of the Lord.

Paratum cor. Pfal. 108. F. H.

God my heart prepared is, and eke my tongue is so, I will advance my voice in song, and giving praise also.

Awake my viol and my harp sweet melody to make:

And in the morning I my felf right early will awake.

By me among the people, Lord, fill praised shalt thou be:
And I among the heathen folk will sing, O Lord, to thee.

Because thy mercy, Lord, is great above the heavens high:

And eke thy truth doth reach the clouds within the lofty sky.

Above the flarry heavens high exalt thy felt, O God:

And, Lord, display upon the earth thy glory all abroad.

That thy dearly beloved may be fet at liberty:

Help, O my God, with thy right hand, and hearken unto me.

God in his holiness hath spoke, wherefore my joys abound:
Schem I will divide, and mete

the vale of Succoth-ground.

Rand Gilead shall be mine own,
Manasses mine shall be:

My head-strength, Ephraim; and law thall Judah give for me.

9 Moab my washpot, and my shoe on Edom will I throw:

Upon the land of Palestine in triumph will I go.

to Who shall into the city strong be guide to condust me?

Or how, by whom to Edom land conveyed shall I be?

Is it not thou, O Lord, which late hadft us for faken quite?

And thou, O Lord, which with our hofts didft not go forth to fight? 12 Give us, O Lord, thy faving aid when troubles do affail:

For all the help of man is vain,
and can no whit avail.

13 Through God we shall do valiant acts and worthy of renown:

He shall subdue our enemies, yea, he shall tread them down.

Deus, laudem wam. Pfal. 109. N.

IN speechless silence do not hold, O God, thy tongue always: O God, even thou, I say, that art the God of all my praise.

The wicked and the guileful mouth on me disclosed be:

And they with false and lying tongues have spoken unto me.

3 They did befet me round about with words of hateful fpight: Without all cause of my desert against me they did fight.

4 For my good will they were my foes, but then gan I to pray: 5 My good with ill, my friendlines with hate they did repay.

6 Set thou the wicked over him, to have the upper hand: At his right hand eke fuffer thou his hateful foe to fland.

When he is judged, let him then condemned be therein:

And let the prayer that he makes be turned into fin.

8 Few be his days, his charge also let thou another take:

His children let be fatherless, bis wife a widow make.

to beg and feek their bread:

Wanding out of the wafted place

Wandring out of the wasted place where erst they have been sed.

11 Let covetous extortioners catch all his goods and flore: And let the ftranger spoil the fruit of all his toil before.

let there be none to pity luin,

That on his children fatherless will let their mercy fall.

The second part.

for ever be destroy'd:

Their name out blotted in the age that after shall succeed.

14 Let not his fathers wickedness from Gods remembrance fall:

And let not thou his mothers fin be done away at all.

15 But in the presence of the Lord let them remain for ay:

That from the earth their memory he may cut clean away. 16 Sith mercy he forgot to shew,

but did purfue with fpight
The troubled man, and fought to flay the woful hearted wight.

17 As he did curfing love, it shall betide unto him so:

And as he did not blessing love, it shall be far him fro.

18 As he with curfing clad himfelf, fo it like water shall

Into his bowels, and like oyl into his bones befall

19 As garment let it be to him, to cover him for ay:

And as a girdle wherewith he fhall girded be alway.

thall girded be alway.

20 Lo, let the same be from the Lord
the guerdon of my foe:
Yea, and of those that evil speak.

ea, and of those that ev against my soul also. 21 But thou, O Lord, that art my God, deal thou, I fay, with me After thy Name, deliver me;

for good thy mercies be.
22 Because in depth of great distress

I needy am and poor:

And eke within my pained breft
my heart is wounded fore.

The third part.
23 Even so do I depart away
as doth declining shade:

And as the grashopper, so I am shaken off and sade.

24 With fasting long from needful food enfeebled are my knees:

And all her fatness hath my flesh enforced been to leese.

25 And I also a vile reproach to them am made to be: And they that did upon me Ioo

And they that did upon me look did shake their heads at me.

26 But thou, O Lord, that art my God, mine aid and fuccour be:

According to thy mercy, Lord, fave and deliver me.

27 And they shall know thereby, that this (Lord) is thy mighty hand:

And that thou, thou hast done it, Lord, so shall they understand.

28 Although they curse with spight, yet thou shalt bless with loving voice:

They shall arise and come to shame; thy servant shall rejoyce.

29 Let them be clothed all with shame that enemies are to me:

And with confusion as a cloke eke covered let them be.

30 But greatly I will with my mouth give thanks unto the Lord:

And I among the multitude his praises will record.

31 For he with help at his right hand will fland the poor man by:

To fave him from the man that would condemn his foul to die.

Dixit Dominus. Pfal. 110. N.
The Lord did fay unto my Lord,
fit thou on my right hand,
Till I have made thy foes a flool whereon thy feet shall stand.

The Lord shall out of Sion send the Gentre of thy might:

the sceptre of thy might:
Amid thy mortal foes be thou
the Ruler in their fight.

3 And in the day on which they reign and power they shall fee:

Then hereby free-will-offerings shall the people offer thee.

Yea, with an holy worthipping then shall they offer all: Pfa'm cxj, cxij, exiij, cxiv.

rhy births dew is the dew that doth from womb of morning fall.

4 The Lord hath fworn, and never will repent what he doth fay:

By th' order of Melchisedech thou art a Priest for ay.

5 The Lord thy God, on thy right hand that standeth for thy stay, Shall wound for thee the stately kings upon his wrathful day.

6 The heathen he shall judge, and fill the place with bodies dead:

And over divers countreys shall in funder smite the head.

7 And he shall drink out of the brook that runneth in the way:

Wherefore he shall list up on high his royal head that day.

Confitebon tibi. Pfal. 111. N.

W Ith heart I do accord
To praise and laud the Lord,
In presence of the just.

2 For great his works are found, To fearch them such are bound

As do him love and trult.

3 His works are glorious,
Also his righteoulness

It doth endure for ever.
His wondrous works he would 4 His wondrous works he would We still remember should,

His mercy faileth never.

Such as to him love bear,

A portion full fair

He hath up for them laid: For this they shall well find, He will them have in mind,

And keep them as he faid.

For he did not difdain

His works to shew them plain,
By lightnings and by thunders:

When he the heathens land Did give into their hand,

Where they beheld his wonders.

7 Of all his works enfu'th Both judgment, right, and truth, Whereto his statutes tend:

8 They are decreed fure. For ever to endure,

Which equity doth end.
Redemption he gave

His people for to fave:
9 And hath alforequired,
His promife not to fail,
But always to prevail:

His holy name be feared.

10 Whofo with heart full fain
True wifdom would attain,

The Lord fear and obey: Such as his laws do keep Shall knowledge have full deep, His praise shall last for ay.

Beatis vir. Pfal, 112. W. K.

The man is hieft that God doth tear,
And that his law doth love indeed:
His feed on earth God will uprear,
And blefs fuch as from him proceed.
His house with good he will fulfill.

3 His house with good he will fulfill, His righteousness endure shall still.

4 Unto the righteous doth arife In trouble joy, in darknefs light. Compassion is in his eyes, And mercy always in his sight.

5 Yea, pity moveth fuch to lend, He doth by judgment things expend.

6 And furely fuch shall never fail,
For in remembrance had is he:
7 No tidings ill can make him quail
Who in the Lord sure hope doth see.
8 His heart is firm, his fear is not

8 His heart is firm, his fear is past, For he shall fee his foes down cast.

o He did well for the poor provide, His righteousness shall still remain: And his estate with praise abide. Though that the wicked man distain.

10 Yea, gnash his teeth thereat shall he, And so consume his state to see.

Landare pueri. Pfal. 113. W. K.

E children which do ferve the Lord,
Praife ye his Name with one accord.
2 Yea, bleffed be always his Name,
3 Who from the rifing of the fun,
Till it return where it begun,
Is to be praifed with great fame.

A The Lord all people doth furmount;
As for his glory we may count,
Above the heavens high to be.

With God the Lord who may compare, Whose dwellings in the heavens are? Of such great power and force is he.

6 He doth abase himself, we know, Things to behold both here below, And also in heaven above.

7 The needy out of dust to draw, And eke the poor which help none saw, His onely mercy did him move. 8 And so him set in high degree

With princes of great dignity,
That rule his people with great fame.
The barren he doth make to bear,

And with great joy her fruit to rear:
Therefore praise ye his holy Name.

In exitu Ifrael Pfal. 114. W.W.

Hen Ifrael by Gods addrefs from Pharaohs land was bent:

And Jacobs house the strangers left, and in the same train went:

2 In Judah God his glory shew'd, his holiness most bright:

3 The fea it faw, and fuddenly as all amaz'd did flee:

The roaring streams of Jordans floud recoyled backwardly.

4 As rams afraid, the mountains skipt, their strength did them for sake:

And as the filly trembling lambs, their tops did beat and shake.

5 What ail'd thee fea, as all amaz'd, fo suddenly to flee?

Ye rolling waves of Jordans floud, why ran ye backwardly?

6 Why shook ye hills, as rams afraid? why did your strength so shake?

Why did your tops, as trembling lambs, for fear quiver and quake?

7 O carth, confess thy sovereign Lord, and dread his mighty hand:

Before the face of Jacobs God fear ye both fea and land.

8 I mean the God, which from hard rocks doth caufe main flouds appear:

And from the stony flint doth cause gush out the fountains clear,

Non nobis, Domine. Pfal. 115. N.

Ot unto us, Lord, not to us, but to thy Name give praise, Both for thy mercy and thy truth that are in thee always.

Why shall the heathen scorners say, Where is there God become?

3 Our God in heaven is, and what he will, that hath he done.

4 Their idols filver are and gold, works of mens hands they be:

5 They have a mouth, and do not speak; and eyes, and do not see:

6 And they have ears joyn'd to their heads, and do not hear at all:

And nofes eke they formed have, and do not fmell withall.

7 And hands they have, and handle not; and feet, and do not go:

A throat they have, yet through the fame they make no found to blow.

8 Those that make them are like to them, and those whose trust they be.

o I frael trull in the Lord, their help and shield is he.

their help and shield is he:

their help and shield is he.

and will us blefs also:

On Ifrael and on Aarons house his bleffings he will show. the Lord will blefs them all:
Even he will blefs them every one,
the great and eke the finall.

14 To you (I fay) the living Lord will multiply his grace:
To you and to the children that shall follow of your race.

15 Ye are the bleffed of the Lord, even of the Lord, I fay:

Which both the heaven and the earthhath made and fet in stay.

16 The heavens, yea, the heavens high belong unto the Lord:

The earth unto the fons of men he gave of free accord.

17 They that be dead do not with praise fet forth the Lords renown:

Nor any that into the place of filence do go down.

18 But we will praise the Lord our God from henceforth and for ay:

Sound ye the praises of the Lord, praise ye the Lord, I say.

Dilexi quoniam. Pfal. 116. N.
Love the Lord, because my voice and prayer heard harh he:

When in my days I call'd on him,

he bow'd his ear to me.

Even when the fnares of cruel death about befet me round:

When pains of hell me caught, and whenI wo and forrow found:

4 Upon the Name of God my Lord then did I call, and fay,

Deliver thou my foul, O Lord,
I do thee humbly pray.

5 The Lord is very merciful, and just he is also:

And in our God compassion doth plentifully flow.

6 The Lord in fatety doth preferve.
all those that simple be:

I was in woful mifery, and he delivered me

7 And now my foul, firh thou art fafe, return unto thy rest:

For largely, lo, the Lord to thee his bounty hath exprest.

8 Because thou hast delivered my foul from deadly thrall:

My moiltened eyes from mournful tears, my fliding feet from full:

9 Before the Lord I in the land of life will walk therefore:

10 I did believe, therefore I spake, for I was troubled fore.

The fecond part.

It I faid in my diffress and fear, that all men liars be:

12-What

his benefits to me?

13 The wholesom cup of faving health
I thankfully will take:

And on the Lords Name I will call when I my prayer make.

14 I to the Lord will pay the vows that I to him behight: Yea, even at this present time in all his peoples fight.

15 Right dear and precious in his fight the Lord doth ay effect.

The death of all his holy ones.

The death of all his holy ones, what ever men do deem.

16 Thy fervant, Lord, thy fervant, lo, I do my felf confess, Son of thy hand-maid: thou hast broke the bonds of my diffress.

17 And I will offer up to thee

a facrifice of praise:

And I will call upon the Name of God the Lord always.

18 I to the Lord will pay the vows that I have him behight, Yea, even at this prefent time in all his peoples fight.

19 Yea, in the courts of Gods own house, and in the midst of thee,

O thou Jerusalem, I say, wherefore the Lord praise ye.

All ye nations of the world, praife ye the Lord always:

And all ye people every where fet forth his noble praife.

For great his kindness is to us, his truth endures for ay:

Wherefore praife ye the Lord our God, praise ye the Lord, I say.

Confirmini. Pfal. 118. N.

Give ye thanks unto the Lord, for gracious is he:
Because his mercy doth endure for ever towards thee.

2 Let Ifrael confess and fay,
His mercy dures for ay:

3 Now let the house of Aaron say, His mercy dures for ay.

4 Let all that fear the Lord our God even now confess and say, The mercy of the Lord our God endureth still for ay.

5 In trouble and in heaviness unto the Lord I cri'd:

Which lovingly heard me at large, my fuit was not deni'd.

6 The Lord himself is on my side, I will not stand in doubt, Nor fear what man can do to me, when God stands me about. The Lord doth take my part with them that help to succour me:

Therefore I shall see my desire upon mine enemy.

Better it is to trult in God then in mans mortal feed:

o Or to put confidence in kings or princes in our need. To All nations have inclosed me, and compassed me round:

But in the Name of God shall I mine enemies confound.

they kept me in on every fide,

But in the Lords most mighty Name I shall work their decay.

12 They came about me all like bees, but yet in the Lords Name

I quencht their thorns that were on fire, and will destroy the same.

The fecond part.

13 Thou hast with force thrust fore at me that I indeed might fall:

But through the Lord I found such help that they were vanquisht all.

14 The Lord is my defence and strength, my joy, my mirth, my fong:

He is become for me indeed a Saviour most strong.

15 The right hand of the Lord our God doth bring to pals great things: He canfeth voice of joy and health

He causeth voice of joy and health in righteous mens dwellings. 16 The right hand of the Lord doth bring most mighty things to pass:

His hand hath the preeminence, his force is as it was.

17 I shall not die, but ever live to utter and declare

The Lord his might and wondrous power, his works, and what they are.

18 The Lord himfelf hath chaftened and hath corrected me: But hath not given me over yet to death, as ye may fee.

19 Set open unto me the gates of truth and righteoufnefs:

That I may enter into them
the Lords praise to express.
This is the gate even of the Lord, which shall not so be shut, But good and righteous men alway fhall enter into it.

The third part.

21 I will give thanks to thee, O Lord, because thou hast heard me,

And art become most lovingly a Saviour unto me.

22 The stone which e're this time among the builders was refused,

23 This was the mighty work of God. this was the Lords own fact: And it is marvellous to behold with eyes that noble act. 24 This is the joyful day indeed, which God himfelt hath wrought:

Let us be glad and joy therein in heart, in mind, in thought.

25 Now help us, Lord, and prosper us, we with with one accord:

26 Bleffed is he that comes to us in the Name of the Lord.

27 God is the Lord that shews us light, bind ye therefore with cord Your facrifice to the altar, and give thanks to the Lord. 23 Thou art my God, I will confess, and render thanks to thee:

Thou art my God, and I will praise thy mercy towards me.

29 O give ye thanks unto the Lord, for gracious is he:

Because his mercy doth endure for ever towards me.

Beati immaculati. Pfal. 119. W.W.

BLessed are they that perfect are, and pure in mind and heart: Whose lives and conversations from Gods laws never start.

2 Bleffed are they that give themselves his statutes to observe:

Seeking the Lord with all their heart, and never from him fwerve.

3 Doubtless such men go not aftray nor do no wicked thing. Which stedfastly walk in his way without any wandring. 4 It is thy will and commandment, that with attentive heed Thy noble and divine precepts we learn and keep indeed.

5 O would to God it might thee please my ways fo to address,

That I might both in heart and voice thy laws keep and confess!

6 So should no shame my life attaint, whil'ft I thus fet mine eyes,

And bend my mind always to muse on thy facred decrees.

7 Then will I praise with upright heart, and magnifie thy Name, When I shall learn thy judgments just, and likewise prove the same. 8 And wholly will I give my felf to keep thy laws most right:

Forfake me not for ever, Lord, but thew thy grace and might. BETH. The Second part.

9 By what means may a young man best 11 11 his life learn to amend?

If that he mark and keep thy word, and therein his time ipend.

10 Unfeignedly I have thee fought, and thus feeking abide :

O never suffer me, O Lord, from thy precepts to flide.

It Within my heart and fecret thoughts thy words I have hid ftill :

That I might not at any time offend thy godly will.

12 We magnifie thy Name, O Lord, and praise thee evermore Thy statutes of most worthy fame, O Lord, teach me therefore.

1; My lips have never ceast to preach and publish day and night, The judgments all which did proceed from thy mouth full of might-14 Thy testimonies and thy ways

please me no less indeed Then all the treasures of the earth, which worldlings make their meed.

15 Of thy precepts I will still muse, and thereto frame my talk ;

As at a mark, so will I aim thy ways how I may walk. 16 My onely joy shall be so fixt, and on thy laws fo fet:

That nothing can me fo far blind, that I thy words forget.

GIMEL. The third part. 17 Grant to thy fervant now fuch grace as may my life prolong Thy holy word then will I keep both in my heart and tongue. 18 Mine eyes which were dim and thut up, fo open and make bright:

That of thy law and marvellous works I may have the clear fight.

19 I am a stranger in this earth, wandring now here now there: Thy word therefore to me disclose my footsteps for to clear. 20 My foul is ravisht with desire, and never is at reft: But feeks to know thy judgments high, and what may please thee best. 21 The proud men and malicious thou halt destroy'd each one : And curfed are fuch as do not thy hests attendupon.

22 Lord, turn from me rebuke and fhame which wicked men conspire: For I have kept thy covenants with zeal as hot as fire.

23 The princes great in counsel fat, and did against me speak: Pasythe our line oBut

But then thy fervant thought how he thy starates might not break. 24 For why? thy covenants are my joy, and my hearts great folace : They ferve in Itead of counfellers my matters for to pass.

DALETH. The fourth part. 25 I am, alas, as brought to grave, and almost turn'd to dust : Restore therefore my lite again, as thy promise is just.

26 My ways when I acknowledged, with mercy thou didit hear : Hear now effloon, and me instruct thy laws to love and fear.

27 Teach me once throughly for to know thy precepts and thy lore:

Thy works then will I meditate, and lay them up in store.
28 My foul I feel fo fore opprest, that it melteth for grief:

According to thy word therefore. hafte, Lord, to fend relief.

29 From lying and deceirful lips let thy grace me defend : And that I may learn thee to love, thy holy law me fend.

30 The way of truth both straight and fure I have chosen and found:

I fet thy judgments me before, which keep me fafe and found.

31 Since then, O Lord, I forc'd my felf thy covenants to embrace :

Let me therefore have no rebuke nor check in any cafe.

32 Then will I run with joyful cheer where thy word doth me call:

When thou haft fet my heart at large, . and rid me out of thrall. HE. The fifth part.

33 Instruct me, Lord, in the right trade of thy flatutes divine : And it to keep even to the end my heart will I incline. 34 Grant me the knowledge of thy law, and I shall it obey:

With heart and mind and all my might I will it keep, I say.

35 In the right paths of thy precepts guide me, Lord. I require : None other pleasure do I wish, nor greater thing defire. 36 Incline my heart thy laws to keep, and covenants to embrace:

And from all filthy avarice, Lord, shield me with thy grace.

37 From vain defires and worldly lufts .. turn back mine eyes and fight : Give me the spirit of life and power ga bib!

walk thy ways aright.

8 Confirm thy gracious promife, Lord, which thou half made to me, Which am thy fervant, and do love and fear nothing but thee.

Bo Reproach and shame which I so fear, from me, O Lord, expel: For thou dolt judge with equity, and therein dolt excel. so Behold, my hearts defire is bent thy laws to keep for ay: Lord, strengthen me fo with thy grace. that it perform I may.

VAU. The fixth part. 41 Thy mercies great and manifold. let me obtain, O Lord: Thy faving health let me enjoy, according to thy word.

42 So shall I stop the slandrous mouths. of lewd men and unjust:

For in thy faithful promifes stands my comfort and trust.

43 The word of truth within my mouth let ever still be prest: For in thy judgments wonderful my hope doth if and and reft. 44 And whil'It that breath within my breaft doth natural life preserve, Yea, till this world shall be dissolv'd thy law will I observe.

45 So walk will I as fet at large, and made free from all dread : Because I sought how for to keep thy precepts and thy read.

46 Thy noble acts I will describe, as things of molt great fame : Even before kings I will them blaze, and shrink no whit for shame.

47 I will rejoyce then to obey thy worthy hefts and will Which evermore I have lov'd best, and fo will love them still.

48 My hands I will lift to thy laws. which I have dearly fought: And practile thy commandments in will, in deed, in thought.

ZAIN. The seventh part. 49 Thy promife which thou mad'it to me thy fervant, Lord, remember: For therein have I put my truft and confidence for ever 50 It is my comfort and my joy when troubles me affail: For were my life not by thy word, my life would foon me fail. I The proud and fuch as God contemn ...

still made of me a fcorn : Yet would I not thy law for fake, as he that were forlern:

32 But call'd to mind, Lord, thy great works shew'd to our fathers old :

Whereby

Whereby I felt the joy furmount my grief au hundred-fold.

5; But yet, alas, for fear I quake, feeing how wicked men Thy law forfook, and did procure thy judgments who knows when?

54 And as for me, I fram'd my fongs thy statutes to exalt,

When I among the strangers dwelt, and thoughts gan me affault.

55 I thought upon thy Name, O Lord, by night when others fleep:

As for thy law also I kept, and ever will it keep.

36 This grace I did obtain, because thy covenants sweet and dear I did embrace, and also keep with reverence and with fear.

HET H. The eighth part.

To God which art my part and lot,
my comfort and my stay,

I have decreed and promised thy laws to keep alway.

58 Mine earnest heart did humbly sue in presence of thy face

As thou therefore half promised, Lord, grant me of thy grace.

59 My life I have examined, and tri'd my fecret heart: Which to thy flatutes caufed me my feet flraight to convert.

60 I did not stay nor linger long, as they that slothful are:

But hastily thy laws to keep I did my self prepare.

61 The cruel bands of wicked men have made of me their prey: Yet would I not thy law forget, nor from thee go aftray.

62 Thy righteous judgments towards me fo great are and fo high:

That even at midnight will I rife thy Name to magnifie.

63 Companion am I to all them which fear thee in their heart: And never will for love nor dread from thy commandments start.

64 Thy mercies, Lord, most plenteously do all the world fulfill:

O teach me how I may obey thy statutes and thy will.

TETH. The ninth part.

65 According to thy promife, Lord, fo haft thou with me dealt:
For of thy grace in fundry forts have I thy fervant felt.

66 Teach me to judge always aright, and give me knowledge fure:

For certainly believe I do that thy precepts are pure.

67 E're thou didst touch me with thy rod, I err'd and went aliray:

I err'd and went altray:
But now I keep thy holy word, and make it all my (tay.

68 Thou art both good and gracious, and giv'ft most liberally: Thine ordinances how to keep therefore, O Lord, teach me.

69 The proud and wicked men have forg'd against me many a lie:

Yet thy commandments still observe with all my heart will I.

70 Their hearts are swoln with wordly wealth, as greafe so are they fat:

But in thy law do I delight, and nothing feek but that.

71 Chappy time, may I well fay, when thou didft me correct: For as a guide to learn thy laws thy rod did me direct.

72 So that to me thy word and law is dearer manifold

Then thousands great of filver and gold, or ought that can be told.

70 D. The tenth part.
73 Seeing thy hands have made me, Lord, to be thy creature:

Grant knowledge likewise how to learn to put thy laws in ure.

74 So they that fear thee shall rejoyce when ever they me see:

Because I have learn'd by thy word to put my trust in thee.

75 When with thy rods the world is plagu'd, I know the cause is just:

So when thou dost correct me, Lord, the cause just needs be must.

76 Now of thy goodness I thee pray fome comfort to me send:

As thou to me thy fervant hetft, fo from all ill me shend.

77 Thy tender mercies pour on me, and I shall surely live: For joy and consolation both thy law to me doth give.

78 Confound the proud, whose false pretence is me for to destroy:

But as for me, thy hells to know,
I will my felf employ.

79 Who o with reverence do thee fear, to me let them retire:

And fuch as do thy covenants know, and them alone delire.

So My heart without all wavering let.on thy laws be bent:
That no confusion come to me.

That no confusion come to me, whereby I should be shent.

81 My foul doth faint, and ceafeth not thy faving health to crave:

F 2

And for thy words fake flill I truft my hearts defire to have.

8 2 Mine eyes do fail with looking for thy word, and thus I fay.

Ch when wilt thou me comfort, Lord?

why dost thou thus delay?

83 As a skin-bottle in the moke, fo am I parcht and dri'd: Yet will I not out of my heart let thy commandments flide.

84 Alas how long shall I yet live before I see the hour,

That on my foes which me torment, thy vengeance thou will pour?

85 Presumptuous men have digged pits, thinking to make me sire:

Thus contrary against thy law, my hurt they do procure.

36. But thy commandments are all true, and caulless they me grieve it.

To thee therefore I do complain, that thou might'st me relieve.

37 Almost they had me clean destroy'd, and brought me quite to ground:

Yet by thy statutes I abode, and therein succour found.

38 Reftore me, Lord, again to life, for thy mercies excel:

And fo firell I thy covenants keep till death-my life expel LAMED. The twelfth part.

89 In heaven, Lord, where thou doft dwell, thy word is stablish fure:

And shall for all eternity fast graven there endure.

90 From age to age thy truth abides,

as doth the earth witness:
Whose ground-work thou hast laid so sure as no tongue can express.

91 Even to this day we may well fee

how all things perfevere According to thine ordinance, for all things thee revere.

92 Had it not been that in thy law my foul had comfort fought, Long time e're now in my diffress I had been brought to nought.

73 Therefore will I thy precepts ay is memory keep fatt:

By them thou haft my life reftor'd when I was at last cast.

94 No wight to me can title make, for I am onely thine:

Save me therefore, for to thy laws mine ears and heart incline.

25 The wicked men do feek my bane, and thereto lie in wait:

But I the while confidered thy noble works and great. of I fee nothing in this wide world at length which hath not end: But thy commandments and thy word beyond all end extend.

ME M. The thirteenth part.

97 What great defire and fervent love do I bear to thy law!

All the day long I meditate on it with reverent aw

98 Thy word hath taught me far to pass my foes in policy:

For still I hold it as a thing of most excellency.

99 My teachers which did me instruct, in knowledge I excell:

Because I do thy covenants keep, and them to others tell. 100 In wisdom I do pass also the ancient men indeed:

And all because to keep thy laws

I held it ay best reed.

101 My feet I have refrained eke from every evil way,

Because that I continually thy word might keep, I say.

102 I have not swerv'd from thy judgments, nor yet shrunk any dell:

For why? thou half me taught thereby to live godly and well.

103 O Lord, how fweet unto my tafte find I thy wo ds alway!

feel ought so sweet I may.

104 Thy laws have me such wisdom learn'd, that utterly I hate

All wicked and angodly ways, in every kind or rate.

NUN. The fourteenth part.

105 Even as a lantern to my feet, 10 doth thy word shine bright: And to my paths where-e're I go it is a flaming light.

106 I have both sworn, and will perform most certainly doubtless,

That I will keep thy judgments just, and them in life express.

and brought me to deaths door:

O Lord, as thou hast promised, fo me to life restore.

108 The off'rings which with heart and voice most frankly I thee give,

Accept; and teach me how I may after thy judgments live.

that dangers me affail:

Yet do I not thy law forget.

Yet do I not thy law forget, nor it to keep will fail.

110 Although the wicked laid their nets to catch me at a bay,

Yet did I not from thy precepts once swerve or go aftray.

It I Thy law I have fo claim'd alway as mine own heritage: And why? for therein I delight, and fet my whole courage.

112 For evermore I have been bent thy statutes to fulfill:

Even so likewise unto the end

I will continue still.

8 AMECH. The fifteenth part.

The crafty thoughts and double hearts
I do always detest:

But as for thy law and precepts, I love them ever belt.

114 Thou art my hid and fecret place, my fhield of ftrong detence:
Therefore have I thy promifes lookt for with patience.

115 Go to therefore ye wicked men, depart from me anon: For the commandments will I keep of God my Lord alone.

116 As thou halt promis'd so perform, that death me not assail:

Nor let my hope abuse me so, that through distrust I quail.

117 Uphold me, and I shall be safe for ought they do or say: And in thy statutes pleasure take will I both night and day.

118 Thou haft trod fuch under thy feet
as do thy flatutes break:

For nought avails their fubtilty, their counfel is but weak.

where-e're they go or dwell:

Therefore can I as thy statutes love nothing half so well. 120 My flesh, alas, is taken with fear, as though it were benumm'd:

For when I fee thy judgments, straight I am as one aston'd.

AIN. The fixteenth part.

121 I do the thing that lawful is,
and give to all men right:
Refigne me not to them that would oppress me with their might.

122 But for thy servant surety be in that thing that is good:
That proud men give me not the foil,
which rage as they were wood.

And eke thy righteous promife, Lord, whereby thou wilt me fave.

124 En:reat thy fervant lovingly, and favour to him show:

Thy statutes of most excellency teach me allo to know.

grant me to understand, How by thy fratutes I may know best what to take in hand.

126 It is now time, Lord, to begin, for truth is quite decai'd:

Thy law likewife they have transgrest, and none against them faid.

127 This is the cause wherefore I love thy laws better then gold,

Or jewels fine which are effeem'd most costly to be fold.

128 I thought thy precepts all most just, and so them laid in store:

All crafty and malicious ways
I do abhor therefore.

P E. The feventeenth part.

129 Thy cov'nants are most wonderfull, and full of things profound:

My foul therefore doth keep them fure, when they are tri'd and found.

they find a light most clear:

And very idiots understand when they it read or hear.

131 For joy I have both gap'd and breath'd to know thy commandment:

That I might guide my felf thereby, I fought what thing it meant.

behold me from above,

As thou art wont to behold fuch as thy name fear and love.

133 Direct my footsteps by thy word, that I thy will may know:

And never let iniquity thy fervant overthrow.

134 From flandrous tongues and deadly harms preferve and keep me fure:

Thy precepts then will I observe, and put them eke in ure.

135 Thy countenance which doth furmount the fun in his bright hue,

Let shine on me, and by thy law teach me what to eschew.

of dreary tears and tell,

When I behold how wicked men thy laws keep never a dell.

Z A DE. The eighteenth part.

137 In every point, Lord, thou art just,
the wicked though they grudge:

And when thou dolf fentence pronounce, thou art a righteous judge.

138 To render right, and flee from guile, are two chief points most high: And such as thou hast in thy law commanded us straitly.

139 With zeal and wrath I am confum'd and even pin'd away,

To

To fee my foes thy word forget, for ought that I do may. 140 So pure and perfect is thy word, as any heart can deem: And I thy fervant nothing more do love or yet elteem. 141 And though I be nothing for by. as one of bate degree: Yet do I not thy laws forget, nor theink away from thee. 142 Thy ighteonfacts, Lord, is most just, for ever to endure : Alfo thy law is truth it felf, most constant and most pure. 143 Trouble and grief have feiz'd on me, and brought me wondrous low: Yet do I still of thy precepts delight to hear and know. 144 The righteousness of thy judgments doth laft for evermore : Then teach them me, for even in them my life lies up in store. KOP H. The nineteenth part. 145 With fervent heart I call'd and cri'd, now answer me, O Lord: That thy commandments to observe I may fully accord. 146 To thee, my God, I make my fuit with most humble request : Save me therefore, and I will keep thy precepts and thy helts. 147 To thee I cry even in the morn before the day wax light: Because that I have in thy word my confidence whole plight. 148 Mineeyes prevent the watch by night, and e're they call I wake : That by devising on thy word I might some comfort take: 149 Incline thine ears to hear my voice, and pity on me take: As thou walt wont, so judge me Lord, left life should me for fake. 150 My foes draw near, and do procure my death maliciously, Which from thy law are far gone back, and strai'd from it lewdly. 151 Therefore, O Lord, approach thou near, for need doth so require : For all thy precepts true they are, then help, I thee defire. 152 But thy commandments have I learn'd, Not now but long ago, That they remain for evermore, thou halt them grounded fo.

RESH. The twentieth part.

153 My trouble and affliction

confider and behold:

Deliver me, for of thy law I ever take falt hold.

54 Defend my good and righteous caufe, with speed some succour send: From death, as thou half promised, Lord, keep me and defend. 55 As for the wicked, far they are from having health and grace: Whereby they might thy statutes know, they enter not the trace. 56 Great are thy mercies, Lord, I grant, what tongue can them attain? And as thou haft me judg'd er'e now, fo let me life obtain. 57 Though many men did trouble me, and persecute me fore: Yet from thy laws I never thrunk, nor wentawry therefore. 158 And truth it is, for grief I die when I thefe traitours fee : Because they keep no whit thy word, nor yet feek to know thee. 159 Behold, for I do love thy laws with heart most glad and fain : As thou art good and gracious, Lord, restore my life again. 160 What thy word doth decree must be, and fo it hath been ever : Thy righteous judgments are also SCHIN. The one and twentieth part. 161 Princes have fought by cruelty causeless to make me couch: But all in vain; for of thy word the fear did my heart touch. 162 And certainly even of thy word I was more merry and glad, Then he that of rich spoils and prey great store and plenty had. 163 As for all lies and falfities, I hate most and detest: For why? thy holy law do I above all things love beft. 164 Seven times a day I praise the Lord, finging with heart and voice: Thy righteous acts and wonderful, fo cause me to rejoyce. 165 Great peace and reft shall all such have as do thy flatutes love : No danger shall their quiet state impair or once remove. 166 My onely health and comfort, Lord, I look for at thy hand: And therefore have I done those things which thou didit me command. 167 Thy laws have been mine exercise, which my foul most desir'd ; So much to them my love was bent, that nought elfe I requir'd. 168 Thy statutes and commandments I kept (thou know'ft) aright:

For

For all the things that I have done are present in thy fight.

TAV. The two and twentieth part. 169 O Lord, let my complaint and cry before thy face appear:

And as thou halt me promise made, fo teach me thee to tear. 170 Mine humble supplication toward thee let find accels: And grant me, Lord, deliverance, for so is thy promise.

171 Then shall my lips thy praises speak after most ample fort :

When thou thy statutes hast me taught, wherein stands my comfort.

172 My tongue shall sing and preach thy word, and on this wife fay shall,

Gods famous acts and noble laws are juli and perfect all.

17; Stretch out thy hand, I thee befeech, and speedily me fave :

For thy commandments to observe, chosen, O Lord, I have.

174 Of thee alone, Lord, I crave health, for other I know none:

And in thy law and nothing elfe I do delight alone.

175 Grant me therefore long days to live, thy name to magnifie:

And of thy judgments merciful let me the favour try.

Alas! faid we, who can once frame his forrowful heart to fing

The praises of our loving God, thus under a strange king ?

5 But yet if I Jerusalem out of my heart let flide : Then let my fingers quite forget the warbling harp to guide.

6 And let my tongue within my mouth be ty'd for ever falt,

If that I joy before I fee thy full deliverance past.

7 Therefore, O Lord, remember now the curfed noise and cry That Edoms fons against us made, when they ras'd our city. Remember, Lord, their cruel words, when as with one accord

They cry'd, On, fack, and rafe their walls, in despight of their Lord.

8 Even so shalt thou, O Babylon, at length to dult be brought: And happy shall that man be call'd, that our revenge hath wrought. 9 Yea, bleffed shall that man be call'd, that takes thy children young

To dash their bones against hard stones that lie the streets among.

Confitebor tibi. Pfal. 138. N. Hee will I praise with my whole heart, my Lord my God, always: Even in the presence of the gods

I will advance thy praife. 2 Toward thy holy temple I will look and worthip thee:

and bless thee day by day.

Great is the Lord, most worthy praise, his greatness none can reach:

4 From race to race they shall thy works praise, and thy power preach.

5 I of thy glorious majestie the beauty will record: And meditate upon thy works most wonderful, O Lord.

6 And they shall of thy power, and of thy fearful acts declare:

And I to publish all abroad thy greatness will not spare.

7 And they into the mention shall break of thy goodness great:
And I aloud thy righteousness in singing shall repeat.

The Lord our God is gracious, and merciful alfo:

Of great abounding mercy, and to anger he is flow:

yea, good to all; and all his works his mercy doth exceed:

10 Lo, all thy works do praise thee, Lord, and do thy honour spread.

11 Thy faints do blefs thee, and they do thy kingdoms glory show:

1 2 And blaze thy power, to cause the sons of menthy power to know;

And of his mighty kingdom eke to spread the glorious praise.

13 Thy kingdom, Lord, a kingdom is that doth endure always:

And thy dominion through each age endures without decay.

14 The Lord upholdeth them that fall, their fliding he doth itay.

15 The eyes of all do wait on thee: thou doft them all relieve:

And thou to each fufficing food in feafon due doft give.

16 Thou openeft thy plenteous hand, and bounteoully doft fill

All things what soever do live, with gifts of thy good will.

17 The Lord is just in all his ways, his works are holy all.

18 Near all he is that call on him, in truth that on him call.

19 He the desires which they require that fear him will fulfill:

And he will hear them when they cry, and fave them all he will.

20 The Lord preserves all those, to him that bear a loving heart:

But he them all that wicked are will utterly fubvert.

21 My thankful mouth shall gladly speak the praises of the Lord:

All flesh to praise his holy Name for ever shall accord.

His faints all shall forth sell His praise and worthiness, The children of Ifrael Each one both more and less: And also they That with good will His words fulfill, And him obey. Cantate Domino. Pfal. 149. N. Sing ye unto the Lord our God a new rejoycing fong: And let the praise of him be heard his holy faints among

2 Let Ifrael rejoyce in him that made him of nothing:

And let the feed of Sion eke be joyful in their King.

Let them found praise with voice of lute unto his holy Name: And with the timbrel and the harp . fing praises of the same.

Plain Exix. Cl. 4 For why? the Lord his pleasure all hath in his people fet : And by deliverance he will raife the meek to glory great.

With glory and with honour now let all his faints rejoyce : And now aloud upon their beds advance their finging voice. 6 And in their mouths let be the acts of God the mighty Lord: And in their hands eke let them bear a double edged fword:

To plague the heathen, and correct the people with their hands:

To bind their stately kings in chains, their lords in iron bands

To execute on them the doom that written is before:

This honour all his faints shall have, praise ye the Lord therefore.

Laudate Dominum. Pfal. 150. N. Ield unto God the mighty Lord praise in his fanctuary : And praise him in the firmament, that shews his power on high.

Advance his Name, and praise him in his mighty acts always:

According to his excellency. of greatness give him praise.

3 His praises with the princely noise of founding trumpets blow: Praise him upon the viol, and upon the harp also. 4 Praise him with timbrel and with flute, organs and virginals:

With founding cymbals praise ye him, praise him with loud cymbals.

6 What ever hath the benefit of breathing, praise the Lord: To praise the Name of God the Lord agree with one accord.

The end of the Psalms.

A fong to be fung before Morning Prayer T. B. Raile ye the Lord, ye Gentiles all, which hath brought you into his light: O praise him all people mortal, as it is most worthy and right. For he is full determined on us to pour out his mercy : And the Lords truth be ye affur'd abideth perpetually. Glory be to God the Father, and to Jesus Christ his true Son, With th' holy Ghost in like manner, now and at every leafon.

A song to be fung before Evening Prayer. Behold now give heed, such as be the Lords servants faithful and true: Come praise the Lord every degree, with fuch fongs as to him are due.

O ye that thand in the Lords house, even in our own Gods mansion, Praise ye the Lord so bounteous, which worketh our falvation.

Lift up your hands in his holy place, yea, and that in the time of night : Praise ye the Lord which gives all grace, for he is a Lord of great might.

See that my words in mind thou bear,
And to my precepts liften well.

I I am thy fovereign Lord and God, Which have thee brought from careful thrall., And eke reclaim'd from Pharaohs rod; Make thee no gods on them to call;

2 Nor fashioned form of any thing In heaven or earth to worship it: For I thy God by revenging, With grievous plagues this sin will smite.

3 Take not in vain Gods holy Name, Abuse it not after thy will: For so thou might'lt soon purchase blame, And in his wrath he would thee spill.

4 The Lord from work the feventh day ceast, And brought all things to perfect end: So thou and thine that day take rest, That to Gods hests ye may attend.

5 Unto thy parents honour give,
As Gods commandments do intend:
That thou long days and good mayst live
In earth where God a place doth lend.

6 Beware of murder and cruel hate.
7 All filthy fornication fear.

8 See thou steal not in any rate.

o False witness against no man bear.

To Thy neighbours house wish not to have,
His wife, or ought that he calls mine:
His field, his ox, his ass, his slave,
Or any thing which is not thine.

A Prayer.

The Spirit of grace grant us, O Lord,
To keep these laws our heart restore:
And cause us all with one accord
To magnifie thy Name therefore.

For of our selves no strength we have To keep these laws after thy will: Thy might therefore, O Christ, we crave, That we in thee may them suffil.

Lord, for thy Names fake grant us this, Thou art our strength, O Saviour Christ: Of thee to speed how should we mis, In whom our treasure doth consist?

To thee for evermore be praife, With the Father in each respect, And with the holy Spirit always, The Comforter of thine cleft.

The Creed.

The Lords Prayer. D. Cox.

Our Father which in heaven art,
And mak'st us all one brotherhood,
To call upon thee with one heart,
Our heavenly Father and our God:
Grant we pray not with lips alone,
But with our hearts deep sigh and grone.
Thy blessed Name be sanctified,

Thy holy word might us inflame, In holy life for to abide To magnific thy holy Name. From all errours defend and keep

The little flock of thy poor sheep.

Thy kingdom come even at this hour,
And henceforth everlastingly:
Thine holy Ghost into us pour,
With all his gifts most plenteously.

From Satans rage and filthy band Defend us with thy mighty hand.

Thy will be done with diligence, Like as in heaven in earth also: In trouble grant us patience, Thee to obey in wealth and wo.

Let not flesh, blond, or any ill,
Prevail against thy holy will.

Give us this day our daily bread,
And all other good gitts of thine:
Keep us from war, and from bloudshed,
Also from sickness, dearth, and pine:

That we may live in quietness, Without all greedy carefulness.

Forgive us our offences all, Relieve our careful confcience; As we forgive both great and small Which unto us have done offence.

Prepare us, Lord, for to ferve thes In perfect love and unitie.

O Lord, into temptation
Lead us not; when the fiend doth rage,
To withstand his invasion

Give power and strength to every age.

Arm and make strong thy feeble host
With faith, and with the holy Ghost.

O Lord, from evil deliver us, The days and times are dangerous: From everlasting death save us, And in our last need comfort us:

A bleffed end to us bequeath, Into thy hands our fouls receive. For thou, O Lord, art King of kings

For thou, O Lord, art King of kings, And thou hast power over all: Thy glory shineth in all things, In the wide world universal.

A Thanksgiving after the receiving of the Lords Supper.

He Lord be thanked for his gifts and mercies evermore. That he doth shew unto his faints: to him be laud therefore.
Our tongues cannot so praise the Lord as he doth right deserve:
Our hearts cannot of him so think as he doth us preserve.

His benefits they be fo great to us that be but fin,

That as our hards for recomp

That at our hands for recompense there is no hope to win.

O finful flesh, that thou should'st have fuch mercies of the Lord! Thou dost deserve most worthily of him to be abhorr'd.

Nought else but fin and wickedness doth rest within our hearts:

And stubbornly against the Lord we daily play our parts. The sun above in sirmament that is to us a light, Doth shew it felf more clear and pure then we be in his fight.

The heavens above and all therein .more holy are then we:

They serve the Lord in their estate, each one in his degree.

They do not strive for mastership, nor slack their office fet:

But serve the Lord and do his will, hate is to them no let.

Also the earth and all therein of God it is in aw,

It doth observe the formers will, by skilful natures law. The sea and all that is therein

The sea and all that is therein doth bend when God doth beck: The spirits beneath do tremble all, and fear his wrathful check.

But we (alas!) for whom all these were made them for to rule, Do not so know or love the Lord as doth the ox or mule.

A law he gave for us to know, what was his holy will:

He would us good, but we would not avoid the thing is ill.

Not one of us that feeketh out the Lord of life to pleafe:

Nor doth the thing that might us lead to Christ and quiet ease.

Thus are we all his enemies, we can it not deny:

And he again of his good will would not that we should die.

Therefore when remedy was none to bring us unto life,
